WESTERN RAILROAD WAGE HEARING OPENS BEFORE ARBITRATORS

Fifty-Five Thousand Enginemen Affected By the Decision.

Warren S. Stone Makes Opening Argument for Employes.

Declares Modern Service Demands More Than Present Wages Repay.

Chicago, Nov. 30.—Arbitration of the differences over wages and hours of employment of ninety-eight western railroads and their 55,000 enginemen began here today before a board of arbitrators appointed under the provisions of the Newlands act. It is regarded as the most important case thus far to come under the law.

In a general way it is stated that the wage increases sought by the men is about 10 per cent.

It was thought that most of today's session would be occupied in adopting rules of precedure, arranging for the number of witnesses to appear for the respective parties to the arbitration, and other routine matters. Ninety days are allowed to present evidence, and an award is expected ten days later.

The arbitrators are W. L. Park and H. E. Byram, representing the railroads; F. A. Burgess and Timothy Shea for the employes, and Judge Peter C. Pritchard and Charles Nagel, appointed by the government.

Stone Shows Men's Side.

In his opening statement to the arbitration board, Warren S. Stone, grand chief engineer of the Brotherhood of

MURDER VICTIM HAS SON-IN-LAW'S NOTES

All Emil Emshemier's Property Is Willed to Widow.

Chicago, Nov. 30.—Papers found among the effects of Emil Emsheimer, who was found strangled in his downtown office on Saturday afternoon, revealed the fact, according to the police today, that he had loaned Henry A. Sachs, his son-in-law, $3,383, and that none of the five notes was marked paid.

With the notes was found an agreement dated May 1, 1910, four days after the last note was signed, by which Sachs for a consideration of the sum of the five notes, agreed to pay the slain manufacturer 10 per cent of the annual profits of his jewelry store until the entire amount, with interest at 10 per cent, was paid.

Emsheimer, in his will, left all of his property to his widow. He carried life insurance policies totaling $27,000.

Detectives continued their work on the mystery today, following the theory that Emsheimer was murdered.

EARLE AGAIN IN LIMELIGHT

Soul Mate Hunter's Latest Spouse Sues for Divorce.

Says She Knew He Married Before, But Not So Much.

Nyack, N. Y., Nov. 30.—Ferdinand Finney Earle, widely known because of his various experiences in selecting soul mates, came before Justice Tompkins in Nyack today as the defendant in a suit for absolute divorce, brought by his latest wife, Helen Theodora Sidford Earle.

Mr. Earle made no denial of the charges submitted by counsel for his wife, who is now in England, but directed his efforts toward keeping down the amount to be determined by the court as alimony and to retain the custody of his children.

Mrs. Earle's testimony was presented in a long deposition made by her in England. In this deposition she tells of her first acquaintance with Earle. She says she was married to him on June 16, 1911.

Met at Her Mother's.

She was then 21 years old, while Earle was 33. She met him, she says, through his coming to see her mother.

NINE SALOONS STILL OPEN

Despite Federal Orders All Bemidji Saloons Are Not Closed.

Walker, Kelliher and Other Places Not Yet on Water Wagon.

Bemidji, Minn., Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald)—Although Saturday night was celebrated as "closing night" nine saloons reopened their doors here this morning and are doing business in the same old way despite orders from the government. That business must cease "on or before Nov. 30," under penalty of the provisions of the Indian treaty of 1855 which makes it a serious offense to have liquor in the "Indian territory."

Originally there were twenty-four saloons here and many have shipped their goods back to the wholesale house. Most dealers now say they will turn the key to the public for the last time at 11 p. m. today, although one or two intimate that they will attempt to defy the government agents.

Other Places Running.

Reports from Walker, Kelliher, Grand Rapids, Federal Dam, Pillager and other towns in the affected territory indicate that for the most part the saloons are keeping open today.

In Bemidji several saloons are turning their places into soft drink parlors and at the leading hotels where this experiment has been tried for the last ten days a big business in temperate drinks is being carried on.

WAR TAX TO TAKE EFFECT ON TUESDAY

Emergency Measure Will Become Fully Operative on Dec. 1.

Washington, Nov. 30.—The emergency war tax bill to raise $100,000,000 in revenue will go into full effect tomorrow. The provisions of the measure levying taxes on tobacco, beer and wine went into effect on Nov. 1, and the remaining sections become effective Dec. 1. The latter include taxes on certain papers of bankers, pawn brokers, brokers, proprietors of theaters (including motion picture houses), owners of circuses and other shows, perfume, cosmetics, chewing gum and similar articles; commercial papers of all description, steamship tickets, parlor car seats and sleeping car berths, and telephone and telegraph messages where the charge exceeds 15 cents.

Stamps in denominations of from $5 to a cent are to be affixed to these articles.

MINE PEACE BOARD NAMED

President Wilson Picks Mediators for Future Colorado Rows.

Welborn Is Critical; No Statement Yet for Miners.

Washington, Nov. 30.—President Wilson announced last night the appointment of Seth Low of New York, Charles W. Mills of Philadelphia, and Patrick Gilday of Clearfield, Pa., as a commission through which future differences between operators and miners involved in the present Colorado coal strike may be settled.

The commission, he explained, was not to deal with the existing differences which have caused rioting and bloodshed in Colorado. Hywel Davies and W. R. Fairley, the conciliators who have been attempting to settle the strike for several months, will continue their efforts to have the operators and miners agree on a settlement of the present strike.

Earnest and Sincere Hope.

In a statement announcing the appointment of the commission, the president expressed "the very earnest and

$1 FROM EACH MASON FOR RELIEF FUNDS

Movement Launched at Cincinnati Planned to Cover Nation.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Nov. 30.—At a meeting of prominent Masons from all over the country here last night, a movement, nation-wide in its scope, was launched to secure funds to aid war sufferers in Europe. Forty-six of the forty-nine commanders of the country expressed their approval of the plan while the other three commanders have not been heard from.

It is estimated that there are 1,580,000 Masons in the United States, and it is hoped to secure at least $1 from each of them.

R. E. Denfeld, grand master of Masons of Minnesota, said this morning that the relief fund plan had been brought to his attention, though not in the form of a definite plan for the handling of the proposed funds. It had been suggested, he said, that the money be turned over to the Red Cross, as the best means of disposing of it to the greatest advantage. No action has been taken in the Minnesota grand lodge, he said, but the question will be brought up at the grand lodge meeting next January, and some action probably will be taken then.

FORTS AT CRACOW BEING BOMBARDED

Russians Are Reported Using Their Heavy Siege Guns.

Milan, via London, Nov. 30.—The siege of Cracow has begun, according to a correspondent of the newspaper Corriere Della Sera, who is with the Muscovite army. He wires that the Russians are bombarding the forts with their heavy siege guns and that one of the suburbs of the city is reported to be in flames.

DO IT NOW!

ALLIES ARE ON THE OFFENSIVE IN WEST

Semi-official Russian Reports Tell of Orderly Retirements By Kaiser's Troops---Polish Battle Continues.

Berlin Reports Repulse of Strong Surprise Attack By the Russians Upon Fortifications at Darkehmen.

Germany acknowledges that the Russian northern army has penetrated into East Prussia to a distance of fifteen miles southwest of Gumbinnen, which is about twenty miles west of the German border.

In Belgium, says the French official statement, it is the allies and not the Germans who are now on the offensive.

These two points stood out in today's news from the battlefields of Europe.

REPULSE AT DARKEHMAN.

The German official statement says that strong Russian forces attempted a surprise attack on the fortifications of Darkehmen, in East Prussia and that they were repulsed.

Semi-official information from Petrograd is that operations along the Prussian front are turning to the advantage of the Russians and that the Germans are retiring in disorder.

Meanwhile the great battle in Russian Poland, between the Vistula and Warta rivers continues without definite result. The German war office states that the Russians were defeated in a battle south of the Vistula and that 4,500 men were captured. Further south in Galicia the Russians are said to have reached Cracow and to have begun the siege of the city.

PROGRESS FOR ALLIES.

According to the French official statement the German forces in Belgium are on the defensive and the allies have made progress "at certain points." Fighting continues in the Argonne where, the French statement asserts, German attacks were repulsed.

The whereabouts of the German Pacific fleet, of which little has been heard since it sank the British cruisers Good Hope and Monmouth off the coast of Chile nearly a month ago, has become one of the mysteries of the war. Dispatches from Montevideo again report that this fleet is now in the South Atlantic, although it was said last week to have remained off the Chilean coast.

British and Japanese naval squadrons have been scouring the seas for weeks for the Germans.

RUSSIANS AT CRACOW.

Russia's forces, it is reported unofficially today, have at last reached Cracow, the Austrian fortress in Northwestern Galicia, near the boundaries of Russia and Germany.

An Italian correspondent at the front says Cracow is being bombarded by heavy Russian siege guns, and that one of the suburbs is in flame. The capture of this fortress has been one of the main objectives of Russia's campaign against Austria, on the theory that its fall, together with that of Przemysl, now under siege, would mean Russian ascendancy in that part of Austria which lies to the north of the Carpathian mountains.

WHAT IS THE GERMAN PLAN?

Opinions differ sharply as to the intentions of Germany concerning operations in the west. It is reported that Germany is about to embark on a new offensive movement; that the allies are about to assume the offensive; that the German line has been weakened perceptibly, and that a new German army is being rushed into Flanders.

In view of these conflicting statements, it is impossible to discern even the probabilities of the near future. Fighting at present apparently is confined to operations in the Argonne.

Russia's campaign against Turkey likewise has reached a period of inactivity. The latest report from the Russian army of the Caucasus is to the

DOZEN SHIPS PATROL COAST

At Least That Many British War Vessels Are Heard.

American Vessels Are Hindered in Use of Wireless.

New York, Nov. 30.—At least twelve British warships are patrolling the Atlantic between New York and the Panama canal, sweeping the seas with their wireless, crowding ordinary commercial radios from the air and keeping close check on all forms of shipping, according to wireless operators on the steamship Ancon, that arrived here today from Cristobal.

The wireless activity of these war vessels, the operators said, is causing great inconvenience to the commercial work of American vessels, as the high powered waves of the men-of-war are heard continually, in utter disregard of commercial business.

Ignore All Rules.

"These warships," the Ancon's operator said, "pay no attention to the rules governing wireless operations. With their high power apparatus they cut into the middle of a message and absolutely disregard all requests to keep out.

"We have no means of identifying the ships, as they use code exclusively—code that appears to be made up of a combination of numbers. We counted twelve different warships that jammed our wireless on the way up."

The Ancon brought from the canal zone ten members of the congressional committee on appropriations who have been making an official inspection of the great waterway.

Saw British Cruisers.

The party left New York Nov. 7, and on the outward trip, when about thirty miles out of Colon, they passed the British cruisers Suffolk and Essex, taking coal from a naval collier.

The Ancon had as steerage passengers a party of twenty-four United States soldiers, prisoners who were brought to the United States to serve various terms for violation of military regulations.

American Hospital.

Petrograd, Nov. 23, via London.—An American hospital, equipped with forty beds, the gift of the American colony of Petrograd, was opened Saturday. The hospital will be exclusively for the treatment of wounded Russian soldiers.

RIVAL FLEETS APPROACHING

Germans and British Both in the South Atlantic.

Private Dispatches Are Confident—No Official Statements.

Montevideo, Uruguay, Nov. 30.—The recent reports that the German fleet is now in the South Atlantic appear to have been confirmed here today. It is also rumored that a powerful British fleet is near by.

Interruption of British shipping and the outfitting of German merchant ships with supplies were accepted here as confirmatory of reports of the approach of the German fleet which is now believed to be off the mouth of the River Plata.

The German steamer Patagonia is being loaded here with provisions, the Sierra Cordoba with coal and the Mera with coal and water.

Sailings of British steamers from Montevideo and the Brazilian port Santos have been suspended.

Marine records show that the Sierra Cordoba was at Montevideo on Nov. 22. The Mera reached that port on Sept. 8, since which time there has been no report from her. The latest record of the Patagonia is her arrival on Oct. 22 at Teneriffe, Canary islands.

From the Pacific.

Buenos Aires, Argentina, Nov. 30.—Dispatches received here from Montevideo insist that there is good reason to believe that the German squadron, which has been operating in the Pacific ocean, is at present in the South Atlantic. Neither the French nor the British legation here has any information to confirm these reports; nevertheless, private dispatches give them credence. It is related, among other things, that several German steamers are preparing to leave Montevideo to provision the German warships.

Report Heard Before.

New York, Nov. 30.—Reports that the German Pacific squadron had succeeded in making its way to the Atlantic have been current for two days. Under date of Nov. 28, Montevideo reported that the German squadron had been sighted 600 miles north of Punta Pilar, Brazil, heading northeast.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

REITERATES CLAIM THAT 4-CENT RATE IS PROFITABLE

Voss Challenges Edison Company to Produce Books for Examination.

Takes Exception to Many Claims in Hartman Statement.

Reiterating his declaration that the Duluth-Edison company can pay all expenses, interest on bonds and a net surplus above a dividend of its preferred stock on a 4-cent rate, Finance Commissioner Fred J. Voss, in answering the recent statement of President A. W. Hartman, challenges the company to produce its books for examination if it holds that his analysis of the figures is incorrect.

Commissioner Voss asserts that the city wishes to be fair and asks how, if the company also does, it can object to an examination of the books by expuera accountants to get at the actual figures. He states that the public is entitled to know the facts and have accurate figures when asked to vote for a 6-cent rate as against a 4-cent rate for electric current. He promises that if an examination of the books discloses that he has erred in his analysis or conclusions he will gladly point out the errors to the council and the public.

In his answer he states that the president has charged extensions against earnings instead of to capital account; that interest has been charged twice; that both bond paymants and depreciation have been charged against the earnings, whereas but one should be charged. He says that Mr. Hartman desires to get in the equivalent of a sinking fund twice and own the plant unimpaired and without debt.

Voss Statement.

Tht statement of the finance commissioner is as follows:

"To the City Council:

"As requested, I hand you herewith an analysis of the statement of President A. W. Hartman of the Duluth-Edison company, not including the auditor's tables reported on already. The statement among other things says:

"'The company has already pointed out in its answer to the city's proposal to purchase that the valuation is wholly inadequate, etc., and will not repeat it here.' In answer to this it is to be remembered the company has only in a general way made this statement, and that the company has wholly failed to point out to the city in any manner and in any detail wherein such valuation is wrong or inadequate, though it has been requested to do so, and originally agreed to. The statement says of $1,333,000 bonds issued the sinking fund has purchased $227,000. This leaves the actual bonds against the property $1,126,000. As $25,000 sinking fund and $10,300 interest addition has been paid in 1914, the amount outstanding must be now about $1,091,000, or less than the city's offer for the plant, so it is plain the bondholders do not lose by the proposed purchase. His statement says $51,771 in addition to maintenance, sinking fund, and depreciation, was put into extensions and additions in 1913, and this he wished to add to operating expenses. According to correct bookkeeping, extensions and additions should be added to capital account, and only depreciation be deducted from earnings by being added to operating expenses. Extensions increase earnings and are due to increased business, become part of capital account until gradually wiped out by further depreciation account. Therefore, this should not be added to expenses or deduted from gross earnings.

Figuring Depreciation.

"He says Rittenhouse and Pillsbury approved 4 per cent allowance for depreciation and he adds $25,000 more for sinking fund direct and $10,309 interest paid into sinking fund, or $35,300 in all, and deducts it with depreciation. Rittenhouse and Pillsbury allowed 4 per cent for depreciation on the theory that this left the value of the plant unimpaired. A sinking fund amounts to the same thing if there is no indebtedness. Where there is indebtedness as in this case, (for more than the value of the plant), the sinking fund pays the debt. If both items are put in the debt is paid and the company is left with its plant unimpaired and worth its present value plus extensions, without costing the company a cent. A gift from the consumers—but one of these items should be deducted, not both. This Mr. Hartman must know. In other words, he desires to get in the equivalent of a sinking fund twice and own the plant unimpaired and without debt.

"He says from the gross earnings of $519,795 for 1913, $10,309 should be deducted as it came from interest—but this must be incorrect, for his auditor's sworn tables show this $519,795 was made up $473,291 from general lighting, $40,810 from 742 street lights at $55, leaving the difference about $5,600 from power, and nothing appears from interest. Besides this interest $10,300 is included in the $67,650 and is already deducted with the operating expenses and should not be included.

"He then submits a statement for 1913 showing:

Gross earnings ..		$519,795.75
Total expenses—
Operating	$255,603.38
Taxes and ins..	25,881.11
Int. on bonds...	67,650.00
Other interest..	$23.62
		$349,458.11
Net income		$170,337.64

"So far it agrees with sworn statement.

"From this he says must be deducted sinking fund $25,000, interest on sinking fund $10,307.26. These items should not be deducted as stated before, the $10,309 as it was already deducted with the $67,650 above, the sinking fund $25,000 because it applies only to the debt and the $44,317 depreciation leaves the plant its full value unimpaired. That is the 4 per cent should be allowed for either the sinking fund or depreciation but both items should not be deducted. This 4 per cent with interest will retire the whole value of the plant in about 17½ years. For example:

"Four per cent on $1,100,000, $44,000 for 17½ years equals $770,000.

"Five per cent on these amounts from time allowed annually will equal in 17½ years $336,000, or a total of $1,106,000, the total value of the plant including $200,000 going value in 17½ years.

"I credit 5 per cent interest because under the sinking fund agreement the money must be invested by the Old Colony Trust company in the 5 per cent bonds of the company until all purchased and therefore draw interest at 5 per cent. Whether called sinking fund or depreciation, or part one and part the other, the result is the same, one only should be allowed. To give the company the benefit I allow the $44,327 instead of the $35,000.

"It must be remembered in addition to this 4 per cent depreciation, every year, cost of maintenance is charged up in operating expenses, so that the 4 per cent depreciation allowed permits in 17½ years the practical throwing away of the whole plant, including maintenance added (and including $200,000 going value which is not affected).

Cost of Extensions.

"This will, of course, not be done in its entirety, though the plant would be of much reduced value, were it not for extensions and betterments which are added and should be charged to capital and not operation, and are taken care of themselves by subsequent depreciation. To illustrate a large value will remain in 17½ years. The company commenced business twenty-five years ago and yet the experts in fixing the present physical value of the plant deducted from what it would cost new only 25 3-10 per cent for depreciation.

"He then proposes to deduct $79,697.32 proposed losses under the 6-cent contract, according to Mr. Turner's sworn tables, which, as I pointed out in my analysis of the tables, is wrongly figured and would show a profit if the 6-cent contract went into effect of $118,000 instead of a loss of $79,697, provided all paid the schedule without discrimination.

"He then deducts $51,771 for extensions, which as stated above should be charged against capital and not operation as long as depreciation is allowed.

"He then deducts for depreciation $14,317.62. By not allowing the sinking fund credit this charge is justified. Deducting this from above net income of $170,337.64 leaves net income $126,920. He then deducts 6 per cent on $1,150,000 preferred stock, which is proper if the people want to pay it in rates to the company when they would not have to pay it in rates if the city owned the plant. Deducting the $69,000 this leaves net income $57,020.

"This is based on the 1913 receipts which in turn were based on an average of .044 per kilowat as near as can be estimated, until the company will submit its books for examination. If they want to prove their case why shouldn't they do this?

"If the average rate under the 6-cent contract was actually collected from all equally the above would be increased as shown by my analysis of the auditor's tables, by $118,000 more, or a net surplus of $176,000, instead of the deficit estimated in his statement of $103,757. This is a tremendous difference based, of course, on the assumption the company would collect without discrimination under the 6-cent contract, as they would have to do under the 4-cent ordinance. Had they so collected under the present rates the company would have received approximately $300,000 more than they did receive.

"He then goes on to say even the 6-cent contract is based on the assumption of increased business because of lower rates.

Estimated Results.

"He then furnishes statement of estimated results under the 4-cent ordinance, which is on the same basis as the other. Not allowing amounts that should not be deducted for reasons given, leases net income $170,000. Then he deducts for loss figured by auditor of $180,336—which is shown in my report on these tables is wholly wrong. Not based on facts, and should be a loss of only about $78,000, which deducted from $170,000 net income leaves the net income of $98,000. From this should be deducted $44,317 for depreciation, leaving $53,693 net income under the 4-cent ordinance, without considering the $90,000 natural increase in business that would accrue under old rates for 1915 over 1913 considering previous increases, and not considering the large increase that will be brought about because of lower rates. This $53,000 will not quite pay 6 per cent of $69,000 on preferred stock, but with the natural increase of 1915 over 1913, and the larger increase in business because of lower rates, will much more than pay it. His claim for extensions should not be deducted out of receipts as stated above, but should be added to capital account. So his estimated deficit of $210,000 is not sustained by good bookkeeping or the facts. On the contrary the 4-cent ordinance should pay all expenses, interest on bonds, and preferred stock, and still leave a net surplus. He goes on to say his analysis is taken from their books and if the city council would properly inform itself on the subject, and treat with the company as to rates, etc., it would be satisfied as to the reasonableness of the 6-cent contract. I would suggest that the council inform Mr. Hartman that if he will allow the city to put expert accountants on their books to get at the facts, and all of them, the council will publish the results and gladly change their opinion as to the reasonableness of the 4-cent ordinance provided such examination warrants a change.

"The city wishes to be fair. If the company does also, can they object to this examination by expert accountants to get the actual figures? The newspapers appear to be friendly to each new position the company takes, and in many ways seem to accept blindly its statement. Why should they not urge the company to submit their books to such expert examination? If honest in their statements has the company anything to fear from such examination? Is the public not entitled to know the facts and accurate figures, when asked to vote for the 6-cent contract against a 4-cent ordinance? If the company refuses, no matter on what pretext, can the people be expected to vote blindly as it desires? From the best information obtainable from the company's statements, sworn to and otherwise, I cannot see how Mr. Hartman can honestly or sincerely claim the 4-cent ordinance will not allow them to pay all operating expenses, interest on bonds, depreciation, and a net surplus over and above even a dividend on its preferred watered stock.

"If by an exapination of their books by expert accountants for the city, there are any errors in my analysis or conclusions, I will gladly point them out to the council and to the public."

BREAK SAFE AND GET $210

Bold Burglars Visit Store Directly Opposite Police Headquarters.

Partition Screens Them From Officers' View—Overlook $300.

One of the boldest safe robberies in Duluth in years was perpetrated last night when the L. A. Paddock grocery store at 117 East Superior street, almost directly across the street from police headquarters, was broken into and $210 stolen from the safe, into which a hole had been bored by the thieves. The burglars, however, missed a sack containing $300.

Entrance into the building was gained through a window in the bakery at the rear of the store. The burglars could not be seen, as the safe is behind a partitioned office and invisible from the street. They first turned on five of the electric lights in the store and then placed several coats alongside the safe to avoid making unnecessary noise.

Using a large steel can opener, apparently made especially for this purpose, chisels and an auger the burglars tore open a large hole on the left side of the safe and succeeded in breaking through. By reaching the inside one of the men pried open the small money box and took out its contents. Had he reached farther over the thief would have found a sack containing $300.

Take Pies and Cakes.

After obtaining the money the thieves helped themselves to several pies and cakes in the bakery and then left by the same rear window.

The theft was discovered about 5 o'clock this morning by two of the young women employed in the bakery. They were surprised to find the lights still on, but thinking that perhaps some one had left them that way the previous evening, thought nothing of it. However, they discovered the theft when they were about to hang up their wraps on hooks just alongside the safe.

The two young women were in the store yesterday afternoon and, after baking some cakes and pies, left about 5 o'clock. They were the last persons in the building, so that the theft must have been committed between 5 o'clock last night and 5 o'clock this morning. The burglars left no clew whatever and the police are working in the dark.

That the burglars should select a store directly across the street from the police station is considered remarkable.

FOOT AND MOUTH DISEASE SHOWN

Interesting Exhibit Is Feature of Health Week in Duluth.

An exhibit showing the nature and effects of the foot and mouth disease in cloven-foot animals is expected to be one of the most interesting features of the displays at the Y. M. C. A. during Health week, which began yesterday. The exhibits are being arranged today and all of them had not arrived at noon.

This disease, which has just caused a sensation throughout the country and a shut-down of the Chicago packing plants, is unknown to the majority of people as no case of it has been reported for eighteen years until recently. The drastic action taken by the United States government to check the disease shows how dangerous it is considered.

Ruben Johnson, secretary of the civil service department of the city, is arranging a municipal health exhibit today for Duluth, and is vitally interested in health of stock. He is putting in displays to show diseases of stock and handling of milk. He said that the Federal government will have many exhibits here this week and in view of the vital importance of the mouth and foot disease he expected to see a display showing the nature and effects of the disease.

"The Federal government has taken such drastic action to check and wipe out this disease," he said, "that neither deer nor moose are allowed to be shipped inter-state except when the feet and heads are severed. The disease afflicts cloven-foot animals, and this brings deer and moose under the ban the same as cattle, hogs and sheep."

AERIAL TRUCK REACHES DULUTH

New Fire Fighting Apparatus Tried Out on Superior Street.

Duluth's new $12,000 aerial motor truck reached Duluth this morning and was unloaded at the Omaha freight depot under the direction of Safety Commissioner W. A. Hicken and Chief Joseph Randall.

As soon as it was on the ground it was tried out and attracted considerable attention in its first run down Superior street to the city hall and back to fire headquarters. The machine will be given its first public tryout at the demonstration of motor apparatus being planned by Commissioner Hicken. The ladders will be raised and water shot against a building in the downtown section.

New York, Nov. 30.—A voluntary petition in bankruptcy was filed today in the Federal court by the United States Metal Products company, a Massachusetts corporation with $7,000,000 outstanding capital stock.

The liabilities were listed at $1,008,000 and the assets at $3,700,000, consisting principally of real estate and stock in trade. Tecumseh Sherman, Albion D. Turner and Thomas C. Clark were appointed receivers.

MANNING, N. D., TO RETAIN COUNTY SEAT.

Manning, N. D., Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The county seat of Dunn county was formally declared retained by Manning, the present seat of government, by the county canvassing board, which ignored the petition of supporters of Dunn Center to proclaim that place the county seat in view of the fact that it obtained a majority of the votes cast in the recent special election. The canvassing board held that two-thirds of the entire vote was required to change the seat of government, while Dunn Center supporters contend that a majority is sufficient.

LIVES OF TWO SAVED BY "LIVING CHAIN."

Henry Lonek and William West had a narrow escape from drowning while skating last night on Lake Nebagamon. Th two men fell through an air-hole in the ice and were in the water for about ten minutes. A number of young men formed a "living chain" by lying flat on the ice and each holding onto the feet of the one ahead and managed to save the lives of the two. Lonek and West suffered no ill effects from their exposure.

Twenty Indians Guilty.

Twenty Indians were found guilty this morning in the Federal court on charges of violating the Federal liquor law regarding selling whisky on Indian reservations and were sentenced to the county jail for terms ranging from thirty to sixty days. Judge A. L. Sanborn of the Western Wisconsin district presided.

Will Close Early.

Many of Superior stores have signed an agreement to close on Christmas eve. The petition was circulated among the business men and was given ready support.

Not Killed in Battle.

A. Gernay, former proprietor of a Tower avenue restaurant, who was reported killed in battle in Belgium early in September, is alive, according to a letter received Saturday by Superior friends. Gernay was in Belgium when the war broke out and his friends shortly afterwards received a communication announcing his death in battle. He lately wrote from London stating that he had come through the battles without being wounded. He said he expected to return to Superior next summer.

Threatened to End Life.

Hazel Ritter, aged 16 years, daughter of Mrs. Alice Donahue, 1706 Sixteenth street, left home Saturday, leaving a note saying that she intended to end her life. The girl was said to have been ill for some time past. She was located yesterday at the home of her sister in Chisholm, Minn. A posse of citizens to hunt for the girl had been formed with the intention of searching the woods adjacent to the city.

CITY OPENS BIDS FOR IRON PIPE.

The water and light department opened bids today for the purchase of forty-two tons of 10-inch cast iron pipe, which will be used in extensions to be laid this winter. Two bids were received, one of $966 from the American Cast Iron Pipe company and one of $672 from the Soo railroad. The railroad company had the pipe on hand, having had to duplicate a portion of the main in Michigan street before it could build the tunnel into its station at Sixth avenue west. As the pipe is in good condition and the cost is $294 less, the contract will be awarded to the railroad company.

DITTMAN MUST FACE GRAND JURY

Slayer of Anton Kleimek Will Make Self Defense Plea.

Carl Dittman, the aged settler, who shot and killed Anton Kleimek, 22 years old, on Nov. 9 in front of the former's cabin about two miles from the Villa Scholastica, waived examination in police court this morning and was bound over to the grand jury on a charge of murder in the first degree.

When arraigned the day following his arrest, Dittman asked for a hearing, which was set for this morning. When he was brought into the court room, he waived his right to this hearing and the court ordered him held to the January grand jury.

Dittman, who is 66 years old, claims that Kleimek had threatened to kill him and that he fired at the latter in self-defense. Relatives of the younger man deny this claim and declare that Dittman was drunk at the time and that he fired without any cause whatever.

DISTRIBUTION OF RED CROSS SEALS WILL BEGIN TUESDAY

The distribution of the Red Cross Christmas seals for sale will be begun tomorrow by Miss Louise E. Schneller and Miss Eda B. Kerr, visiting nurses of the health department.

The seals will be placed in various business establishments and booths will be maintained in public buildings. They will be on sale at the Y. M. C. A. during Health Week and Saturday will be Red Cross Seal day.

Several young women have volunteered to assist the nurses by taking charge of the booths which will be maintained but several more would be of much assistance as it is planned to maintain more booths this season than last. Any who would be willing to help can see or telephone Miss Schneller or Miss Kerr at their office on the Michigan street floor of the city hall between 9 and 10 o'clock in the morning or between 4 and 5 o'clock in the afternoon. A number who co-operated with them last year have again offered to assist.

The seals sell for 1 cent each, no more. The proceeds are used exclusively for assisting in the campaign being waged against tuberculosis. During the last year many persons suffering from the dreaded white plague have been benefited by the fund, which is expended by the nurses, who personally investigate each case. Some have been supplied with medicine, others with milk, eggs or other necessities, or with warm clothing, or with transportation to a sanitarium, or with bedding, or a sleeping shack, or in other ways. Investigation will disclose that in no instance has assistance been rendered where the recipients were not deserving of help and in many cases the relief which the nurses have been able to afford because of the fund has been the means of turning the scale in favor of patients who were making a desperate fight against the ravages of the disease.

The seals should be placed on all letters, packages or gifts which are sent out between now and Christmas. The cost is small but the results are proportionately great. Buy the Red Cross seals.

LYCEUM—"Freckles" by The Baldwin Players.
ORPHEUM—Vaudeville and Motion Pictures.
GRAND—Vaudeville and Motion Pictures.
REX—Photoplay.

AT THE LYCEUM.

Baldwin Players Present "Freckles" for Their Farewell Week.

"Freckles," from the well known novel of Gene Stratton Porter, a tale of the Limberlost, of a darling swamp angel, and of a one-handed but courageous boy who had lost his identity, will engage the attention of Duluthians this week at the Lyceum theater, where the Baldwin Players are giving the piece a well staged and well-acted presentation. But nine of the regular company appear, Isaac Dillon taking two parts, and James E. Nelson two.

Homer Barton plays Freckles, the waif. During his rather eventful career in the lumber camp, Freckles is assigned the job of beating up the camp cook (big Al Smith), and Barton does it, one-handed, and despite Barton's generous waistline. The fight, however, probably would be voted a poor exhibition by the gallery where realism is appreciated and encouraged.

Dorothy Shoemaker is the angel. There isn't much in "Freckles"—the play—that fits the generous abilities of this actress, but what she had to do she did with her usual—or unusual—cleverness. Especially does she make love in the last act in a most acceptable manner, viewed from the masculine standpoint.

Isaac Dillon is a villain. He is the bold and bad timber thief, and he does it well. Al Smith, is his accomplice, and the camp cook, Wessner, big but easy to whip.

William Mortimer is the head teamster, Duncan, and his Scotch dialect rivals that of Helen Keers, who takes the part of Duncan's wife and is likable from curtain to curtain.

Pearl Ford is after bugs, and the friend of birds, and is known as The Bird Woman this week.

Isaac Dillon's second appearance, and the two times that James E. Nelson appears, give neither much to do.

Joseph DeStefano takes the part of McLean, boss of the Limberlost lumber camp, and his efforts met with the usual result—satisfaction.

The story is of a waif, who knows no other name than "Freckles." Farmed out to a cruel man, the waif receives a beating and runs away, arriving at the Limberlost camp, where he obtains employment as a guard over the costly trees which are being cut out by a gang of timber thieves, with Black Jack at their head. McLean, the camp boss, places much faith in the one-handed boy, arms him and sets him to watch for thieves.

From somewhere comes a girl, who, just as Freckles asks: "Get married? I must have a sweetheart first—where is the girl? Where is the girl?" she parts the shrubbery and answers that she is there. They sit down to talk and, apparently, both fall in love. But Freckles carries in his heart the grief of a mistake—that being that his father and mother had abused him and cut off his hand in his infancy, leaving him without a name and a cripple for life. He feels that he cannot become anything more than a friend to the "angel," as he has named the girl.

The last act discloses where the girl came from—from a house. Quite a nice house, too, with furniture in it, and with Isaac Dillon all dressed up in whiskers and no place to go, as the girl's father.

Then, to make Freckles feel that he is as "good" as the girl of his heart, in comes an uncle, Lord O'Moore, and tells Freckles that he (Freckles) is rich. It is disclosed, also, that Freckles' father and mother had not abused their child, but that a boiler in a tenement district had exploded and that a part of the boiler had cut off the youngster's hand.

Reinstated in his own good opinion of himself Freckles tells the angel that he will go and be educated and then come to claim her. She, meantime, has told Freckles that she loves him—so it looks like a match when Freckles comes back.

There are three acts and the staging is up to the usual Baldwin Players' excellence. The play has a few unaccountable lapses in logical sequence, but it is a good little show, interesting, and at popular prices should fill the house throughout the week, with matinees Wednesday and Saturday.

At the Grand.

An entire change of program will take place at the New Grand this afternoon and it promises to be one of variety and full of fun. Heading the new bill is the famous Rhoda Royal Circus, with dogs, monkeys, ponies and best of all a cute baby elephant that will be the joy and delight of the children. The animals are all well trained and offer a great variety of amusing tricks.

The three Burns sisters are vocalists. Their voices produce fine harmony and they display their talent by offering difficult selections and then swinging into the late popular and ragtime numbers.

Morgan and James are comedy gymnasts and wrestlers. Their act is very good and the athletes are hard workers. Ray and Guthrie are "despondency destroyers" with a line of funny sayings and a repertoire of funnier parodies. They are always a laughing hit.

The two-reel feature, "Scars of Possession," a Vitagraph comedy, "Netty or Letty," a Western drama, "Broncho Billy Favorite," and an Edison special, "A Gypsy Madcap" will be among the photoplays.

On Tuesday and Wednesday, special feature days, the drama, "Neath the Lion's Paw," in three reels will be the added attraction. This feature will be shown at 1, 2:45, 6 and 8:15 each day.

AT THE ORPHEUM.

Change of Policy Brings Biggest Audience of the Season.

The Orpheum inaugurated its new policy yesterday, and judging by the attendance, the reduction in prices was a popular move. What was probably the biggest audience of the season attended the evening performance.

There was no appreciable change in the length of the bill, and none in the quality of the acts. Two acts have been eliminated, but an extra motion picture reel is offered, and the performance is shortened little if any. The pictures now open the performance instead of closing it, and this change resulted in many who would have walked out before the pictures were finished, seeing an entertaining film. The Orpheum Travel Weekly is shown as usual, and in addition a good comedy reel and a view of a storm at sea, which is thrilling in the extreme, and which received as much of a "hand" from last night's audience as several of the acts did.

Complaints were made of a surfeit of dancing acts under the old policy, and when the Australian McLeans opened the vaudeville part of the bill by walking out and assuming the modern dancing position, the audience expected another of the countless tango wiggling exhibitions, but it was a pleasant disappointment. The McLeans give the best exhibition of whirlwind dancing seen on the Orpheum stage in many months. Their numbers are brief, breathless interludes, and the entire act cannot last more than five or six minutes, but it is cyclonic while it does.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Barry in an amusing comedy skit headline this week's bill, and provide a generous measure of comedy. Mr. Barry's "Rube" character is well done. The plot of the little skit tells of a meeting between an actress and a country yokel who has turned "stage door Johnny" for the time being. The latter proves to be far less of a simpleton than appears at first sight, and the unexpected climax to the act brought a shout of laughter.

With an array of most striking costumes, Miss Josephine Dunfee, former comic opera prima donna, made a decidedly favorable impression in her song numbers. Miss Dunfee has a soprano voice of great range and good volume. She gives one number which is calculated to show the full possibilities of her voice and several lighter and more popular selections. A medley of grand opera airs was splendidly sung.

Marie and Billy Hart, two old-time Orpheum favorites, are back with a number of changes in their act. They still use the circus as their setting, however. Mr. Hart impersonates the "barker" of the old-time "wagon show" and his versatile partner dances, sings, walks the slack wire and does a burlesque mind reading stunt that is very funny. The act ends with the "$140,000 street parade" by "the entire company." It is a good comedy turn of an unusual and original type.

The Danube Quartet, four young men, bring the bill to a very lively close with a sensational casting act.

VON DER GOLTZ SENT TO JOIN THE SULTAN.

Berlin, Nov. 30.—Field Marshal Baron von der Goltz has been relieved from his position as military governor of the portions of Belgium under German control, and attached for the remainder of the war to the entourage of the sultan of Turkey.

Gen. Freiheer von Bissingen has been named as successor to Gen. von Goltz as military governor of Belgium.

A dispatch from Berlin said that Zekki Pasha, former commander of the Turkish troops, had been attached to the suite of Emperor William as an expression of the present relations of Turkey and Germany.

AIRMEN DROP BOMBS INTO POLISH TOWNS.

London, Nov. 30.—A dispatch to Reuter's agency from Petrograd says trophies captured by the Russians at Lodz, together with several captured cannon, have arrived in Warsaw.

"On Monday last," the correspondent continues, "German airmen dropped eighteen bombs in the main street of Lodz, destroying the Golrechter factory, killing or wounding many of the populace and causing heavy property damage.

"Shells falling in Zgierz, a few miles north of Lodz, started a fire which destroyed a large part of the town."

CIRCUS HAS SHRUNK TO HORSE AND MULE.

Utica, N. Y., Nov. 30.—George C. Satterlee, better known as Sig Sautelle, the circus man, who resides at Homer, Cortland county, has filed a petition in bankruptcy here with unsecured liabilities of $33,103 and nominal assets of $3,815. His fifty creditors are scattered. All that is left of the circus is a spotted horse and a mule.

COMPULSORY EXAMINATION

Health Officer Advocates Annual Medical Inspection of Nation.

Believes the Federal Law Would Save Thousands of Lives Yearly.

A government measure requiring a medical examination for every man, woman and child in the United States annually would be one of the greatest assets in checking disease and would save millions of dollars and thousands of lives every year, according to Dr. A. R. Blakey, member of the Minnesota state board of health, who arrived in Duluth today from St. Paul to superintend the installing of the state health exhibit for Health Week at the Y. M. C. A.

In case of tuberculosis, cancer, and many other of the most serious forms of disease, the patient could be easily cured if treated in time," he said. "Thousands of people have the white plague and overcome it without knowing that they have had it, and Dr. Mayo of Rochester declares that cancer can be cured in almost every case if skillfully treated at the beginning of the disease. The reason for the great number of deaths from these diseases is that the patient either neglects early treatment or does not know that he has the disease.

Compulsory Examination.

"If the United States government made medical examinations compulsory thousands of these patients would be informed that cancer, tuberculosis or some other disease was setting in and the malady could be nipped in the bud and the patient permanently cured and further spread of the disease would be checked.

"A measure of this kind cannot be secured without considerable agitation, and it is the duty of physicians and officials to work with that end in view by getting the public aroused to its importance."

What agitation and education can do is shown by the results obtained in this state in the study and prevention of tuberculosis, he said. The whole state is discussing this disease and working to stamp it out and every one is willing to contribute money to the cause.

"In the last general election," he continued, "a vote was taken in four counties of this state, Blue Earth, Pope, Lac Qui Parle and Grant, on the proposition of providing a sanitarium. In these counties the county commissioners were willing to put up a sanitarium, but first wanted the approval of the public for the measure. Each county voted for a sanitarium. In Blue Earth county a sanitarium is to be maintained by that territory alone while in the others the counties will group together in support of such an institution.

Dr. Blakey is scheduled for two lectures at the "Y" gymnasium tomorrow on general health topics. Each lecture will be illustrated with stereopticon slides. At 4 o'clock tomorrow his talk will be especially for school children and instructors and at 8 o'clock for the public. Everybody, however, is invited to both lectures.

Dr. H. W. Hill of St. Paul, secretary of the Minnesota State Public Health association, will be here Wednesday for an address. Dr. Hill is considered one of the best public health authorities in the Northwest.

Tonight the health department of the city of Duluth will report on its activities for the last year. Both Commissioner W. A. Hicken and Dr. I. W. Murphy will speak.

Health talks at the shops will be given by local physicians throughout the week.

Dr. O. A. Oredson spoke at the Scott-Graff Lumber company's shops between 12 and 1 o'clock today, and Dr. A. H. Schwartz at the street car barns.

Mrs. Sidford, to engage a room while he was attending special lectures in Oxford. Earle saw some of her drawings and in a subsequent interview asked to see her. She was an art student at the time and was preparing herself to be an instructor. Earle had taken a studio in Oxford and offered to give her instructions in her work and she accepted his offer.

Finally, Mrs. Earle says, she accepted his offer of marriage, knowing nothing of his history or reputation.

"He told me he had been married before," she says in her deposition, "that he had been rushed into marriage with a French girl when he was a mere boy, which marriage was dissolved by mutual consent."

Heard He Was Famous.

Some time after the marriage, continues Mrs. Earle, they went to Europe, and she then for the first time learned that Earle had a notorious marital career. They came to America and lived at Earle's home in Monroe, Orange county. In 1912 she noticed that her husband's attention was attracted by a young woman named Miss Charlotte Herman and after a time her husband grew cool toward her.

sincere hope that the parties may see it not merely to their own interest, but also a duty which they owe to the communities they serve and to the nation itself, to make use of this instrumentality of peace, and render strikes of the kind which has threatened the order and prosperity of the state of Colorado a thing of the past."

The appointment of such a commission was contemplated in the plan for temporary settlement of the strike which the president proposed several months ago, and which was accepted by the miners but rejected by the operators. One of the chief objections of the plan was the naming of the commission.

At Service of Both Sides.

The president announced in his statement last night that the commission will place themselves "at the service alike of the miners and operators of the mines of Colorado in case controversy between them should in the future develop circumstances which would render mediation the obvious way of peace and just settlement."

Mr. Wilson said that merely to withdraw the Federal troops and leave the situation to clear and settle itself would seem to me to be doing something less than my duty after all that has occurred." He has been asked by Governor Ammons of Colorado to withdraw the troops from some of the districts and will discuss the question with Secretary Garrison of the war department this week.

Basis of Agreement.

The original basis of agreement offered by the president included the establishment of a three-year truce, subject to the enforcement of the mining and labor laws of Colorado; the return to work of miners who had not been convicted of law violations, the prohibition of intimidation of union or non-union men, and the appointment of a grievance committee by the employes. It provided that in cases where the officers of the companies and the grievance committee could not settle differences, a commission of three men named by the president should step in and act as the final referee of all disputes.

Referring to the plan, the statement last night said:

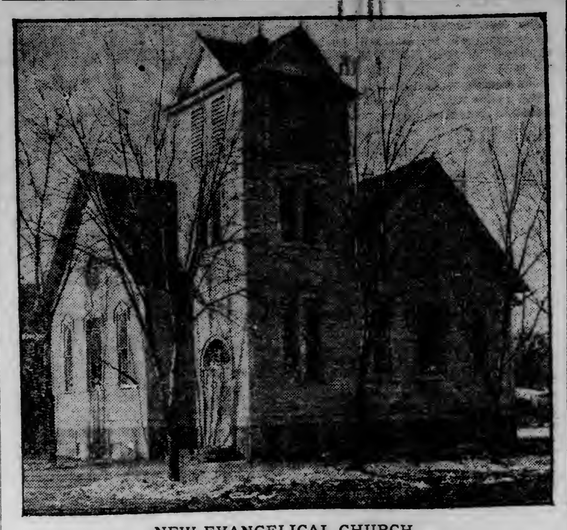

"The plan seemed to me obviously fair and sensible. The striking miners promptly accepted it; but the mine operators rejected it, saying in response to my appeal that they objected to its most essential features: Namely, the proposed arrangements by which the miners might state their grievances through a commission, and by which differences might be settled by reference to a commission appointed by the president of the United States.

Hoped for Change.

"I have waited and hoped for a change in their attitude, but now fear that there will be none. And yet I do not feel that I am at liberty to do nothing in the presence of circumstances so serious and distressing. Merely to withdraw the Federal troops and leave the situation to clear and settle itself, would have seemed to me to be doing something less than my duty after all that has occurred.

"I have, therefore, determined to appoint the commission contemplated in the plan of temporary settlement, notwithstanding the rejection of that plan by the mine operators, and thus at least to create the instrumentality by which like troubles and disputes may be amicably and honorably settled in the future, in the hope—the very earnest and sincere hope—that both parties may see it to be not only to their own best interest, but also a duty which they owe to the communities they serve, and to the nation itself, to make use of this instrumentality of peace, and render strikes of the kind which has threatened the order and prosperity of the great state of Colorado a thing of the past, impossible of repetition, so long as everything is done in good temper and with the genuine purpose to do justice and observe every public as well as every private obligation."

CHURCH IS DEDICATED AT NORTHEAST BRAINERD

NEW EVANGELICAL CHURCH.

Brainerd, Minn., Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Dedicatory services were held Saturday evening and all day Sunday at the Evangelical church of Northeast Brainerd, of which Rev. A. Zabel is pastor.

Prof. C. Bowman, D. D., of Naperville, Ill., held an interesting evangelistic service on Saturday evening. Sunday morning he delivered the dedicatory sermon and in the afternoon he delivered an address. Words of greeting were expressed by the pastors of various churches of Brainerd. In the evening Dr. Bowman delivered his popular lecture on "The Unknown God in the East." Dr. Bowman is one of the leading men in the Evangelical association, being a nephew of the senior bishop, Thomas Bowman, of the same church. Rev. E. H. Bollenbach of Minneapolis was also present and assisted the pastor, Rev. A. Zabel, in the services.

REV. A. ZABEL, The Pastor.

No Need, Says Welborn.

Denver, Colo., Nov. 30.—"I know of no controversies between Colorado coal companies and their employes that rendered mediation the obvious way of settlement," said Jess F. Welborn, president of the Colorado Fuel & Iron company, when advised of the appointment of a Federal commission by President Wilson to mediate in future controversies between coal operators and their employes.

"All serious troubles in the Colorado coal fields have been caused by labor organizations trying to force their regime on the business against the wishes of the workmen and their employes.

"If the commission just appointed by the president can prevent the labor organization responsible for Colorado's present trouble from bringing abcut another strike solely for recognition of the union, a great service will have been rendered, and strikes of the kind from which we are now suffering will be a thing of the past.

"Market Chief Difficulty."

"The difficulty under which Colorado mines are working today is to find a market for their coal. Many mines are idle because of poor business. Mines working are employing more men than they were before the strike, and in October had within 900 of the number employed by all the mines when the strike was called, but on account of light business, cannot give them steady work and cannot give employment to the large number daily applying for work.

"The most apparent efforts of Messrs. Davies and Fairley toward a settlement of the present strike have been the preparation of the 'truce proposals' which they presented to the president, and the authorship of which was claimed by the United Mine Workers of America.

"The actual coal miners protested against the acceptance by the operators of that proposed truce, and many, if not most of them, would have left our employ had we accepted it.

"There are not over 1,000 of our former employes now out on strike. We believe it to be our duty to respect the wishes and rights of 11,446 men working in October rather than the 1,000 not working."

Mine Workers Meet.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 30.—The Colorado coal strike situation was to form one of the principal topics of the adjourned meeting of the executive board of the United Mine Workers of America at the union headquarters here today. John P. White, president of the organization, said the unfinished business left over from the Philadelphia meeting also would be considered.

"The appointment of the arbitration board by President Wilson has not yet come to me officially, and I have nothing to say regarding it," said Mr. White when asked about the commission. He added that he might have something for publication later.

Locomotive Engineers, representing approximately 55,000 employes on ninety-eight western railroads, reviewed the conferences and meetings which have preceded the present arbitration of the wage and service differences between the railroads and their employes.

Th representative of the men laid great stress on the hardships suffered by the men, their long hours of service, the hazards which they encounter, and the weight of responsibility thrown on the men at the throttle and the fireman at the stokehole.

He insisted that there would be no attempt on the part of the employes to distort facts, and that by truthful witnesses he would show that the employes were clearly entitled to better service conditions and higher wages than the railroad managers were inclined to accord them.

Movement Two Years Old.

In brief, he said that the wage movement of the employes was begun two years ago, and that later it was decided that the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen should work jointly with the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers in the presentation of requests to the railroads; and in October, 1913, the sixteen articles to be arbitrated by the present board were approved by the membership of both organizations.

He told of counter propositions being submitted by the railroad managers, and of the joint conferences which occupied several months last winter, culminating in July in the agreement to arbitrate.

Mr. Stone insisted that any award of the board of arbitration should not decrease the present wage rates, nor impose less favorable service conditions on the employes, and in this connection quoted from a statement of the railroad managers that "it was not intended to make any reduction in wages."

Believe in Claims.

"This being true," he said, "we have not come here to give away a single thing we have, but we want and believe we are entitled to the increase we ask to go with it."

After describing the hardships of the men in the cab, and noting that traffic each year is becoming more congested, that each year the public demands faster time and better service, that each year locomotives are built and heavier tonnage hauled, the chief engineer said:

"And it must not be overlooked that all of these increased burdens fall on the same men, their number not having been increased for the purpose of dividing this work and responsibility. There never was a time in the history of the railroad world when as much was being taken out of the men in the cab as now—requirements that are beyond the limit of human endurance."

How Engineers Are Made.

He traced the method by which engineers are made, from the healthy farm boy, through long grinding hours as firemen, subjected repeatedly to searching examinations, both physical and mental; finally promoted to extra engineer, and then again examined on technical as well as physical and mental perfection.

He told of the hazards of the life of the engineer and fireman; of the enormous responsibility centered on them; of the strain of intense application, and of the sifting process which relegated a man in their occupation to elimination in middle life when years of usefulness should have been before him.

Summing up, he declared:

"We shall endeavor to show that during the last twenty-four years the western railroads have made remarkable gains in productive efficiency by the installation of locomotives of greater tractive power. By the elimination of curves and reduction of grades, remarkable increases in train loads have been made. The burden of all these economies in the interests of railroad investments is borne by the men in the transportation service.

Effect of Modern Service.

"The effect on engineers and firemen has been three-fold:

"Increase in their labors and responsibilities.

"Their productive efficiency has been greatly increased.

"Their earning capacity, even at the slightly increased rates of payment they have received, has declined.

"We hope to show that these railroads, not satisfied with the present hard conditions, which have reached the limit of human endurance, are intending to add further to existing train loads, thereby increasing the labors and responsibilities of the engineers and firemen."

Quoting a statement of the railroad managers last June, in which it was pointed out that increased expenses of the railroad operation through compliance with the employes' requests would in the long run make the public the sufferers, Mr. Stone said:

"It is refreshing to see this change in sentiment, but it is only when some question of increase of wages of employes is concerned that they become so solicitous for the long suffering public. A little group of financial pirates will exploit some railroad and place a burden on the public which generations yet unborn will have to bear, and you hear not even a whisper of the rights or suffering of the public."

KAISER DISPLEASED WITH GEN. MOLTKE.

London, Nov. 30.—A Copenhagen dispatch to the Daily News asserts that the wife of Gen. von Moltke, the German chief of staff, has written to a Danish relative that Gen. von Moltke is virtually the emperor's prisoner at one of the palaces in Hamburg as a result of his interference with the crown prince's strategic plans on the western front.

WHITE PLAGUE EASILY CURED

Early Treatment Effective, Says Dr. Laird at Health Meet.

Costs Nation 150,000 Lives and $500,000,000 in Year.

Characterizing the white plague as one of the most easily cured diseases when taken in time, Dr. A. T. Laird, head of the city and county tuberculosis sanitarium, in his address opening the Health Week program at the Young Men's Christian association building yesterday afternoon, declared that regardless of this fact there were 150,000 deaths last year, with a loss to the nation of $500,000,000. The health exhibit is now open to the public for the entire week.

"One hundred and fifty thousand people in the United States died from tuberculosis lost year," said Dr. Laird in his address, which was devoted mainly to a discussion on the white plague and a review of the work being done at the county tuberculosis hospital. "This is exactly one-seventh of all the deaths in this nation during 1913. And yet phthisis is one of the most easily cured diseases known to medical science.

"The economic loss to the country which these deaths represent amounts to $500,000,000. In St. Louis county 300 people died of tuberculosis last year, and in Duluth the number reached 100, eighty-eight of the cases being tuberculosis of the lungs.

"The causes of the prevalence of the white plague are incorrect breathing, contaminated food and infection. There are tuberculosis germs lying dormant in the system of practically everyone, but only when the powers of resistance are broken down do they become active. Sensible living, fresh air twenty-four hours a day, nourishing food and recreation are the great remedies for the disease."

Dr. Laird then explained how the disease is being fought throughout this nation. He also reviewed the work being done by the local sanitarium at the close of his address.

Health Week.

Health Week proper opens today, which is known as "Measles day." Squares marked "M" and "O" have been placed at drug stores and public places and persons are asked to wear them throughout the day. Those who have had measles are asked to wear the "M" cards and the others the placards bearing "O" on them. In this way local physicians hope to be able to learn the prevalence of the disease.

This noon Dr. O. A. Ordson addressed the Scott-Graff employes, while a similar talk was given by Dr. A. H. Schwartz at the car barns. The two physicians spoke generally on the care to be taken during the cold months, proper ventilation of rooms and systematic attention to the diet.

William A. Hicken, commissioner of public safety, and Police Surgeon Murphy will talk at the Y. M. C. A. building this evening, in connection with the exhibit.

GERMANS ADMIT RUSSIANS HAVE PENETRATED INTO EAST PRUSSIA

effect that no movements of importance are under way.

German Statement.

Berlin, Nov. 30, by wireless to London.—The following official statement was given out at military headquarters today:

"There is nothing of note to report from the western theater of war.

"On the East Prussian frontier an attempt by strong Russian forces to make a surprise attack on the German fortifications east of Darkehmen failed with heavy losses to the enemy, from whom we captured a few officers and 600 men.

"South of the Weichsel (Vistula river) the counter-attacks which we mentioned yesterday led to satisfactory results. Eighteen cannon and more than 4,500 prisoners fell into our hands.

"Nothing of note has occurred in Southern Poland."

Russian Report.

Petrograd, via London, Nov. 30.—"Fighting on the Russo-Prussian front is turning advantageously for our side," telegraphs a correspondent of the Army Messenger. "Our cavalry has dispersed the enemy who, in retiring, is abandoning his munitions of war. The energetic pursuit of our forces prevents the Germans from taking up the positions which they had prepared for their use in the event of a retreat."

Referring to the operations in Galicia, the Army Messenger says:

"All of our operations in Galicia are ending successfully for us. We continue to push the Austrian army in the direction of Cracow. In spite of the intense cold, which is delaying our offensive, we are advancing victoriously.

"Several of our contingents already are abreast of Cracow, the defenders of which are being turned on the south side. The morale of our troops is excellent."

French Statement.

Paris, Nov. 30, 2:50 p. m.—The French official communication given out in Paris this afternoon is as follows:

"In Belgium the enemy is remaining on the defensive. The artillery fire has been feeble and we have made progress at certain points. In the vicinity of Fay we hold securely the positions we occupied Nov. 28.

"In the region of Soissons there has been an intermittent artillery fire directed against the town.

"In the Argonne several attacks on the town of Dagatelle were repulsed by our troops.

"There has been a heavy fog on the heights of the Meuse.

"In the Woevre district the enemy bombarded the forest of Apremont, but without result.

"There is nothing to report in the Vosges."

London Reports.

London, Nov. 30, 11:50 a. m.—References to the Russian successes in North Poland have become somewhat chastened since the cautionary report issued by Grand Duke Nicholas, commander of the Russian forces in the field, was made public. Nevertheless, the military critics in the capitals of the allies, according to dispatches reaching London, remain convinced that the German invasion of Russian Poland has suffered a check which only the most strenuous efforts of the German commanders can save from degenerating into disaster.

Wedge Thrust In.

A news report from Petrograd sets forth that the Germans, apparently ignorant of the extent of the Russian opposition along the Vistula, or holding this opposition in contempt, threw heavy forces against the Russian center, leaving very thin lines of communication between their wings. T ' created a situation said to be without precedent in military strategy. In the meantime the resumption of the Russian offensive resulted in a wedge, dominated by Lodz, being thrust into the German center.

If the Germans can hold their lines of communication with their wings intact, the invaders may be able to withdraw, in the view of British observers, without suffering disaster.

Claim Minor Successes.

Berlin and Vienna continue to report that the battle along the Rivers Vistula and Warta is proceeding without decisive result, although minor successes, attended with the capture of prisoners and guns, are claimed for the Austrian and German operations.

On the western front, according to the communication given out in Paris last night, a lull prevailed except in the Argonne, where the German attacks are said to have been fruitless. Unofficial dispatches declare that Zeebrugge is again preparing for an assault from the sea, with the Germans directing their activities toward the suppression of all efforts to signal from the land to British ships off the coats.

AUSTRO-HUNGARIAN CASUALTIES FEARFUL.

Petrograd, Nov. 30, via London.—On the basis of reports received in Petrograd from Hungary, it is stated here today that the Austro-Hungarian casualties to date amount to 900,000 men and 19,000 officers.

MAJOR YATE SAID TO HAVE ESCAPED.

London, Nov. 30.—Doubt has arisen concerning the fate of Maj. Charles Allix Livington Yate of the Yorkshire Light infantry, recently decorated with the Victoria Cross, who was said to have died while a prisoner of war. A circular issued by the German government, dated Sept. 22, said that he had escaped from a detention camp. Since the news of his escape no tidings from him have been received.

AVERAGE MAN HAS HIS PLACE

Faithfulness Rather Than Amount Done Basis of Character.

Dr. Hovis Draws Many Lessons From Parable of the Talents.

"The Average Man" was the topic preached upon yesterday morning by Dr. William Forney Hovis, pastor of the Endion M. E. church, and he chose as his text, "And to another He gave two talents." His sermon, in part, follows:

"A comparatively small number of all the people in the world are either one talent or five-talent men, and those who have received ten are so few as to be almost solitary in their respective fields. The great majority belong to the class represented by the person who was given two talents. They are not abnormally inferior and not conspicuously superior. They are simply plain, ordinary people.

Demand for Ordinary Men.

"The demand for two-talent men is great because the world is so full of ordinary tasks. The stability of human progress depends upon the activity of 'persevering mediocrity.' Paul says that in the economy of the kingdom of heaven 'not many wise after the flesh, not many mighty, not many noble, are called.' It is so with the world. The work of the world is done by the army of toilers who stand midway between the seer and the sot. The hive only needs one queen; but it must have a multitude of busy workers.

"Abraham Lincoln once said that he thought that the Lord must like the common people because He had made so many of them. Such a statement concerning the prevalence of the average man is apt to be delusive. The parable of the talents plainly avers that God likes any man who does his duty and meets the responsibility of his charge—virtue is determined by occupation not endowment. The numerical excess of the 'average man' is merely a matter of fact; God is interested in the percentage and not the base.

Variety of Talent.

"Variety of talent represents nothing but variety of responsibility. To whom much is given of that one much will be required. It is really immaterial whether one has one talent or two or five or ten. The obligation is per cent of increase and is therefore the same. The one-talent man, however, failing to understand that when he has made one other talent he has done as much as the ten-talent man who has made another ten, sometimes becomes discouraged and hides his talent in the ground. On the other hand, the ten-talent man, unduly elated over what seems to be success, is often satisfied with insufficient increase. The two-talent man, free from the danger of these extremes must learn the lesson of patient plodding.

"The average man is little known outside his own family and circle of friends. The activities of his life concern a small coterie of associates and when he dies his memory is cherished by a chosen few. He belongs to the rank and file, who work and play and love and worship, and finally fall asleep while the world wags on with little heed. But he had his place to fill and no one could fill it for him. The world may little note nor long remember what he did, but it could not do without him. In the day of final awards, heaven will do him justice.

Two Parables.

"There is a striking difference between the parable of the talents and the parable of the pounds. The latter according to St. Luke, teaches that men who have the same gifts may make a widely different use of them and that their rewards will be graded according to their unlike diligence, while the former plainly shows that men with dissimilar endowments may employ them with equal devotion, and, that if they do, their reward will be the same, no matter how large the gift of one or how slender that of another. Where there is the same faithful work with different amounts of capital, the reward will be the same.

"Talents are not arbitrarily bestowed for the benefit of the recipient; they are trusts to be used in trading and for which the holder must give account. The obligation involves both interest and increase. Property, rightly handled, is sure to multiply. Money makes money. Five talents grow to ten, two to four. The question is not has a man one talent, or two, or five, but how is he using what he has? He who gets and keeps and never gives is a miser, and the word 'miser' originally meant 'a wretched one.'

"The difference between faithfulness and unfaithfulness is wholly a matter of neglect. The faithful cheerfully apply themselves and do the best they can; the unfaithful, having as much ability in proportion to their trust, simply neglect to do their duty. What a man will do with much is shown by how he handles trifles, and his real worth is determined by what he does when he isn't watched. The unfaithful deceive themselves; they are faithful in imagination. They think that if they had the ability and opportunities that some men have that they would do better than these men do; they presume that it is easier to command than to obey, and so spoil the lesser part which is their own. Inconstancy is but another name for sloth.

Idleness a Crime.

"Idleness was a criminal offense at Athens. It should be so regarded everywhere. Plutarch in his life of Lycurgus, tells of a classic 'loafer,' who was one day fined for this offense who was greatly condoled by a brother idler as having been condemned for keeping up his dignity. The man who is not faithful to his task, be it great or small, is an undesirable citizen. It would be a good thing if Capt. John Smith's rule that he who would not work would not be allowed to eat, were still in force. The world has too many luxurious parasites, who think it base to work. Socrates said, 'He is not only idle who does nothing, but he is idle who might be better employed.'"

The Average Man.

"The average man is not as good as he ought to be. Goodness has both subjective and objective aspects. The so-called difference between 'being good' and 'being good for something' is a distinction that has no basis in actual fact. No one has any right to claim the quality of goodness who has not traded with his talent and made the world a little richer with hi slife. Goodness that keeps its potential graces wrapped up in a napkin is the goodness of an oyster and mollycoddle.

"There is a chance for the ordinary man to become extraordinary by meritorious service. The means for improvement are at his hand. His virtue is not in his position, but in his spirit and his work. His task, though commonplace, must not be counted unimportant, but his value is determined by the purpose of his heart. It must ever be remembered that 'persevering mediocrity is much more respectable and unspeakably more useful than talented inconsistency,' and that there are none great except those who have been dependable servants.

"When the average man becomes a better man, life will strike a higher moral average. The world does not need more seers who stand transfigured on the mountain-top; it needs a cleaner rank and file of life.

Public Sentiment.

"Public sentiment is the voice of the average man. Commonality is gregarious. The destiny of the world is in the hand of the common people. The kingdom of heaven will be established in the earth not when we have more preachers who cry their message from exalted heights; not when we have more white-robed saints among the invisible ranks of the immortals; not when all delinquent souls have been weeded from the world; not when high-browed scholars have discovered every secret thing; but when righteousness shall reign in the everyday life of the average man and woman.

"The human family has to be cleansed and purified and prepared for immortality one at a time. The world can never be redeemed en masse. Each must bear his own responsibility—the owner of one talent one, the possessor of ten talents ten, the holder of five talents five, and the recipient of two talents two. The presence of the average man in such vast numbers is evidence of the important place he fills. The work of the world will never be done until each one bears his own burden. The important factor in the regeneration of the race is the man that has two talents."

RECITES DANGERS TO FAMILY LIFE

Divorce and Diversions of Society a Menace, Says Hoffman.

Divorce and the eleborate diversions of modern society are two things which constantly threaten to disrupt the family of today, according to Dr. John W. Hoffman, pastor of the First Methodist church in a sermon on "The Family Altar" yesterday morning.

"Of course," declared Dr. Hoffman," other causes are at work, but these stand out with singular prominence.

"Desertion stands first, cruelty and unfaithfulness next, drunkenness next and failure to provide last in the list of causes for divorce. Curious is it not that everyone of these causes root themselves in selfishness, in the absence of religion.

"We are amazed at the burden some would impose on legislatures and the law courts. Law can only regulate, not create; it can only equalize inequalities, not emancipate; it can only protect, not relate man to the ideals that are of God.

"Observe haw the unity of the home is threatened by the diversity of modern life. Time was when the members of the family moved in the same circle of pleasures and friends, but not now.

"Clubs, societies and what not have created vast differences in taste and recreation so that no two children are found together. Not so very long ago the whole family went to the same church, but not now. Husband and wife go to different churches, parents and children move in different religious circles. It is not surprising that social workers tell us of the weakening of the family tie?"

Dr. Hoffman declared that the modern world is rapidly accepting the fact that a religious home is fundamental. "We are beginning to see," he said, "that the problems of humane welfare center at the last in perfectly conducted homes. Civic virtues must resolve themselves into domestic ones. Patriotism, valor, honor, fidelity and truth all must have their source in a well ordered home."

CLAN STEWART ATTENDS CHURCH

Observes Anniversary of Its Formation Thirty-Six Years Ago.

Clan Stewart, Order of Scottish Clans, last night celebrated the thirty-sixth anniversary of the founding of the order. The clans were formed thirty-six years ago tonight at St. Louis, Mo., this being St. Andrew's day, but the observance took place yesterday because of the fact that the clan wished to attend the First Presbyterian church, where Rev. Robert Yost preached to the members. The clansmen met at their hall, Fourth avenue west and First street, and marched in a body to the church, where the central section had been reserved for them. Dr. Yost preached on "Our Fathers' God" and was listened to by about 400 clansmen as well as their families and friends, who occupied the rest of the auditorium. A special musical program was given.

On next Wednesday evening the annual meeting of the clan will be held and the officers elected. On that evening also, a delegate will be elected to the convention of the royal clan, which will be held in San Francisco beginning Aug. 17, next year.

MUST KEEP MORAL AND HEALTH LAWS

Pastor of Adventist Church Urges Closer Observance of Both.

In speaking on the prevention of tuberculosis and other deadly maladies, last night at the Seventh Day Adventist church, corner of Sixth street and Eleventh avenue east, Pastor Stemple White declared that "the curse, causeless, shall not come," for "whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap."

In all nature and science, the absolute reign of fixed and inexorable law predominates," said Mr. White, "for wherever force operates, law reigns. Much is said of the exact times and harmonies in the movements of the heavenly bodies, but every other operation of nature is no less under strict and invariable law. The chemist finds that the elements combine with one another under rules as close and definite as those that obtain among the stars.

"In the very nature of things, every individual in all the world recognizes, more or less, the immutability of the laws of nature, for it is only in view of this very thing that the very elements can be harnessed to do man's bidding. If the laws of nature are so inviolate, how much more so is God's moral law, and so it is written, 'it is easier for heaven and earth to pass, than one tittle of the law to fail.' So while we daily recognize in the very details of life the absolute, immutability of natural law, let us beware how we lightly treat God's moral law, the very immutability of which is eternally stamped in the hands and palms of the Son of God."

Mr. White used many illustrations as to how one sows for disease, and quoted from the world's leading scientific men as to the absolute injurious effects of alcohol, tobacco, tea, coffee, opiates and flesh meats. He urged for temperance in all things, and declared that if one would reap health, one must sow to the laws of health.

MEN URGED TO PUSH FORWARD

That the divine plan is to push men from their nesting places and that the mother eagle stirring up her nest and driving her young away is a a parable of God's care for His people is the opinion of Dr. A. W. Ryan, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church expressed in his morning sermon yesterday.

"The mother bird stimulates her young to leave the nest and make their own way in the world," said Dr. Ryan. "Sometimes she destroys the nest altogether, and sometimes she pushes her young from it. But at the same time, she flutters over them and protects them with her wings until they get the strength to protect themselves.

"God sends the young man out into the world to win his way. Sometimes he is lazy, sometimes he lacks confidence. But God is always inspiring him to greater effort.

"There is no nesting place in our lives, according to the divine plan. God is always inciting us to progress, to be up and doing. Expansion is the life of man, and God is the inspiration and the protector."

REPORT BY GEN. FRENCH

Carries Story of the War From Oct. 11 to Nov. 20.

"Value and Significance" of Allies' Operations Explained.

London, Nov. 30.—Field Marshal Sir John French, commander-in-chief of the British forces in the field, speaks in an optimistic vein concerning the position of the allies, in a report issued by the official press bureau. The report covers in a general way the activities of the British troops from Oct. 11 to Nov. 20.

Summing up the situation in concluding his report, Field Marshal French says:

"As I close this dispatch signs are in evidence that we are possibly in the last stages of the battle from Ypres to Armentieres. For several days past the artillery fire of the enemy has slackened considerably and his infantry attacks have practically ceased."

General Situation.

"In remarking upon the general military situation of the allies as it appears to me at the present moment," Gen. French continues, "it does not seem to be clearly understood that the operations in which we have been engaged embraces nearly all of the central part of the continent of Europe from the east to the west. The combined French, Belgian and British armies in the west, and the Russian army in the east, are opposed to the united forces of Germany and Austria, acting as combined armies between us.

"Our enemies attempted at the beginning of the war to throw the weight of their forces against our armies in the west and to detach only a comparatively weak force, composed of very few of the first line troops and several corps of second and third line troops, to stem the Russian advance until the western forces could comcompletely defeat and overwhelm their opoponents.

Offensive Impossible.

"Their strength enabled them from the outset to throw greatly superior forces against us in the west. This precludes the possibility of our taking vigorous offensive action except when miscalculations and mistakes are made by their commanders, opening up special opportunities for successful attacks and pursuit.

"The battle of the Marne was an example of this, as also was our advance from St. Omer and Hazebrouck to the line of the River Lys at the commencement of this battle. The role which our armies in the west consequently have been called upon to fulfill has been to occupy strong defensive positions, holding ground gained and inviting the enemy's attack and to throw back these attacks, causing the enemy heavy losses in his retreat and following him up with powerful and successful counter-attacks to complete his discomfiture.

Value and Significance.

"The value and significance of operations of this nature since the beginning of hostilities by the allies' forces in the west lies in the fact that, at the moment when the eastern provinces of Germany are in imminent danger of being overrun by the numerous and powerful armies of Russia, nearly the whole active army of Germany is tied down to a line of trenches extending from Verdun on the Alsatian frontier to the sea at Nieuport, east of Dunkirk (a distance of 250 miles), where they are held with much reduced numbers and impaired morale, by the successful action of our troops in the west.

"I cannot speak too highly of the services rendered by the Royal artillery throughout the battle. In spite of the fact that the enemy brought guns of great range and shell power, our men have succeeded throughout in preventing the enemy from establishing anything in the nature of superiority in artillery.

Skill, Courage and Energy.

"The skill, courage and energy displayed by the commanders of the Royal artillery have been very marked. The Royal engineers have been indefatigable in their efforts to assist in the fortification work.

"I deeply regret the heavy casualties which we have suffered, but the nature of the fighting has been very desperate and we have been assailed by vastly superior numbers. I have every reason to know that throughout the course of the battle we have placed at least three times as many of the enemy hors de combat in dead, wounded and prisoners."

SWEDISH PEOPLE ANGRY AT GERMANY

Berlin Is Said to Have Demanded Suppression of Utterances.

London, Nov. 30.—The Daily Mail's Copenhagen correspondent says Germany has demanded that the Swedish government suppress unfriendly utterances against Germany in Swedish newspapers, and has threatened reprisals in the event of non-compliance.

Germany's declaration making wood contraband of war, has caused a tremenduous revulsion of feeling in Sweden and Norway against Germany, and agitation for an understanding with Russia. Sweden's loss by reason of this declaration, as estimated by the correspondent, will amount to $15,000,000 a year.

"The temper of the Swedes," says the correspondent, "is such that they are discussing whether it would be advisable to send cargoes of wood to England through the Kattegat and Skager-Rak under escort of Swedish warship, and defy the Germans to attack them. It is contended Sweden, Norway and Russia could form a profitable commercial agreement which would be greatly to the advantage of themselves and the allies, and to the disadvantage of the Germans."

WONDERFUL FEAT BY THE RUSSIANS

Crossing of Carpathians Accomplished Against Difficulties.

Lemberg, Galicia, via Petrograd and London, Nov. 30.—The Russians appear to have accomplished the difficult feat of throwing an army through the Carpathian mountains southwest of Lemberg. Fighting in the Carpathians has been most ferocious, being carried on under extraordinary difficulty, which was increased by the severe cold, the bitter winds and occasional snowstorms Reports received here say that in their operations against the Austrians, the Russians have won important successes during uninterrupted fighting for the last two days.

Austrian officers who have been captured say they never considered the possibility that the Carpathians would be crossed at this time of the year with the degree of success that the Russians have attained. The assertion is made by Russian officers that the Austrians are not in a position to defend Galicia. The army which crossed the mountains, they say, found a distracted population suffering from hunger and privations.

LUXEMBURG GIVEN GERMAN PAYMENT.

Paris, Nov. 30.—Germany has paid an indemnity of 150,000 marks ($37,500) to the duchy of Luxemburg, according to a dispatch to the Temps from Bordeaux.

One of the first acts of Germany after the outbreak of the war, was to invade, on Aug. 20, the duchy of Luxemburg. This action was criticized by the allied nations as a violation of neutrality. The payment of an indemnity, if made as reported presumably would be intended to recompense Luxemburg for Germany's act.

HOLLAND WILL CARE FOR ALL REFUGEES.

The Hague, via Holland, Nov. 30.—The Dutch government has categorically declined all offers of financial aid for Belgian refugees in Holland, which were recently unofficially offered by an American charity. While deeply appreciative of the generous proposals, the government says it feels that it would be incompatible with the country's honor to allow another nation or individual association to assist in this mercy work, and that Holland desires to provide herself for all those different neighbors who are afflicted by the war.

Of the million Belgian refugees who fled into Holland at the beginning of the war 300,000 penniless ones remain.

In addition to the refugees there are 45,000 Belgian soldiers who crossed the border into Holland and were interned The expense for their maintenance eventually will be paid by the Belgian government, according to international law.

CANADIAN TROOPS GOING TO EGYPT.

Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 30.—A cablegram received by a relative in this city from an officer with the Canadian contingent at Salisbury Plains, contains the statement that the Canadian troops were going to Egypt immediately.

"How do you make such delicious muffins? Mine are always so dry. And if I make the batter thin they fall. How do you do it?"

"I make them about as you do, only I use K C Baking Powder. Mine always turn out well, so it must be the baking powder."

It is the baking powder. To make muffins, cakes and pastry rich and moist, yet light and feathery, a modern double acting baking powder must be used—one that will give off leavening gas in the oven as well as in the mixing bowl.

KC BAKING POWDER

is really a blend of two baking powders, one of which starts to raise as soon as moisture is added. The other is inactive until heat is applied. This sustains the raise until your muffins, biscuits or cake is done.

K C Baking Powder costs less than the old fashioned quick acting kinds, yet you need use no more and it is superior to them in every way.

GARY'S RED LIGHTS SWITCHED ON AGAIN

Suppression of Social Evil There Is Declared Failure.

Gary, Ind., Nov. 30.—The "red light" district, which has been closed since July 29, re-opened here last night with the sanction of the mayor and the chief of police. The administration announced that the policy of suppression has been practically a failure. They found it impossible to prevent disorderly places springing up in residence sections, they said, and decided the protection of the community demanded a segregated district under police regulation.

"I will be the czar of the district," said the chief of police. "Suppression resulted in the scattering of vice, and it was too big a proposition to handle. The new regulations will be strict. Liquor is prohibited."

A secret meeting of the association of ministers decided to call on the mayor and demand that he close the houses, under threat of impeachment.

BRYAN SAYS LOVE WILL BRING PEACE.

Chicago, Nov. 30.—"Love, not dreadnaughts and siege guns, is to bring peace to warring Europe," was the text of a sermon preached yesterday by Secretary of State Bryan to Presbyterians of Chicago who filled a downtown theater.

"The nations of the world have dealt with each other on the basis of fear," said Secretary Bryan. "The flag has represented a power of which the people have been afraid. Why don't the nations learn the only foundation on which nations can dwell together is love?

"Nations which have been built on force have died. Those which have trusted in armies and fleets have gone down. Why do not the nations learn righteousness is mightier than dreadnaughts?"

SOUTH AMERICA'S PLEA MAKES GAINS.

Rome, Nov. 30.—The proposition of the South American republics for the withdrawal of belligerent warships from their waters in order to remove impediments to commerce, has been received with sympathy by the European neutral countries, especially the Scandinavian and Dutch kingdoms, which have suffered most from the present European war.

Hope is expressed that the United States will head this movement and that it may lead to the enactment of a new international law which will prevent belligerents' causing losses to neutral countries by the operations of their warships.

KAISER REPORTED IN THE EAST AGAIN.

Berlin, Nov. 30, via London.—It was announced at military headquarters yesterday that Emperor William was with the German army in the east.

AGED MAN DIES UNIDENTIFIED

Found Lying in the Gutter With a Fractured Skull.

Arrested for Drunkenness; Found to Be Fatally Injured.

Found early Saturday morning in a gutter, where he had apparently been lying throughout the night, an unidentified man, 70 years old, died at St. Luke's hospital in the afternoon from a fractured skull. How he sustained the fracture and how he lived so long with such a wound, are the puzzles confronting the police and the hospital authorities.

Nothing is known about the man and every effort to learn his identity has proven futile. Yesterday afternoon it was learned that he roomed at the Bethel recently, but his name was never learned, nor do any of the men, who have visited the Grady & Horgan undertaking rooms and who recognize his face, know his name. An old pipe was the only article found in his clothes.

The aged man was picked up at Fifth avenue west and First street by Patrolman Le Beau early Saturday morning. He had apparently been lying in the gutter all night. He was numbling and appeared to be drunk.

At the station he was booked up on a charge of drunkenness and when he showed signs of extreme nervousness, Police Surgeon Murphy was called and he ordered the man taken to St. Luke's hospital for medical examination and treatment. The officers, unable to get his name, booked him up as "John Doe" and set his trial for Tuesday.

Had Fractured Skull.

After being taken to the hospital, the discovery was made that the man had a fractured skull. He died early in the afternoon, without having been able to give his name or tell how he sustained the injury. It is believed that the man was drunk Friday night and that he fell off the sidewalk, striking his head on the curb.

The fact that the man lived for several hours with such a fracture in his skull is considered marvelous by attendants at the hospital. Deputy Coroner McAuliffe, who examined the body at the Grady & Horgan undertaking rooms Saturday night, could hardly believe that the man lived as long as he did with such a fracture.

He was about five feet nine inches in height, of medium build, gray haired, with a gray mustache and a heavy unkempt gray beard. The body is being held at the undertaking rooms and unless identified within the next few days, will be buried at the expense of the county.

WEST END

POLES RECALL INSURRECTION

Anniversary of Last Struggle for Freedom Is Celebrated.

At 2:30 yesterday afternoon the Poles of Duluth completely filled the Woodman hall, Twenty-first avenue west and First street, to commemorate the insurrection of Nov. 29, 1830, against Russia.

After the third and last partition of Poland, a territory of some 40,000 square miles, comprising about one-eighth of the original area of the Polish republic, with Warsaw as the seat of government, was left in the hands of the Poles under a Russian protectorate. By the treaty of Vienna of 1815 the Poles were guaranteed the unrestricted practice of their religion, use of language, administration of the laws, finances and schools. But the terms of that treaty were entirely disregarded by Constantine, the brother of the Czar Alexander, made governor of that remnant of former Poland. This erratic and enigmatic Russian official, by his irresponsible and unintelligent treatment of them, drove the Poles to exasperation and despair.

The actual revolution was started by a body of cadets at a national military school at Warsaw, who were immediately joined by school fraternities of other institutions of learning in and about the city. Eventually it extended to other spheres, and after continuing with varied fortunes nearly a whole year, finally ended in disaster and reprisals lasting to this very day.

It cost thousands of young lives in actual battle, the exile of some 40,000 families into the wilds of Russia and Siberia, the drafting of young men of military age for periods of twenty-five and thirty years into regiments at far off Eastern military posts, and the loss of all autonomy.

The program at the celebration of the anniversary of this unfortunate insurrection consisted of orchestra numbers, songs by the St. Peter and St. Paul church choir, and addresses by the Rev. J. F. Cieminski and S. A. Icicek. The former outlined the political conditions left and the political thought engendered by the Napoleonic wars in Europe, and what influence these had in intensifying the yearning after freedom among the Polish people then but recently deprived of it, and the causes which, under proper leadership, might then have contributed to the success of the insurrection. The latter drew a graphic picture of the widespread, bloody and heartbreaking war now raging over Europe, the pitiful condition in which poor Poland finds herself in consequence of it, and pointed out the germs of hope that lie in it for Poland's independence.

TO HOLD CONFERENCE.

AMERICAN HELD AS SPY IN GOETTINGEN.

New York, Nov. 30.—Edward Bright, an American citizen, graduate of Columbia and formerly editor of the Baptist Examiner, is under arrest at Goettingen, Germany, charged with being a spy, according to information received by his wife in this city.

Mrs. Bright notified the state department, which cabled to the consul at Hanover and received word that Ambassador Gerard had "requested an early investigation."

Mr. Bright was born in Yonkers, N. Y., 47 years ago.

HUNT GERMAN ARMS CACHE NEAR QUEBEC

Concrete Base for Siege Guns Found on German's Land.

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 30.—A secret store of arms and ammunition is being searched for on the Isle of Orleans, in the St. Lawrence river, just off Quebec. A concrete base upon which a siege gun could be mounted already has been found there.

A German bought a tract of land on the Isle of Orleans two years ago and established a plant for the manufacture of concrete blocks. It is upon this property that the concrete foundation has been found. It covers the defenses of Quebec and the St. Lawrence channel. Last summer a moving picture company, the leading officials of which were German, spent the summer on the Isle of Orleans, reproducing the Battle of the Plains of Abraham. They employed several hundred young men of the vicinity, uniformed them and provided them with arms which they borrowed from local military authorities. They had both cannon and rifles, and fired a large amount of blank ammunition in their operations. The firearms which they borrowed were returned to the authorities, but it has been reported they took advantage of the opportunity to land guns and secrete them in pits.

The Canadian military authorities have regarded information they have received as serious enough to warrant an investigation. The concrete foundation has been destroyed and excavations have been made in search of buried guns.

As the island is twenty miles long and seven miles wide, the search is likely to prove tedious. At its nearest point, the island is four miles from Quebec. As far as the Canadian military authorities have been able to learn, the films made last summer were never shown.

Sweets Children Can Make.

From the Mothers' Magazine: Chocolate creams—Form firm balls of good stiff fondant between the fingers, place on a greased paper and set away to dry. Melt confectioner's chocolate over hot water and dip the balls in.

Orange Strips—Chop crystalized orange peel into small pieces. Mix with fondant. Cut in long strips, wrap in yellow paper or tie with orange-colored baby-ribbon. Chopped figs, dates, nuts and cocoanut may be substituted.

Fruit Paste—Put one cupful raisins, one cupful stoned dates, one cupful figs and two cupfuls mixed nuts through the food chopper twice. Mix with enough confectioner's sugar to make dough sufficiently firm to roll in a board sprinkled with confectioner's sugar. Knead as you would bread. Then roll out one-half inch thick and cut into squares. Dust with the sugar and lay away in tin boxes lined with waxed paper.

Nut Crisps—Cover the bottom of a well-buttered pan thickly with two cupfuls of mixed nuts or peanuts. Melt one pound of sugar in a saucepan, stirring constantly to prevent burning, and keep the sugar from the sides of the pan. As soon as melted remove from the fire and pour over the nuts. It will quickly change to caramel if not removed from the fire as soon as melted. When cold, break into pieces.

Popcorn Balls—Pop sufficient corn to make six quarts. This should be moistened before popping, as it makes it more tender and insures against any of the grains not popping. Boil one pint of molasses until it forms a ball when dropped in cold water. Mix one cupful of chopped nuts with the popped corn and pour the syrup over them, tossing with a spoon to mix thoroughly. When cool enough to handle, shape in firm balls.

Chocolate Popcorn—Cook one cupful of granulated sugar, one-half cupful of milk, three tablespoonfuls of grated chocolate and a lump of butter the size of a walnut together until a little dropped in water is quite brittle. Pour over one quart of popped corn, stirring so that all the kernels are coated.

Chocolate Candies—Melt confectioners' chocolate over hot water. When almost cool enough to set, dip nuts, dates, raisins, chopped candied fruits, ginger or whatever is to be coated into the chocolate and lay on oiled paper. Chopped fruits, nuts or cocoanut may be stirred in, and small portions dropped onto waxed paper to set.

Date Dainties—Stone dates, stuff with tiny rolls of peanut butter, walnut meats, pecan halves, bits of candied ginger, pineapple or cherries, roasted almonds and fondant flavored with lemon juice. Then roll in pulverized or granulated sugar.

Fruit and Nut Caramels—Take equal portions of nut meats, figs and dates and pass through the meat grinder. Mix thoroughly and place in a square, shallow baking tin and pack down tight and even. When packed, the layer should be about three-fourths of an inch thick. Cut in squares and wrap in oiled paper. If sticky to handle, dust the hands and each piece with powdered sugar.

Prevent Forwardness in Children

That children should be seen and not heard is an old adage, the sentiment of which appeals just as strongly to many today, as it ever did to our stern, strait-laced ancestors. History pictures these ancestors sitting painfully quiet and speechless while their elders enjoyed the pleasures of conversation, and the physical comfort which freedom to move at will brings to one.

When you insist that a child shall keep quiet and sit in silence for any length of time you are trying to exact the impossible and inflict no little hardship in the effort. There is an exuberance of physical force in young children that must have an outlet, and so the child rushes about the house until you would expect physical exhaustion. A healthy child must have action and will talk.

If a child is healthy he will next turn his attention to something more or less energetic. Climbing chairs and jumping to the floor, he repeats these stunts until your nerves can stand it no longer and you yell to him to stop, which he does somewhat reluctantly. It is not long before he discovers some other form of noisy amusement, chosen unconsciously, and it proves that it is just what he needs to assist him in his growth.

Other children who are not given to boisterous ways or given to trying to break their precious necks are extremely talkative. The moment they learn the use of the tongue they give you no peace. Question follows question and it behooves you to pay some attention to their childish utterance. Be as patient as possible with such children and answer such questions as do not take up too much of your time. They will shortly learn to think for themselves and require fewer answers from their elders.

I do not believe that a child should be allowed to monopolize the conversation or to break in when older people are talking. Neither should he be allowed to turn the house upside down just because he has a desire to play, or be too much in evidence at any one time. I do believe that there is such a thing as keeping them too much in the background, of curtailing the inclination to put thoughts in words and for asking questions and of denying them the rough-and-tumble play which their natures demand. You can allow them full privileges in all these things and at the same time teach them to be considerate and respectful of and to their elders.

DULUTH MAN IS BEQUEATHED $5,000

Edward Hazen Gets $5,000 From Late Physician of Brainerd.

Brainerd, Minn., Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The last will of Dr. James L. Camp, filed for probate, contains these bequests: To his cousin, Edward Hazen of Duluth, $5,000; to Judge W. S. McClenahan of Brainerd, $3,000; to Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Peabody, where he roomed many years, $2,000; to Dr. P. L. Berge, $1,000; to Dr. J. A. Thabes of Brainerd, all the rest and residue of his property and real estate of all kinds. Dr Thabes is named executor.

Doctors Thabes and Berge were associated with Dr. Camp. The will was made five days before his death. No bequests are made to his sister, Mrs. Irma Camp Hartley, county superintendent of schools, and none to his only brother, Fred Camp of Durango, Colo.

Mr. Hazen is secretary of the Boston & Duluth Farm Land company and resides at 2109 Jefferson street.

ANY THING TO SETTLE IT FAIRLY.

Mr. Voss, who introduced the "alternative" ordinance fixing the maximum electric lighting rate at four cents, and Mr. Hartman, president of the Duluth-Edison Electric company, are having an interesting debate which may prove important, especially if in any possible way it will work out a settlement of this matter and get it out of the way.

The president of the company declared that the council's four-cent fate proposal would be unthinkable, because there would be no profit in it at all but, we believe he said, a loss.

Mr. Voss then declared, after a study of this statement and of the company's annual report, that the company had made a mistake in its figures and that it could make money at four cents.

This seems to join the issue very squarely. A four-cent rate either would or not be fair all around. The company says it wouldn't, Mr. Voss says it would.

Now that question ought to be capable of mathematical solution, very accurately. Mr. Voss suggests that the company allow him to check up the figures. If he finds that he is wrong, he says, he will admit it. If he finds he is right, he will stick for the four-cent rate; and of course if he is right, and a four-cent rate would be fair, then four cents it ought to be.

At any rate, Mr. Voss's request for an opportunity to check up the figures seems sensible and reasonable. If there is any possibility that granting it will lead to a settlement of this whole matter, getting it out of the way so the community's time and energy can be diverted to something else, then we should like to see it granted.

Settlement of the whole matter, on a basis that is fair all around and that will end it, surely is what everybody ought to want.

What's become of that South sea sultan? Is he successfully maintaining his neutrality?

AN INNOCENT MAN TO BE HANGED?

The successive failures of the attempt to save Leo M. Frank of Atlanta from the gallows make it look as though the country were about to look on at the hanging of a man regarding whose guilt there is a tremendous doubt, many levelheaded men close to the scene believing firmly that he is innocent.

That the proof was not strong enough to hang a dog seems to be beyond any question whatever.

C. P. Connolly, himself a former prosecuting attorney and now a magazine writer who was sent to investigate the Frank case from an entirely unbiased viewpoint, has become so thoroughly convinced that Frank is innocent that he is writing to the newspapers of the country earnestly protesting against what he conceives to be a monstrous miscarriage of justice.

He quotes "a distinguished lawyer and a law partner of the man who prosecuted Frank" as saying that "no Jew in modern times has been persecuted as this Jew has been."

For Frank is a Jew, and a Northerner; and these facts seem to be what brought about his conviction—not the flimsy evidence of a dissolute negro, who is a self-confessed criminal; and yet the whole case rests on his testimony.

Mr. Connolly declares—and many have said the same thing before—that the prejudice against Jews and Northerners was such in Atlanta that when Frank was on trial a bitter and insistent public clamor beat upon the jurors, accompanied by threats. "Before the verdict was rendered," says Mr. Connolly, "the mob, breathing vengeance in the very face of the court and jury, let it be known that it would tolerate nothing but a verdict of guilty. 'Innocent or guilty, we will get the damned Jew!' was their cry, heard by numbers of respectable citizens."

When the jury was ready to report its verdict, so great was the fear of the mob that neither Frank nor his attorneys were present. The judge on the bench advised them to keep away. "While the judge was polling the jury, in response to the request of these absent lawyers, the cheers of the mob outside the courtroom so smothered the voices of the jurors that the judge, sitting ten feet away, could not hear the replies. These facts are of record, admitted by the trial judge."

The trial judge himself declared from the bench that he could not make up his mind from the evidence that Frank was guilty. Yet that trial judge refused a new trial, the supreme court of Georgia refused a new trial, and now the justices of the supreme court of the United States one by one are refusing to sign the writ of error needed to give this man another chance.

The whole thing seems so utterly improbable in this day and age that it is hard indeed to realize that a man who probably is innocent, who at least has not been proven guilty beyond a reasonable doubt, is about to be hanged in a civilized state of this civilized nation.

Incidentally, Mexico already has got us skinned to a finish in the matter of ex-presidents.

PEOPLE ARE HONEST.

Kenosha, Wisconsin, which ranks in the armament of the jokesmiths with Oskaloosa, Oshkosh and Ypsilanti, has just been witnessing a very interesting experiment.

Some time ago the receipts of the street car line in that town fell off so that something had to be done to reduce expenses. Somebody on the board of directors with either a high sense of humor or a broad faith in humanity proposed that they lay off the conductors and put passengers on their honor to drop their nickels in a box.

And the company did it. "All day long during the first test," says an account of the experiment, "practical stockholders felt as though they were having their pockets picked by a vandal population. And after wondering for twenty-four hours if anyone would be foolish enough to pay carfare they totalled the day's income and found that it equaled the average previous receipts."

In other words, the people were honest, and they paid their fares though there were no conductors to see that they did it.

Of course they did, and of course they would. People, on the average, are honest. Thieves are the exception, not the rule.

There would be some, of course, in any community, that would eagerly seize the opportunity to steal a free ride. But they are few. Not many more, perhaps, than the conductors miss in a crowded car. And even these, with others in the car, would be ashamed of such petty thievery, and would walk up and deposit their nickels with the rest.

It would not be advisable to do away with conductors. They need the jobs, or they wouldn't be holding them; and besides the public is not ready to do away with conductors, who are useful for making change, announcing the street corners and giving information.

But the average man is honest, and asks and gives only a square deal. Any imaginable test will prove it.

Wall street got back into action just in the nick of time. A little while more and prosperity and confidence would have been in full swing without the exchange.

CHRISTENDOM TODAY AND TOMORROW.

Henry Watterson in the Louisville Courier-Journal.

Peace talk has rarely been popular. War talk always is, or seems to be. The saber-rattlers and the armor-plate makers form a noisy claque, Bellona the star upon the stage. When there is not an organized interest to drain the treasury, there is a party to play for advantage, or some demagogue to exploit himself. Lo, Senator Lodge with his haste to jump all over President Wilson anent Turkey, and Representative Gardiner with his inquiry into "the state of the national defense."

Where are we menaced? From what quarter may we look for invasion? With the great nations all engaged and presently to be exhausted, who shall invent a "war scare" that will hold water? And, with the implements of murder changing from time to time, what guarantee that those we buy today may not be obsolete and valueless tomorrow?

Says the eminent David Starr Jordan:

> "War is not a spontaneous thing. It requires long preparation and carefully hatched plans. It is brought about largely through the influence in the national councils of representatives of the saber-rattlers and war traders.
> "During my recent tour of Europe I found no one who wanted war except these professional war mongers. The kaiser did not want it; that I know. It was the ill advice of the ring with which he was surrounded. Germany's business men did not want it. Most certainly big business of Europe counseled against it.
> "But the armament manufacturers—in England and France, as well as in Germany—get fabulously rich and pay dividends on war. They spend a hundred times more for bribery to bring on a clash than it takes to build a peace palace."

The case against war as made by Dr. Jordan embraces a series of convincing arguments addressed to the interest and reason of man. But we shall never get rid of the war lords and the saber-rattlers, the corrupt armor-plate syndicates and the self-exploiting patriots, until we put an end to the system of which they make themselves the leaders, each nation a bully with a chip on its shoulder, each people a flock of sheep to be driven to slaughter. The Chriscendom that pretends to be a Christian is not a follower of the Christ, but a vainglorious egotist, deluding itself with virtuous homilies and displays of fashionable piety. It is a pharisee and a hypocrite. It is not, and it never has been, a Christian.

Tramp, tramp, tramp, the boys are marching; marching and fighting; food for powder; brave lads from Severn and from Clyde, from the Rhine and the Rhone; little red-legged French boys out of the sweet Provence country, and beardless, oval-faced German boys from Bingen and Stuttgart; woodchoppers from the Black Forest and sail-makers from Belfast and Brittany—what's imperial Hecuba to them that they should fight for her, bleed for her, die for her? They, these noble youngsters, buried deep under Russian snows and lost in the trenches of Flanders, who is to father the coming generations? Our civilization has crumbled beneath our very feet, before our very eyes. There is nothing left but Christianity, if that be left. If it be not, what hope for humankind? Has this blight come as a curse, or as a revelation? It was not till Israel was crushed that Israel hoped. The land had run rivers of blood. When the people were not worshiping Moloch in the vale of Gehenna they were following Yahweh on the march of invasion and conquest. Then vanquishment, desolation, despair, and, rising above the wreckage of the living and the ashes of the dead, the dream of a golden time; the vision of the Shepherd-prophet "when the mountains shall drop sweet wine and all the hills shall melt, the plowman shall overtake the reaper and the treader of grapes him that soweth seed." May not these appalling cataclysms be the precursor of the realization forecast by the men of old? May not Europe suffer and see, even as Judea, and come forth in rags, to know at last that in strife there is neither glory, nor gain; in war only the wrath of God and the ruin of the world? Yet, how long, oh Lord, how long? When shall the lesson end, the travail cease? Hear Thou, dear God, this day this prayer; make the nations sanc again; drive out the devils from the hearts of men; give us the eyes to see the light, the minds to know the truth; give us the grace that passeth understanding—peace on earth as it is in Heaven—peace—

Peace in the quiet dales,
Made rankly fertile by the blood of men,
Peace in the woodland, and the lonely glen,
Peace in the peopled vales!

Peace in the crowded town,
Peace in a thousand fields of waving grain,
Peace in the highway and the flowery lane,
Peace on the wind-swept down!

Peace on the farthest seas,
Peace in our sheltered bays and ample streams,
Peace wheresoe'ver our starry garland gleams,
And Peace in every breeze!

Peace on the whirring marts,
Peace where the scholar thinks, the hunter roams,
Peace, God of Peace! peace, peace, in all our homes,
And peace in all our hearts!

Across the Sea.

Across the sea I heard the groans
  Of nations in the intervals
Of wind and wave. Their blood and bones
Cried out in torture, crushed by thrones,
  And sucked by priestly cannibals.

I dreamed of Freedom slowly gained
  By martyr meekness, patience, faith,
And lo! an athlete grimly stained
With corded muscles battle-strained,
  Shouting it on the fields of death.

I turn me, awe-struck, from the sight,
  Among the clamoring thousands mute;
I only know that God is right,
And that the children of the light
  Shall tread the darkness under foot.

I know the pent fire heaves its crust,
  That sultry skies the bolt will form
To smite them clear; that Nature must
The balance of her powers adjust,
  Though with the earthquake and the storm.

God reigns, and let the earth rejoice!
  I bow before His sterner plan,
Dumb are the organs of my choice;
He speaks in battle's stormy voice,
  His praise is in the wrath of man.

Yet, surely as He lives, the day
  Of peace He promised shall be ours,
To fold the flags of war, and lay
Its sword and spear to rust away,
  And sow its ghastly fields with flowers.

The Futurist Painter.

Henry W. Nevinson in the Atlantic: Painting to the Futurist is no pretty and soothing art to be hung in a room and discussed at discreet dinner-parties. Like all Futurist work, it is inspired by adventure and discovery. It is a violent stimulant, to be taken only now and then, deadly as whisky, if too often repeated; but never an opiate, never narcotic with sleep. The Futurist destroys everything soft, gracious, effeminate, subdued, and moribund. He works with brilliant colors and sharp angles. He strives to find plastic equivalents for all appearances of our actual life—its noises, smells, music halls, factories, trains and harbors. He tells us that noises and smells may be in form concave or convex, triangular, elliptical, oblong, conical, spherical, spiral; and as for their color, he says the smell of machinery and sport, for instance, is nearly always red; the smell of restaurants and cafes in silvery, yellow, or violet; the smell of animals yellow or blue. Let us not laugh too soon. Noises and smells are only states of mind, and we talk of jealousy (which is a state of mind) as green or green-eyed; in anger we say we "see red;" in melancholy we "have the blues."

Across the Sea.

Across the sea I heard the groans

The Belgium That Was

William Joseph Showalter in the National Geographic Magazine.

The Belgium of today has an area less than one-fourth as great as Mississippi, yet at the outbreak of the present war its population was four times as large as that of Mississippi. Twenty-two and a half countries like Belgium could be tucked away in a state like Texas, and their aggregate population would be more than that of the United States and Germany together.

Julius Caesar himself bears early witness to the bravery of the Belgians, who, he says, were braver than the Aquitani or the Celts, due to the fact that they were nearer the Germans, with whom they were constantly at war.

With Belgium's 11,373 square miles of territory, smaller than Massachusetts and Connecticut, with a population of 7,679,000, there lived at the outbreak of the war, nearly 3,000,000 French speaking Walloons who cannot talk with a like number of their compatriots Flemish-speaking Flemings. In their habits of mind and methods of gaining a livelihood they differ as widely as the English and the French, but the bond of religion has bound them together for years, with never a fratricidal war in their modern history.

The Belgian Constitution, framed in 1830 by a convention of Belgians, guarantees freedom of conscience, of education and of press, and the right of peaceful assemblage. The kingship is filled by succession. There is a cabinet, a senate and a house of representatives. A senator's pay, remarkable as it may seem, is a free pass on the railroads without a dollar of actual salary. A representative gets a pass and $800 a year.

The suffrage laws are interesting. A Belgian gets one vote when he reaches the age of 25. If, at the age of 35 he pays $1 in taxes and is married or a widower with legitimate children, he gets a second vote. If he pays a certain amount of taxes or holds a university diploma he is entitled to two additional votes—except that in no case may a man cast more than three votes. In selecting representatives, parties and not men are voted for, and each party gets a representation in proportion to its voting strength.

The Belgians are fine farmers. They grew, last year, thirty-seven bushels of wheat to the acre, where we grew fifteen; fifty bushels of barley to our twenty-four; 312 bushels of potatoes to our ninety.

Belgium has been a land of low wages and cheap living. Many of the people who fashion our exquisite Belgian laces get only $5 a week, and the average wage earner's income is only about $165 a year. But with all that, the Belgian housewife, an artist in making a little go a long way, has fed her family well and clothed them comfortably.

There were no milkmen in Belgium, for the women drove the dog carts that constituted the nation's milk wagons. Every milk can had to shine, every dog had to have harness to fit him, a bowl for his drinking water and a carpet or bag to lie down on when tired. No dog in Belgium, except those of the rich, escaped bearing his share of the family burdens.

The people of Belgium were the world's greatest beer drinkers before the outbreak of the present war, with 48.8 gallons per capita per year, as compared with the German consumption of 26.3 gallons. On the other hand the Belgian used only one gallon of wine as compared with the Frenchman's thirty-four.

Railroad fares were very low. A double daily journey of twenty miles cost 37½ cents a week; of forty-four miles, 50 cents a week. Every person entering a railroad station had to pay 1 cent for that privilege, and the revenue therefor amounted to $50,000 a year.

Belgium's foreign business was large. Those wonderful little engines that did such good work at Panama were made at Liege, and an example of Belgium's exports. The country's foreign trade was greater than that of all South America together. If the United States imported as much per capita as Belgium, its imports would total $12,000,000,000 a year; if we exported as much per capita our export business would amount to $10,000,000,000 a year.

If Your Boy Was a Soldier

Samuel G. Blythe in the Saturday Evening Post: You live on a certain street, in a certain place, and war comes. Your neighbor's son, John, enlists; and so do your own son and the son of the man two houses beyond yours. They go to war. Presently they bring back your son with a leg gone or an arm. Presently a brief "Your son has fallen!" comes from the war office to your neighbor. Presently in your newspaper there starts from a long list of dead or wounded the name of the pride of the house two doors beyond. You get that. It is real, vital, personal.

Or these boys march up the street carrying guns, arrayed for war. Some of the enemy appear from around a corner. Firing begins. There is fierce fighting. When it is over these boys of yours are lying in the road or in the adjoining field, some dead, some wounded—and you know what that means.

From hundreds of other streets like yours hundreds of sons of other mothers march away. They go to battle. You read uncomprehendingly in the official dispatches that the center advanced or the left wing was repulsed. You read that there was a sharp engagement at some place, a daring assault at another; that the troops are intrenched; that the great flanking movement has succeeded or has failed. You read these things, and then what? Nothing. It means little.

The battle line is 200 miles long; but on every foot of it there is the son John of somebody's neighbor, the husband of the woman up the street, the child of some mother—millions of them; and they are being wounded and killed because it is their part to be wounded and killed in order that a certain contention may prevail over a certain other contention—both of which will seem absurd in a few years—or that a certain ambition may surmount a certain other ambition, neither of which ambitions will be reckoned, in the long run, as worthy of civilized consideration. We have reverted to the primitive. The humane in us has been subjugated by the necessities of the state.

The Reverse Meaning.

Kansas City Star: Boastfully it has been estimated that the defeat in Montana of a workmen's compensation bill has saved the Anaconda Copper company alone $500,000 yearly.

The reverse meaning of that is that the lack of a workmen's compensation act costs the workers in that one Montana industry $500,000 yearly.

Is industry fairly conducted, is it conducted safely for society, when such a toll of money loss is thrown on wage-earners in addition to the toll of death and injury which the money loss indicates?

A Dangerous Agitation

New Haven Journal-Courier.

Slowly but surely a war spirit is shaping itself in this country. Indications of it are multiplying fast, not that anything definite is threatening us, or that there is the remotest fear of our country being invaded, but that the madness of the European world is sure to manifest itself in some equally mad venture against the United States and its guardianship of North and South America. Obviously the agitation will have to be met in the halls of legislation, and an occasion may arise where a prayer Sunday will have to be called, not to invoke the Almighty for peace, but to invoke a sane and sober speech in controversy. The most distinguished advocate for preparation for the fate that threatens us is Col. Roosevelt. Broadly speaking, he bases his counsel of preparation upon the low and irregular moralities disclosed in international life. He says in another of his papers in the columns of the New York Times: "The behavior of the great military empires of the Old World, in reference to their treaty obligations and their moral obligations, towards countries such as Belgium, Finland and Korea, shows that it would be utter folly for us in any grave crisis to trust to anything save our own preparedness and resolution for our safety." Congressman Gardner of Massachusetts has already, in two inflammatory speeches, delivered in the Federal house of representatives, given voice to like sentiments. Vice President Marshall is the latest recruit in the army of virtual mobilization. He is for a big army and navy and for an extensive system of coast fortifications. Prof. Roland G. Usher, the author of pan-Germanism, tells us that the winner of the great European war will be in a position to cut off our trade with South America, a trade whose possibilities we are just beginning to realize. To resist such an emergency we must turn our attention to the manufacture of instruments of protection and the development of a merchant marine.

Gradually the propaganda of preparation is spreading over the country, and with the national nerves in the condition they are now in it is not at all unlikely that it may make itself felt in the halls of legislation. The German ambassador, Count von Bernstorff, struck a very sensitive nerve when he asserted that the invasion of Canada would not be a violation of the Monroe doctrine. No one for a moment believed that Germany intended to strike at the Canadian section of this continent, and few took the trouble to discuss the question of the Monroe doctrine involved in his statement. And yet he learned in a second or more that the mere suggestion of what Germany might have the right to do in the premises was offensive to this country. So the halls of legislation will need the counsel of the coolest heads in and out of congress if we are not going to plunge this country into colossal expenditures for what is at the present moment a fanciful grievance. It may be that the lack of preparation in this country for war ought to be discussed; it probably will be, but it will be a grievous error if it is discussed in other than a lofty spirit of service to mankind. It may be, as Sir William Osler says, that in event of the defeat of the allies by Germany this country will have to become the sole guardian of popular government in the world. Col. Roosevelt is right when he speaks of the low and irregular morals today in international life, but it is yet to be demonstrated that even vicious political morals in other countries demand of us an attitude which might open itself at any time to a like interpretation.

At any rate there is not the slightest necessity for rushing into this preparation business. The situation will be much clearer when the war has been terminated and the hate squeezed out of it. It may, and probably will, happen by that time the American navy will be the biggest and strongest in the world, and our wealth the greatest factor in the world in considering such steps as fate may have in store for us. Every day the war is continued on European soil postpones the danger of any nation heckling this country, or arranging for any invasion of any part of this section of the world. To agitate, therefore, at this time the question of dangers is unnecessary, while it tends to give an additional irritation to a situation in itself already charged with dynamite.

Death By Machinery

From "The Human Slaughter House," by Wilhelm Lamszus: What a wonderful bit of mechanism this Mauser rifle is. How wretchedly badly off they were in 1870-71, with their rattletrap needle guns. A single bullet at a time and after you had fired it came the long, complicated business of reloading. • • •

And yet the war accounted for well over a hundred thousand French and German dead.

If every man of those millions they are putting into the field against the enemy fires about a hundred cartridges and there is one bull's eye in every hundred that works out at • • • that amounts to • • • and I can't help smiling at this sum in arithmetic • • • then the answer is no one at all. That is a merry sum.

What a marvel of mechanism one of those machine guns is. You see it buzzing and it spurts out bullets thicker than rain can fall. And the automaton licks its lips hungrily and sweeps from right to left. It is jointed on the middle of the body, and sprays the whole firing line with one sweep. It is as though Death had scrapped his scythe for old iron; as if nowadays he had graduated as expert mechanic. They have ceased to mow corn by hand nowadays. By this time of day even the sheaves are gathered up by machinery. And so they will have to shovel our millions of bodies underground with burying machines.

Curse! I cannot get rid of this hideous thought. It is always cropping up again. We have passed on from retail to wholesale methods of business. In place of the loom at which you sat working with your own hands they have now set the great power looms in motion. Once it was a knightly death; now it is a death by machinery.

• • •

Just as they turn out buttons and pins by wholesale methods of production, so they are now turning out the crippled and the dead by machinery.

The Hydraulic Ram.

Indianapolis News: She was a Delaware county girl. She lived near Gaston and was in Muncie with her escort, watching a piece of engineering work that was being done about a new bridge. Every once in a while there came a peculiar grinding noise whose origin she could not locate.

"Jim, what makes that noise?" she asked.

"Oh, that's the hydraulic ram."

"For the land's sake! Where do they keep him?"

Keeping Up With Minnesota Editors

Press Comments on Current Events.

Qualified.

Crosby Crucible: Minnesota will continue to have one Democratic representative in the halls of congress, contrary to the hopes of the state Republican leaders. Instead of losing at both ends of the game, as had been predicted by the over-zealous Republicans, the Democrats have kept the seat in congress and elected a governor.

Perhaps So!

Anoka Union: The Union is impressed with the thought that there are a great many voters in this state who were convinced that the Republican party had no candidate for governor this year.

Why, of Course!

Le Sueur News: No one has yet accused the Democratic party as being responsible for the war in Europe, but we suppose that it is.

Oh, Just Dry, Anyway!

Carlton Vidette: Editor Farley Dare, representative-elect, has the happy faculty of getting comfort out of any situation. He is a "temperance man," with the accent on both words, but he opines in the Pilot that "Regardless of the outcome of the fight for temperance in this state, Northern Minnesota will prosper as long as the cows do not go dry." Pretty good logic, say we.

Just Think of It!

Montevideo Leader: Think of the loss that humanity has already suffered and will suffer by the destruction of property and the paralysis of business caused by the war in Europe. Then think of the loss to the nations and to the world that comes with the killing and maiming of so many thousands and hundreds of thousands and millions even of able-bodied men—the best blood and brawn of those great nations. Then think of the untold suffering of the wives and children of all these brave men who, without homes or means, must pay their share of the mighty costs of this needless war. Think of the agony and suffering, the cruel starvation and torture that falls upon the innocent and helpless and justify, if you can, the men and policies that began the war and are bound to carry it on at such staggering cost. Why do not the men who are responsible get into the game themselves and fight it out among themselves, instead of staying where they are safe and driving so many thousands of brave men to their death?

Many Can Be Spared.

Mora Times: We hope the next legislature does some real eliminating of superfluous state jobs. There are a lot of people on the state payroll who are not earning the salary they are drawing and the quicker the legislature gets rid of them and puts the state's business upon a more economical basis the better it will be for the taxpayers.

Duluth Has Them.

Red Wing Republican: An effort is being made by the United States bureau of education to obtain a sufficient appropriation from congress to supply every school in the country with a garden where the children can be taught the rudiments of agriculture. This is a step in the right direction, but the teaching must be efficient and practical if the experiment is to be successful.

Just a Moment

Daily Strength and Cheer.

Compiled by John G. Quinlus, the Sunshine Man.

I live for those who love me,
  Whose hearts are kind and true,
For the heaven that smiles above me,
  And awaits my spirit, too;
For the human ties that bind me,
For the task by God assigned me,
For the bright hopes left behind me,
  And the good that I can do.

I live to learn their story,
  Who suffered for my sake,
To emulate their glory,
  And follow in their wake—
Bards, poets, martyrs, sages,
The noble of all ages,
Whose deeds crown history's pages,
  And time's great volume make.

I live to hold communion
  With all that is divine;
To know there is a union
  'Twixt nature's God and mine;
To grow wiser from conviction to profit by affliction,
Reap truths from fields of fiction,
  And fulfill each bright design.

I live for those who love me,
  For the hearts that love me true,
For the heaven that smiles above me,
  And awaits my spirit, too;
For the right that lacks assistance,
For the wrong that needs resistance,
For the future in the distance,
  And the good that I can do.

A Crushing Indictment.

H. L. Mencken in the Atlantic: Nietzsche accused the Germans of stupidity, superstitiousness and silliness; of a chronic weakness for dodging issues, a fatuous "barnyard" and "green-grazing" contentment; of yielding supinely to the commands and exactions of a clumsy and unintelligent government; of degrading education to the low level of mere cramming and examination-passing; of a congenital inability to understand and absorb the culture of other peoples, and particularly the culture of the French; of a boorish bumptiousness and an ignorant, ostrich-like complacency; of a systematic hostility to men of genius, whether in art, science, or philosophy (so that Schopenhauer, dead in 1860, remained "the last German who was a European event"); of a slavish devotion to "the two great European narcotics, alcohol and Christianity"; of a profound beeriness, a spiritual dyspepsia, a puerile mysticism, an old-womanish pettiness, an ineradicable liking for "the obscure, evolving, crepuscular, damp and shrouded." The German soul, he argued, was full of "caves, hiding places and dungeons." German taste was the negation, the antithesis, the torture and death of taste. German music was at once intoxicating and stupefying, "a first- rate nerve-destroyer, doubly dangerous to a people given to drinking." German wit had no existence. German cookery was "a return to nature, that is, to cannibalism." Germany itself was "the flatland of Europe."

Congratulations.

Life: Patient—Say, doctor, that new serum treatment of yours has given me an extraordinary high fever.

Doctor—My hearty congratulations.

Patient—What for?

Doctor—Why, my dear sir, that fever indicates the presence of several other diseases which we didn't even suspect.

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of this date, 1894.

•••Judge Nelson, in the United States circuit court at St. Paul, yesterday appointed Maurice Auerbach receiver of the West Duluth Light & Power company, on petition of the Merchants National bank of St. Paul. The company has liabilities of about $40,000, in addition to 6 per cent bonds secured by a mortgage to the Central Trust company in the sum of $256,000.

•••There is an election contest on in Cook county. Charles A. Johnson, Republican candidate for county treasurer, was declared elected by twelve votes. Christopher Murphy, his opponent, asserts that twenty illegal votes were cast.

•••Mrs. George Dinwoodie has returned from Hudson, Wis., and intends to leave next week for Virginia to spend the winter with her sister, hoping to completely restore her impaired health. Mr. Dinwoodie was sent to St. Luke's hospital yesterday, having symptoms of typhoid fever.

•••The newsboys had their annual Thanksgiving dinner at the Bethel last evening under the patronage of Rev. C. C. Salter. The boys met in the press room of The Herald and, under the direction of A. C. Pearson, The Herald's circulator, were lined up in double rank and marched to the Bethel. Young Willie Oreckovsky, alias the "Mascot," headed the procession, which extended about a mile in length.

•••Union Thanksgiving services were held at the Pilgrim Congregational church, participated in by the First Methodist, First Presbyterian, First Baptist and Pilgrim Congregational churches. Those who took part in the service were Rev. W. W. Dawley of the First Baptist church, Rev. C. C. Salter of the Bethel and Rev. J. M. Thoburn, Jr., of the First Methodist church, the latter delivering the sermon.

•••The Pleasure Seekers gave their first party last evening at the Masonic temple. The guests were recived by E. E. Johnston, T. J. Row, G. E. Alstead and A. L. Eger. The floor was in charge of F. A. Eger and E. G. Cook. The invitation committee consisted of W. D. Hammond, P. S. Kaufman, A. L. Eger and A. E. Pfremmer.

•••Silver lodge No. 200, I. O. O. F., has elected the following officers: H. A. Hamblin, P. G.; E. D. Dyer, N. G.; H Elliott, V. G.; George Blackwood, recording secretary; F. E. Childs, financial secretary; H. Yosefowitz, treasurer.

Wisdom From Thomas.

New York Times: The delightful look on young Thomas' face betrayed that he had a few questions to ask. As soon as Mrs. Boardman had gone, he asked them.

"Mother," said he, "do you like to kiss Mrs. Boardman?"

"No, dear."

"Do you think Mrs. Boardman likes to kiss you?"

"I don't think she does."

"Then why do you and she always kiss when you meet?"

"I don't know, dear."

"Don't you think Mrs. Boardman would rather you didn't kiss her?"

"I have no doubt of it."

"Wouldn't you rather Mrs. Boardman didn't kiss you?"

"Oh, very much rather."

"Then," said young Thomas, conclusively, "that must be why."

Old John Barleycorn.

Detroit News: The French soldier is denied absinthe, the Russian, vodka; the Jap, saki; bitter beer and Scotch whisky have been taken away from the English soldier, and the kaiser has issued his order. The wine mess was abolished in the American navy.

All of which brings back the lines of Kipling in "Ghunga Din:"

You may talk o' gin an' beer.
When you're quartered safe out 'ere.
  And sent to penny-fight or Aldershot it,
But when it comes to slaughter,
You'll do your work on water,
  An' lick the bloomin' boots of 'im that's got it.

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer though those need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

Mrs. Edwin Williams kindly sends in a copy of "Two Little Girls in Blue," which has already been published. "A Subscriber" writes in a request but fails to sign his name. James P. Smith of Hibbing sends in $1 for the Belgian fund and asks for a copy of the poem beginning with the words, "When a youngster at home, I vowed I'd ne'er roam, and oft of that vow I have thought."

An unknown subscriber kindly sends in the words of "Lorena," but we disposed of "Lorena" some time ago.

ONE VIEW OF IT.

To the Editor of The Herald:
A city there is on the side of a hill,
A city of goodly size;
Whose safety man has gotten a bug,
A bug to motorize.
The man of utility too has a craze,
A craze a unit to build.
With fire apparatus, and units, and watts,
The minds of these men are filled.

To run an auto it needs a crank,
A crank to make it start;
So why not use the safety man?
He surely can fill the part.
Now some may ask "what is a watt?"
Why watts from units come.
Connect the wires to the wheels in their heads,
And listen to them hum.

A sight to see at the time of a fire,
—When automobiles go bump—
Is the faithful horses tried and true,
Come down the street on the jump.
And a scene to make the people laugh
—When home from fighting fires,
The horses come with an automobile,
Wrecked from punctured tires.

The people all of a unit are,
A unit that something is wrong;
When election day comes round in the spring,
United 'll be their song;
They'll motorize the safety man,
And man with the watts on the brain,
And when the "battle of ballots" is o'er
You'll find them "'mong the slain."

THINKS YOUNG GIRLS DRESS IMMODESTLY.

To the Editor of The Herald:
Can't something be done with the young girls who dress so immodestly?

I have been watching some of the girls since reading the article in The Herald recently regarding the dress of the school girls in the city, and I find that the girls of from 16 to 20 are not only right in fashion, but are in reality setting the styles for Duluth. They are the first to buy the latest things placed on sale.

Probably no objection should be made during the summer months, but surely it is senseless to wear such clothes in the winter. I have seen these girls dressed in low-neck waists, with silk stockings and in many instances slippers. What's the matter with their mothers?

I don't mind seeing the girls dress in fashion, but they are simply overdoing it. My daughters never were allowed to wear such clothes. And another thing, my daughters would never use paint and powder on their faces. And I have seen them on Duluth girls many times.

Can't something be done? It is really disgusting to see our own daughters dressed up like actresses or women of the streets. Sometimes I can hardly tell them apart.

A WELL-MEANING MOTHER.

THE DAY IS DONE.

To the Editor of The Herald:
The day is done, and the darkness
Falls from the wings of night,
As a feather is wafted downward
From an eagle in its flight.

I see the lights of the village
Gleam through the rain and mist,
And a feeling of sadness comes o'er me,
That my soul cannot resist.

A feeling of sadness and longing,
That is not akin to pain,
And resembles sorrow only
As the mist resembles the rain.

Come read to me some poem,
Some simple and heartfelt lay,
That shall soothe this restless feeling
And banish the thoughts of day.

Not from the grand old masters,
Not from the bards sublime,
Whose distant footsteps echo
Through the corridors of time;

For, like the strains of martial music,
Their mighty thoughts suggest
Life's endless toil and endeavor,
And tonight I long for rest.

Read from some humbler poet,
Whose songs gushed from his heart,
As showers from the clouds of summer
Or tears from the eyelids start.

Who through long days of labor,
And nights devoid of ease,
Still heard in soul the music
Of wonderful melodies.

Such songs have power to quiet
The restless pulse of care,
And come like the benediction
That follows after prayer.

Then read from the treasured volume
The poem of thy choice,
And lend to the rhyme of the poet
The beauty of thy voice.

And the night shall be filled with music
And the cares, that infest the day,
Shall fold their tents like the Arabs,
And as silently stead away.

—Henry W. Longfellow.

I saw in "The Herald" the request for this piece. I am sending this hoping it is the right one. Yours truly,

JIM BLAKE.

To the Editor of The Herald:
Here is the poem entitled "Jim Blake," that was asked for in Tuesday nights Open Court. FRANK LONG.

Duluth, Nov. 28.

"Jim Blake, your wife is dying,"
Came over the wires tonight;
It was brought late into the office
By a boy most dead with fright.
He came rushing into the office,
His face was pale and white
Saying: "Take this to dad in his engine,
For mother is dying tonight."

Jim Blake was our oldest driver
And had charge of the midnight express;
He'd handled the throttle lever
The most of his life, I guess,
And when I found that this message
Was for my comrade Jim,
I made no delay, but hastened away,
And took the message to him.

In less than half an hour
An answer came back from him:
"Tell wife I'll meet her at midnight;
Tell her to pray for Jim."
I left his son in the office
The message I took to his wife,
And I found the dying woman
With scarce a breath of life.

When I entered her chamber
She took me at first for Jim
But fell back nigh exhausted,
When she saw it was not him.

She turned her eyes toward Heaven,
Her face was pale and white,
And said in a dying whisper:
"God! Speed the express tonight."

O'er hill, o'er dale and mountain
Came rushing the midnight train,
Her whistling and her screeching
Resisting the mightiest strain.
While Jim sits there at the lever
That's guiding its dangerous flight,
While a voice speaks out into the darkness:
"God! Speed the express tonight."

In less than half an hour
The train will be along;
Hello! There comes a signal
Stating there's something wrong.
It tells of a sad disaster;
The train is in the ditch,
And the engineer lies dying;
Derailed by an open switch.

But still another message,
From the engineer, I guess:
"Tell wife I'll meet her in Heaven;
Don't wait for the midnight express."

COULD IT BE "WRONGED FROM THE START?" NO!

THE NEW ARMORY.

To the Editor of The Herald:
Referring to the communication of another Lakesider in the Open Court of your paper Nov. 25, he states that to build a new armory is another needless expense to the taxpayers of the city. In my opinion it is not, as the present armory we have is not adequate for military maneuvers. It is better adapted for a market hall, or if the city builds a unit electric plant at West Duluth, it could be used for a storeroom for electrical supplies. In fact it could be the general storehouse for the different departments of the city, or a garage for the city employes, etc. Perhaps Mr. Lakesider does not believe in having a militia or a standing army and navy. I think we will have to till the whole world says to discard or destroy all war implements so as to have peace, as of late it is proven that treaties don't have any effect. There is no better exercise, I should judge, for young men to build up their physical strength than drilling. Of course there are other exercises with which the young men can develop their muscles, but some prefer the military drill, and if they should be called on, they would be ready for duty and not a good target for other trained men if ever there was an invasion. There is nothing like being prepared under the circumstances of the present time. Furthermore, we have got to have a militia in case of disturbances. The militia here have proven this, one instance being the Baudette forest fire, and other troubles which have been silenced. As to our navy, which we have got to have to protect commerce, pirating, etc., I believe in peace and good will to all men, but it seems some do not. Now is the time to build the armory, as it seems as though we have got to have it, and it will give employment to men. Mr. Lakesider goes on to say we are paying 8 cents for light, with no immediate prospects of relief. We have been offered a lower rate of 6 cents. Why not take it? We have a competitive electric light plant in sight called unit. Yours truly,

T. A. HOLDER.

CONVICT MAN BUT URGE LENIENCY

Jury Finds Oscar W. Carlson Guilty of Serious Charge.

After nearly twenty-seven hours' deliberation, a jury in Judge Fesler's division of the district court Saturday afternoon convicted Oscar W. Carlson on a charge of keeping a house of ill-fame. The verdict carried with it an urgent recommendation for leniency by the court. The jury took the case at 12:12 o'clock Friday afternoon, but did not reach an agreement until 2:55 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Carlson was charged with having conducted the Velvidere hotel, 1029 West Michigan street, as a house of ill-fame between July 25 and Aug. 4. Two women who were arrested in a raid upon his place and charged with being inmates of a disorderly house, forfeited their bail when their cases were called for trial in police court. Carlson, who was arrested at the same time, charged with keeping an unlicensed drinking place, paid a fine of $100. He was afterward indicted on the other charge.

The statute under which Carlson was convicted makes the crime with which he is charged a felony, punishable by a penitentiary sentence or fine or both.

HEALTH TALKS

By William Brady, M.D.

Before You Go Away for Your Health

THREE things must be carefully considered by the invalid who is planning to change his climate for the sake of health. Particularly must these things be considered by the individual who has, or fears he has tuberculosis.

Some of the tragedies following upon hasty and ill-advised journeys to distant places in search of health-giving air could be prevented if chronic invalids would but realize that an enthusiastic friend who "has been there" is after all not so reliable an authority to consult as is a physician who has studied the matter from a practical medical standpoint.

Sometimes we think the sanguine or hopeful temperament of the tuberculosis patient is really a detriment instead of a blessing. Early, in the incipient stage, when the signs and symptoms are so slight that even the doctor is placed at considerable trouble to make a definite diagnosis, the patient resists all importunities to leave his indoor work and get out in the open. He or she assumes that it is only a "bad cold" or a "run down condition," and refuses to listen to the pleading of doctor or friend. Then months later when the disease has become active and the patient is losing ground steadily, despite all manner of home care, there is a sudden decision to send the patient off to some distant resort, without the doctor's advice, yes, contrary to his advice. This is folly, desperation, tragedy. But enough of that.

Three Important Details.

Before traveling to a strange land the invalid should first be sure the same benefit cannot be obtained right in his own home or dooryard or at least within convenient reach of home. For tuberculosis, at least, this is possible in many places.

Next, he must take into consideration, or his friends and relatives must, that homesickness is a terribly severe handicap to many invalids for weeks after they arrive at a health resort.

Finally, and most important of all, the tuberculosis patient going away to seek the benefit of another climate must be provided with money sufficient to pay his way for at least ten months.

Questions and Answers.

J. A. L. asks: 1. Are migraine tablets (used for headache) bad for the heart? 2. Do "Make Man Tablets," said to be a nerve and blood builder, contain injurious drugs? 3. Is there a cure for tuberculous glands other than operation?

REPLY.

1. Most migraine tablets contain acetanilide, phenacetin or some similar coal tar derivative which depresses the heart. Unless you are sure your heart will stand it, such medicine is dangerous, not rarely fatal. 2. The stuff consists essentially of these drugs: Strychnin, aloes, arsenic, iron, potassium sulphate. Figure it out for yourself. 3. The surgeons who formerly operated on tuberculous glands in the neck are now treating them by non-operative measures with more satisfactory results in most cases.

Miss H. S. M. inquires: Will you please tell me a cure for red nose. In cold weather my nose is always red. It gets cold and when I go where it is warm my nose gets red.

REPLY.

Hypertrophy or thickening of the turbinate bodies in the nasal passages is a common cause of a red nose in young people. General lack of tone in the circulation is another. Find out about the turbinate bodies, and take a tepid or cool sponge or plunge bath once a day. Wear light weight woolen knitted underclothes, with light weight woolen or silk stockings. Take the breathing exercises described in this column Sept. 23.

S. T. L. starts off delightfully: I read your Health Talks with the greatest interest and enjoy them very much as they are so instructive. Please state as soon as possible the exact remedy for a breaking out on the forehead.

REPLY.

Alas, S. T. L., we must refer you to the little paragraph at the foot of this ungrateful column where you are told what we do NOT attempt. Your individual breaking out does not concern the public health, but the general fifty-six and, adding the four range members, brings the total up to sixty-five. Then he says he has pledges from H. O. Bjorge of Lake Park, Knut Wefald of Hawley and Spencer J. Searles of Carlton. This makes sixty-three, and in addition two more whose names are unrevealed are ready to bring the total up to sixty-five. Of course either Mr. Flowers or Mr. Gordon must be mistaken in his estimates of strength. With 130 members to draw from, one cannot have sixty-seven pledged and the other sixty-five. In fact it is generally conceded that there are at least a dozen unpledged and perhaps more and from most reliable sources this seems to be about the situation:

Flowers — Sixty-three actually pledged.

Gordon—Fifty-five actually pledged. This leaves Flowers with three votes to get out of the dozen unpledged and Gordon with eleven to get, so the chances seem to favor Flowers at present, although there is no telling what will be the result provided there is any realignment of forces. In the past, speakership contests have been won and lost half a dozen times before the final vote and this fight seems to be no exception. It will be remembered that when the famous Babcock-Johnson battle was on prior to the 1903 session, each side claimed a victory until shortly before the house was organized. Babcock finally won, but the struggle was perhaps the bitterest one in the history of the state.

Flowers' Strength.

Additional assurance that Mr. Flowers apparently is safe is the fact that he has gained the support of L. C. Spooner of Morris, Charles L. Sawyer of Minneapolis and Frank Minnette of Sauk Center. True none of these men has signed up but all have indicated clearly that they will not stand for Gordon. J. W. Wilson of Minneapolis and C. M. Bendixen of Morgan also probably will be swung into line for the Cleveland man. From this it will be seen that his predictions of victory are at least founded on some tangible facts, while the list given out by Mr. Gordon is admittedly not reliable as to the names of those "definitely pledged." The Anti-Saloon league, however, is making strenuous efforts to turn the tide of battle against Mr. Flowers.

Sawyer for Flowers.

The decision of Charles L. Sawyer to support Mr. Flowers did not come as a surprise. At the "dry" caucus Mr. Sawyer refused to abide by the decision to make Gordon the county option candidate and asked for time to investigate. Since then the Gordon forces have brought great pressure to bear on him to side with them, but he remained neutral until last Friday, when it is said he told Mr. Flowers he would support him. His action is said to be the result of the influence brought to bear by L. C. Spooner. The Morris man has no time for Gordon or his followers and is determined to bring about the defeat of the former lieutenant governor. He and Mr. Sawyer are close personal friends. In this connection it is also said that J. W. Wilson of Minneapolis will ultimately be found in the Flowers camp. It is claimed Mr. Sawyer had been misled as to the Gordon strength, but when Mr. Flowers laid his cards on the table before the Minneapolis man, he realized the situation at a glance.

Republican Conference.

W. E. Verity of Wadena, last president of the now defunct Minnesota League of Republican clubs, was in St. Paul last week working up sentiment in favor of a Republican conference on Dec. 29, at which steps might be taken to reorganize the party along "sane" lines. He met at the Carling's "Downtown" with such old-timers as Joseph Reynolds of Mankato, Dr. F. Reese of St. Cloud, James A. Tawney of Winona, and L. C. Spooner, Morris. The prevailing opinion seemed to be that the party certainly needs reorganization or something of the kind, and Mr. Verity was told to go ahead with his plans. It is understood that he will ask from five to ten Republicans in each county to attend the conference at which the problem of uniting the party for the 1916 campaign will be discussed in detail. Some of the wiser heads do not see how any good can be accomplished by starting any such movement at this time, but they are inclined to let Mr. Verity go ahead with his little scheme and see how it works out.

Mr. Hammond's Plans.

Governor-elect Winfield Scott Hammond was in Minneapolis on Thanksgiving day, dining with Former Governor John Lind. That evening he left for his home in St. James and Saturday night he departed for Washington. He arrives at the capital today and will spend the time between now and the opening of congress on Dec. 7 in closing up his affairs as congressman from the Second Minnesota district. He will remain a few days after the opening, then submit his resignation and return to Minnesota to remain for two years at least. Mr. Hammond will live in St. Paul, probably at one of the hotels or family apartment houses in the Hill district. He is a bachelor and all social affairs probably will be given for him instead of by him. Nothing has been done about appointments. According to state committee leaders no action will be taken in this connection until Mr. Hammond returns about Dec. 15. The only "sure bet" now seems to be that Herman E. Samuelson, old Twin City political writer and head of the campaign press bureau, will be executive clerk.

Of Presidental Size.

Fred B. Lynch, Democratic national committeeman, returned last week from Washington where he has been consulting the national party leaders. He denied emphatically the report that he intends to resign, said that President Wilson undoubtedly will be a candidate to succeed himself, and added that should he not be, the most formidable man for the nomination would be Governor-elect Winfield Scott Hammond of Minnesota. Mr. Lynch said that Mr. Hammond is highly thought of in the East, and although not well known, those familiar with his work in congress say that he is one of the ablest men in that body.

"Hammond is a sure comer politically," said Mr. Lynch, "and if his turn does not come in 1916, it will come later. He is admittedly a big man, big enough for presidential timber and big enough for any job the people may see fit to entrust him with."

The Election Laws.

Revision of the Minnesota election laws probably will be one of the important problems considered by the next legislature.

Three propositions are now discussed:

Amendment of the existing statutes so as to make them intelligible and their meaning easily determined.

Abolishment of the non-partisan system of choosing members of the legislature and county officials.

Complete repeal of the direct primary law and the substitution for it of a properly safeguarded convention system.

It is conceded that the present law is in a chaotic condition. It fills nearly 150 pages and there are many inconsistencies. During the last year the supreme court has been repeatedly called upon to untangle the knots tied by the 1911, 1912 (special session) and 1913 legislatures. This has been done without invalidating the statutes in any part, but it has shown conclusively that there is ample opportunity for amendment in the direction of simplification and clarity of expression. It is likely that if nothing else is accomplished the next legislature will make these imperative changes.

In his letter addressed to the Democratic state central committee at its first meeting in St. Paul, Governor-elect W. S. Hammond called attention to this condition and recommended that something be done to at least reform the phraseology of the statutes concerning elections. Any effort made in this direction by the legislature undoubtedly will have his support.

The Republican View.

Republicans are behind the movement looking towards the abolishment of the non-partisan system. The last campaign convinced the members of that party that without an effective local organization in each county, the Democrats have just as good a show of pulling down the chief plums as they have. The leaders claim that had William E. Lee had the support of partisan candidates for the legislature and for county offices in each county he would have been elected. As it was these minor candidates ran on their own platforms, there was no united action among the Republicans and a Democrat slipped in again.

W. E. Verity of Wadena, last president of the old Minnesota League of Republican Clubs, intends to call a meeting some time next month of G. O. P. leaders to discuss party reorganization. It is said that this is a prelude to a strenuous campaign for the revision of the election laws in the interest of partisanship.

The Democrats loot at the situation from an entirely different viewpoint. However much they may disagree to the theory of non-partisan elections, they realize that the Minnesota system has been to them a blessing in disguise and they will undoubtedly make a bitter fight against any change. In fact, the Democrats in the 1913 senate and house are mainly responsible for the present law, which was put through after a combination of deals which so completely befuddled the Republican leaders that they looked on as if in a trance, while the program of Senators Weis, Coller and Poehler, and Representative Pfaender went through.

Non-Partisan State Ticket.

The Democrats, in fact, would welcome a non-partisan law applied to the state ticket. In Mr. Hammond's letter during the campaign he raised this question:

"We have gone so far with non-partisanship, in the state, why not go farther and let all voters, irrespective of political affiliations, particupate in the primaries?"

So the legislative fight seems to be between the old Repuvlican organization leaders who would eliminate non-partisanship and the Democrats who would extend its application.

Some of the more conservative members of the Republican party, it is admitted, would like to see the entire primary system abolished and a convention system substituted. Of course they realize the impossibility of going back to the old plan of convention organization, but they would have delegates to such a gathering elected at state supervised caucuses. By this means they insist that the will of the people could be determined to better advantage than now, that self-seeking would be reduced to a minimum, and that each party would be able to enunciate a platform upon which all of its candidates could stand instead of having each nominee frame his own declaration of principles and make his own fight unaided by any united political organization.

From past experiences it seems evident, however, that there is little or no danger of any material changes being made in the election laws. While many of the legislators undoubtedly would like to do something radical in this direction, they will be deterred by the thought of the "people back home." While the primary law is concededly not popular in certain political circles, it seems to have made something of a hit with the people and public sentiment, if nothing else, will, it is believed by those well informed as to the situation, prevent the enactment of any drastic amendments to the existing system, at least at the coming session.

CONTEST FOR SPEAKERSHIP SHOWS NO MARKED CHANGE

Flowers Has Sixty-Three Votes Pledged and Gordon Fifty-Five.

Republican Conference to Reorganize Party to Be Held Dec. 29.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—No marked progress has been made by either of the rival candidates for the speakership during the last week. H. H. Flowers of Cleveland still maintains that he has sixty-seven votes "definitely pledged," or one more than enough to elect, while Mr. Gordon claims sixty-five and has been sending out numerous telegrams trying to jar loose some of the strength of the opposition by using the following language: "I have sixty-five votes pledged. Will you be the sixty-sixth?"

The only excitement during the past week was last Friday when Mr. Gordon announced that he had received a telegram from the four members-elect from the Mesaba range country pledging their support to him. The signers were: A. M. Peterson, Coleraine; Samuel C. Scott, Hibbing; John H. Gill, Virginia, and Charles T. Murphy, Aurora.

This, however, did not discourage the Flowers contingent. They said that the only one of these four they had counted on was Murphy and that he evidently had been led into the Gordon camp by the latter's promise to assist the iron range in obtaining the passage of a law making county division easy.

Gordon's Claims.

Despite the showing that has been made to the effect that at least four of the fifty-five on the original Gordon list have not signed pledges and did not authorize the use of their names, the Browns Valley man persists in claiming all of them, including, of course, himself. His own name makes fifty-six and, adding the four range members, brings the total up to sixty-five. Then he says he has pledges from H. O. Bjorge of Lake Park, Knut Wefald of Hawley and Spencer J. Searles of Carlton. This makes sixty-three, and in addition two more whose names are unrevealed are ready to bring the total up to sixty-five. P. O. BUILDING HAS SMALL FIRE

Blaze Does Little Damage; Department Has Run Saturday.

Fire starting in a pile of slabwood in the basement of the government building, Fifth avenue west and First street, caused damage of about $100 early last evening. The department succeeded in extinguishing the flames before any serious damage was done.

The alarm was received shortly after 7 o'clock and practically all the equipment from No. 1 station responded to the call. It was at first thought that the building was threatened because of the heavy smoke.

Saturday night the fire department was called to 224 Lake avenue south and at Sixteenth avenue west and Superior street to extinguish small fires. No damage was done at either place.

YOUNGSTER HAS VISITING HABIT

Disappears Twice in Two Weeks and Visits Neighbors.

For the second time in the last two weeks, Alex Bouchard, 6 years old, disappeared suddenly from his home at 1135 Lake avenue south, only to be found several hours later at the house of a neighbor.

The first time the youngster disappeared, the police were notified, but a careful search of the territory near his home failed to reveal his whereabouts Toward midnight a neighbor called at the home with the boy, saying that he had been at the house all evening.

Early last evening the police received another call asking the police to find the boy, but before the evening was over the parents of the boy again notified the police that he was found at the house of a neighbor.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes —Most Women Can Have.

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician.

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets, you will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter that one's system collects.

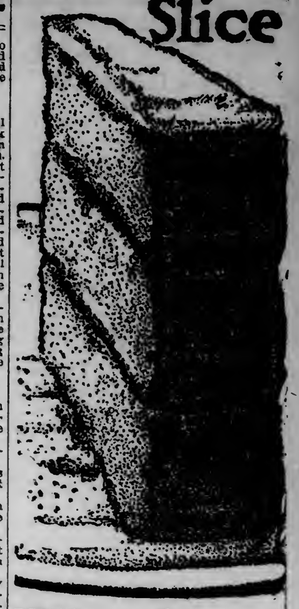

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women as well as men, take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets now and then just to keep in the pink of condition.

INDIANS KILL MAN AND BREAK JAIL.

Pembroke, Ont., Nov. 30.—Robert Coxford, turnkey to the Renfrew county jail here, was murdered and William Brown, the jailer, was seriously injured yesterday during a successful attempt at jail-breaking by two Indians, White Duck and Anthony Jocko, who were being held on a charge of theft. When Coxford entered the jail corridor with some supplies one of the Indians struck him on the head with a chair, fracturing his skull.

Brown was beaten into insensibility with an iron poker. The Indians escaped by the main entrance to the county building.

WAS CLOSE TO CENTURY MARK

Mrs. Mary Kucharski, Aged 94, Was a Duluth Pioneer.

A resident of Duluth for nearly fifty years, Mrs. Mary Kucharski, 94 years old, died suddenly yesterday morning at her home, 417½ East Sixth street.

Although Mrs. Kucharski was close to the century mark, she had been in the best of health up to a few hours before her death yesterday morning. She passed away shortly before noon.

Mrs. Kucharski came to Duluth with her husband nearly fifty years ago. Mr. Kucharski died five year ago at the age of 87. Mrs. Kucharski was prominent as a church worker up to several years ago, when she was compelled to give up her work owing to her advanced age.

She leaves one son, Anton Kucharski, fireman at the city incinerator plant, two daughters and one sister, all of Duluth.

The funeral will be held at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning from the Polish

SAY SCHEME IS LOTTERY

Police Arrest Tailors Who Had a Unique Selling Plan.

With the arrest this morning of D. A. McMurdo and his agent, Floyd Warner, on charges of conducting a lottery, the police claim they have unearthed a scheme which would have drawn several hundred dollars from the pockets of women of Duluth.

Warner was arraigned in police court following his arrest and pleading not guilty, Judge Windom set his trial for tomorrow afternoon. He is being held in default of $100 bail. Chief Troyer is investigating the case further and will not arraign McMurdo until tomorrow morning.

McMurdo, the police claim, is manager of the Acme tailors, with offices in the Glencoe building, and it is alleged that a lottery system has been conducted by him and his agents among the women of West Duluth for several days. At first, according to the police, girls go around and obtain the names of housewives and their addresses. They then leave a number with each housewife. The following day an agent calls and explains a plan whereby the woman can get a tailored suit for $28 at the most and for $1 if she is lucky.

McMurdo admits that the plan is to obtain $1 weekly from each woman and to give away a suit of clothes every week, so that some of the women thus receive a suit for a very small payment. After $28 is paid at the end of twenty-eight weeks, each woman receives a suit. Asked how the winner is determined each week, McMurdo said that there is no set rule.

Both McMurdo and Warner were stopping at one of the principal hotels when arrested. They both claim to be from St. Paul. They were arrested by Detectives Schulte and Irvine.

NINE KILLED, THREE MISSING AND EIGHTEEN WOUNDED, THE TOLL OF THE HUNTING SEASON

With the twenty-day season for shooting big game coming to a close at midnight today, thirty hunting accidents have been reported in the big woods of the Northwest.

Nine of these have been fatal while eighteen are injuries. The other three involve the reported disappearance of three hunters at Burntside lake. Searching parties have failed to locate the hunters, and it is thought that they were drowned.

Recklessness in the use of firearms is responsible for most of the casualties. The mistaking of hunters for deer occurred in several cases and several others were caused by accidental discharge of firearms. Stray bullets have been effective in reaching others. Probably nearly all of the casualities could have been avoided if greater care had been taken .

Open Bids for Hose.
Bids were opened at the office of the works division this morning for 600 feet of 2½-inch hose to be used for street flushing. Three bids were received as follows: Cincinnati Rubber Manufacturing company, $300; United Globe Rubber company, $340; Mechanical Rubber company, $350. No contract was awarded today, as the officials wish to investigate the quality of the hose before making a purchase.

Iron Company Incorporates.
G. H. Wyman of Minneapolis, H. S. Lord of Carlton, and S. A. Jacobson, C. J. Dodge and H. E. Dodge of Moose Lake are incorporators and directors of the Cuyuna Mississippi Iron company, which filed articles of incorporation Saturday afternoon with Register of Deeds Calligan. The company was organized to engage in the mining business, with headquarters in Duluth. The capital stock of the new concern is $15,000, divided into 1,500 shares at $10 each.

Sentenced for Carrying Weapon.
For carrying concealed weapons, Frank Suominen, 24 years old, who was arrested last night by Patrolman J. Johnson, was this morning given a straight 30-day sentence on the work farm. Suominen was carrying a loaded revolver when arrested.

Denies Non-Support Charge.
Victor Anderson, 47 years old, who was arrested this morning on a charge of non-support preferred against him by his wife, pleaded not guilty in police court, and his trial was set for this afternoon. Mrs. Anderson, who lives at 504 Second avenue east, claims that Anderson has failed to support her from Aug. 1 to Nov. 28 last. Anderson was arrested at the Tremont hotel, where he has been making his home.

Brotherhood of St. Andrew.
Today being St. Andrew's day, Trinity chapter of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, attended a consecration service, and made their corporate communion at 7 a. m. The vicar, Rev. Thomas W. MacLean, made a brief address upon the rule of prayer and the rule of service as illustrated by the life of St. Andrew. The brotherhood is a strong organization in all branches of the Anglican communion. The local chapter is in a flourishing condition and attended the service in a body. Breakfast followed immediately in the guild hall, served by members of Trinity guild.

TWO NEARLY DROWN IN LAKE BEMIDJI

Bemidji, Minn., Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—While riding on an ice boat on Lake Bemidji, Harold White and Miss Edna Anderson, students in the Bemidji high school were near drowning when the boat broke through the ice. They were rescued through the heroic efforts of Herbert Warfield and Miss Dolly Koors, two class mates who were riding with them. The ice boat was being steered by Herbert Warfield and suddenly came to thin ice, through which it broke.

L. M. Goldberg Better.

Louis M. Goldberg of 429 Tenth avenue east, proprietor of the Stewart Transfer company, who was injured while boarding an aerial bridge car at Third avenue west last Friday morning, is today reported slightly improved. Dr. C. E. Prudden is attending Mr. Goldberg.

The accident happened shortly after 6 o'clock last Friday morning, just as Mr. Goldberg was about to board an eastbound West Duluth and aerial bridge car. He had one foot on the steps when the gate closed and the car started off, it is claimed. Mr. Goldberg was dragged several feet, sustaining injuries about his head and body.

The motorman stopped the car and Mr. Goldberg was taken to his home.

STAMP TAX ON PACKAGES

Freight or Express Parcel Shippers Must Settle With Government.

Stamps Delayed—No Receipts Issued Until They Arrive.

Beginning tomorrow morning, every package sent out by freight or express, the charges on which are 5 cents or in excess, must pay a war tax of 1 cent.

The stamps are not here yet, but it is promised that they will be here tomorrow morning and they can be obtained from the internal revenue department in the government building. Because of the delay in the arrival of the stamps, freight or express—without the stamp—will not be refused by the railroad or express companies, but no receipt will be forthcoming until the stamps are produced. In the act providing for thewar tax, the provision covering this phase of the case is as follows:

"It shall be the duty of every railroad or steamboat company, carrier, express company or corporation or person whose occupation is to act as such, to issue to the shipper or consignor, or his agent, or person from whom any goods are accepted for transportation where a charge exceeding 5 cents is made, a bill of lading, manifest or other evidence of receipt and forwarding for each shipment received for carriage and transportation, whether in bulk or boxes, bales, packages, bundles or not so inclosed or included; and such shipper, consignor or agent or person shall duly attach and cancel as in this act provided, to each of said bills of lading, manifest or other memorandum, a stamp of the value of 1 cent."

It is understood that the cancellation must be made by the person affixing the stamp, the process being that the initials of such person must be written across the face of the stamp; although a rubber stamp or a punch for perforating may be used for convenience sake. The stamp is to be attached to the original receipt or bill of lading and not to duplicates or copies.

UNCLE SAM NEEDS VARIOUS EMPLOYES.

Elevator conductors in government buildings at North Platte, Neb., and many other cities throughout the West, are needed and as a result a civil service examination will be held here on Dec. 12.

Application blanks and information regarding the position and examination may be obtained from E. M. Barker, superintendent of the registry department, who is secretary of the local examining board. The position pays a salary of $660 a year and is open to any person from 20 to 50 years of age.

In addition, an examination to fill vacancies in the veterinarian department and the position of editor in farm management will be held on Jan. 6 and Dec. 22, respectively. The former pays $1,400 a year and the latter $2,250.

HIGHER FREIGHT RATES SUSPENDED

Washington, Nov. 30.—Proposed increases in freight rates extending throughout the Middle West and West, affecting many classes of freight, were suspended today by the interstate commerce commission pending investigation.

CHINESE DISAPPEARS THUS SAVING ACCUSED.

Minot, N. D., Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Charles Fong's return to his home in China saved Earl White, charged with violating the prohibition law. The alleged illegal sale of liquor occurred in Wong's restaurant here and the state made an attempt to show that he did so with the consent of the restaurant owner, but when Fong was wanted as a witness it developed he had gone to China.

What Will You Make For Christmas?

Many greatly appreciated things are quite inexpensive if you make them yourself—and are all the more esteemed because of the loving thought worked into the gift by the maker-giver.

Materials for the Following Gifts may be had at the Art Needlework Department on the Third Floor:

Chafing Dish Aprons
For girls away at school these Chafing Dish Aprons are especially nice. An entirely new idea. Really suggestive of a kimono party. Two little Jap ladies enjoying a dainty repast, and a row of chafing dishes embroidered in cross stitch.

Another Clever Idea—
Bath Towels stamped with "Duluth" or "Minnesota" to be worked in French knots.

Hand Embroidered Nighties
with crocheted yokes are very effective. Some lovely designs are here. If you buy we will show you free of charge how to crochet the yoke.

Combing Jackets With Cap and Slippers to match. Very popular. They are stamped ready to work on bath toweling.

Tea Sets in many new designs.

Bridge Sets in New Designs. or if you prefer, old favorite designs which cannot be improved upon.

Hug-me-tights and Shawls made from the Bee Hive and Lady Betty imported wools.

Rugs Crocheted From Turkey Rugs Wools are very effective. The work is fascinating and easily learned.

Auto Rugs
made of double knitting wool. Two shades of a color crocheted double, bringing one shade on one side and contrasting color opposite.

Dresses for Little "Darlings"
Cunning little styles stamped with pretty designs. Sizes for infants and for children 2 to 6 years.

Towels, Runners, Pillow Tops
Chair backs stamped to be embroidered.

Neckwear to Be Hand Finished
The very latest ideas. New shapes made up all ready to be finished with hand crocheted edges or dainty bits of embroidery.

Use Handkerchiefs for the following Gifts:
Glove Cases, Handkerchief Cases, Chamois Cases, Sachet Powders to add a sweet and lasting perfume to your gifts.

Gifts Made of Laces

Gray's lace section is noted throughout the state—and here are laces galore for making pretty gifts such as

Detachable Petticoat Flounces
(Like cut—wear them on any skirt)
Boudoir Caps, Matinees, Lace Waists, Camisoles, Tea Aprons, Collar and Cuff Sets, Combinations, Drawers, Bureau Scarfs (with Cluny or Torchon edgings), Tunics for Party Dresses, Petticoats for Party Dresses, Fancy Collars, Handkerchiefs, Centerpieces, Doilies, Pin Cushions, Handkerchief Cases, Night Gowns, Chemises.

Dress Trimmings for Gift Making
Ostrich Edgings, Marabou Edgings, for boudoir slippers, neck pieces, muffs, etc. Beaded edgings for tunics and waists, fur edgings for waists, tunics, baby caps, collar and cuff sets, boudoir slippers; floral trimmings for camisoles, crepe de chine, net or chiffon petticoats, negligees, boudoir caps.

The Drapery Dept. Offers Materials for the Following Gifts

For Sewing Boards
The novel idea pictured here is new and most useful. Note the spool holders, scissor holders, thimble holders and pin cushion. To make this article we have pretty cretonnes.

Doily Rolls a Most Acceptable Gift.
Requires 1¼ yards cretonne, 4 yards of inch wide ribbon and one roll.

Laundry Bags
New designs. Require one and one-third yards cretonne and hoops or cord; 3½ yards ribbon are necessary to cover hoops unless cord is used.

Shoe Bags
Very pretty styles are made with 1¼ yards plain linen or cretonne, 1¼ yards cretonne for border, 1 yard crinoline for lining pockets.

Traveling Cases
Very easily made by using ¼ yard plain linen or fancy cretonne, 1 yard cretonne for various pockets and holders in the case, 1 bolt binding, 1 yard crinoline for lining pockets.

Shirt Waist Boxes
Use one and two-thirds yards cretonne to cover a stout box of suitable size—and you have a very pretty gift.

Gifts Made From Embroideries

The following list, though not complete, offers suggestions of dainty things easily made of, or trimmed with, embroideries combined with ribbons, lace batiste and lawn. Corset covers, boudoir caps, dressing sacques, baby dresses, baby caps, baby petticoats, dresser scarfs, collar and cuff sets (organdy or chiffon edgings), tea aprons (of allovers or of ruffled baby flouncings); combinations, night gowns, chemises, drawers; baby carriage covers and pillows, waists (chiffon edgings).

AUTOISTS CHASE A LARGE MOOSE

Animal Runs in Front of Car on Grand Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Little and son Clifford, 624 North Fifty-sixth avenue west, enjoyed an exciting chase of a moose during an automobile drive yesterday noon on Grand avenue. A cow moose, which weighed about 900 pounds, was seen by the Littles grazing near the fence which separates Grand avenue from the Northern Pacific railroad just west of Seventy-fifth avenue west.

When the moose first saw the machine, she jumped and started eastward, coming to a fence she jumped over it and ran for about four blocks westward. Then she turned around and went back, the occupants of the machine doing likewise. The performance was repeated three times and finally the moose ran across Grand avenue in front of the auto.

"She was so close that I could have hit her with the machine by a slight spurt," said Mr. Little this morning. "The animal did not appear to be badly frightened. It probably has been driven from the woods by hunters and sought relief in the city limits. The animal did not seem to mind the excitement that she caused. Several other motorists stopped to watch the animal before she disappeared."

WILL GIVE SUPPER.

St. Paul's German Lutheran Church to Be Dedicated Soon.

The Ladies' Aid Society of St. Paul's German Lutheran church, Central avenue and Elinor street, will entertain at its first annual supper on Wednesday and Thursday evenings. It will be held at the lunch rooms of the F. A. Patrick Knitting factory, Twenty-ninth avenue west and Superior street.

It is being held in the West end owing to the church still being in an incomplete condition. The church trustees expected the seats and pews for the edifice to arrive last week, but delay in the shipment will probably put the installing of these off for another two weeks.

Rev. William Schmidt of Marretta, Minn., and his family arrived in the city Saturday and have taken up their home at 632 North Fifty-ninth avenue west. Rev. Mr. Schmidt was called to become pastor of the church about a month ago. He is planning the dedication of the new church on the Sunday before Christmas.

BURY FATHER AND SON.

Double Funeral Held for Edward and Elmer Jensen.

The funeral service for Edward Jensen, who died Thursday noon, aged 65, and his son, Elmer, aged 22, who died Friday afternoon, was held at 1 o'clock this afternoon from the family residence, 314 South Sixty-first avenue west. Services were also held at Our Savior's Norwegian Lutheran church at 2 o'clock and at the Oneota cemetery under the auspices of the West Duluth lodge of Odd Fellows.

A platoon of police from Duluth and a squad of patrolmen from Superior attended. The active pallbearers for the elder Jensen were picked from among the policemen while the Odd Fellows furnished honorary pallbearers. Rev. J. H. Stenberg of the First Norwegian Lutheran church officiated.

Annual Election.

West Duluth Lodge No. 145, A. O. U. W., will hold its annual election of officers Wednesday evening at Gilley's hall, 322 North Central avenue. The lodge has made arrangements to hold its regular meetings at this hall on the first and third Wednesdays of each month. There is not expected to be any contest in the election of officers.

Proctor Notes.

The November meeting of the Missabe Railway club of Proctor will be held at the Y. M. C. A. tonight. A paper entitled "Lubrication of Freight and Passenger Cars" will be read by W. A. Clark, car foreman in the Missabe shops. A musical program will be given after the discussion of the paper.

Romeo and Herbert Bentner leave today for their home in Winona.

The funeral of Evonne Johnson, the 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Johnson, was held at the residence at 9 o'clock this morning. The child died after an illness of a week from cholera infantum.

The Ladies' Altar Society of the Catholic church will meet at the church hall on Wednesday afternoon of this week.

On Thursday afternoon the Ladies' Guild of Christ's Episcopal church will meet in the guild hall. Mesdames Elberson and Carss will be the hostesses.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Forbes Memorial M. E. church will meet in the church parlors Friday afternoon. Mesdames McTaggart, McMurtrie, Gildersleeve and Murt Brayden will be hostesses.

West Duluth Briefs.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the West Duluth Baptist church, Fifty-ninth and Grand avenues, will entertain Saturday evening at its annual fall supper in the parlors of the church. The women in charge are Mrs. M. E. Allen, Mrs. George Hunt, Mrs. George Little and Mrs. A. C. Ritchie.

Victor Anderson was arrested this morning on a charge of non-support preferred by his wife. He will be given a hearing in police court this afternoon.

C. J. Johnson, 911 North Fifty-sixth avenue west, has returned from Milltown, Wis., where he visited relatives last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Des Jardine of Shell Lake, Wis., have returned home after spending a few days visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stapleton, 1312 North Fifty-eighth avenue west.

West Duluth Tent No. 2, K. O. T. M., will hold its annual election of officers tomorrow evening at the West Duluth Commercial club rooms.

Watch repairing, Hurst, West Duluth.

The Irving Tigers football team will entertain Thursday evening at its second of a series of dancing parties at the Great Eastern hall.

"BURGLAR" WAS ONLY DRUNKEN MAN.

Harry Moriarity, 2025 West Third street, heard a noise at his front door just about the time he was about to retire Saturday night. Someone entered the front door. Going to investigate he met a man in the hallway and immediately gave battle. He had little difficulty in subduing the intruder and in the meantime his wife telephoned for the police.

When they arrived they found Chris Nelson, aged 22, who the officers took in tow. The man was drunk and had probably entered the wrong home by mistake. He was "tabbed" as drunk at the central station.

Swedish M. E. Notes.

The Young People's Society of the First Swedish Methodist church, Twentieth avenue west and Third street, will give a benefit social Friday evening in the church. The money raised will be turned over to the Belgian relief fund. The program will include musical numbers given by some of the West end's best talent and will be followed by refreshments served by the young ladies of the church. This is the first benefit social given by West end organizations for the benefit of the destitute war sufferers. It is expected that a record crowd will attend.

Rev. and Mrs. C. W. R. Wermine, were pleasantly surprised yesterday afternoon by members of the Oneota Ladies' Aid society and the Oneota Sunday school at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Pearson, 2907 West Eighth street. The pastor was presented with a purse by the societies.

The following meetings have been scheduled by societies of the church this week:

The choir will meet tomorrow evening at the parsonage, 314 North Twentieth avenue west.

The women's home and foreign missionary society will be entertained tomorrow evening at the home of Mrs. Adam Sundquist, 2224 West Eighth street.

The New Duluth branch of the ladies' aid society will meet Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. Strand of New Duluth.

The official board of the church will hold a business meeting in the church Wednesday evening.

The ladies' aid society will meet Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Sundeen, 2113 West Second street.

Rev. Mr. Wermine will conduct midweek services Thursday evening in the church.

The ladies' aid society will serve its annual supper in the church on Saturday evening.

Central Baptist Notes.

The annual meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Central Baptist church, Twentieth avenue west and First street, will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Miss G. Laneen, 1911 West Superior street. Election of officers and the planning of meetings for 1911 will be the principal business.

Cottage prayer meetings will be held at the homes of members tomorrow night and Wednesday night. Tomorrow evening the meetings will be held at the homes of B. J. McPhail, 1817 West Second street, and at the home of Mrs. A. Murphy, 2615 West Huron street.

On Wednesday evening the meetings will be held at the home of W. E. Mathews, 2306 West Sixth street, and at the home of J. Curry, 2719 West Helm street.

THREE HELD TO GRAND JURY

Zalk and Two Switchmen Heard in Copper Theft Case.

Former Admits Buying Plates; All Freed on Bail.

George K. Robertson and Joseph Regall, the two Northern Pacific switchmen who were arrested last Monday afternoon with Zigmund Zalk, foreman at the Duluth Iron & Metal works, in connection with the theft of $40,000 worth of copper anode plates from a box car in the Northern Pacific yards over a year ago, were bound over to the January grand jury following a hearing in police court this morning. They were both given their liberty on payment of $2,500 bail each, which was fixed by the district court.

Zalk a State Witness.

Zalk waived examination following his arrest, and he was also ordered held to the jury. He, too, is out on $2,500 bail. He appeared as the state's chief witness at the hearing this morning.

John H. Norton, former county attorney, appeared for the two prisoners, while Harry F. White, third assistant county attorney, conducted the prosecution for the state. The courtroom was crowded with spectators, many of whom were friends of the two defendants.

The state introduced Earl Manke, James Smith, Dan McLennan, James Desanti and William McVeagh, checkers for the Northern Pacific, who testified that the carload of copper anodes, worth about $100,000, disappeared on the night of Nov. 4, 1913, and that the following day the car was discovered on the tracks at Fifth avenue west, with thirty-two anodes missing.

Admits Buying Copper.

Zalk, who testified for the state, reiterated his statement made last week that Robertson and Regall came to him with the proposition to buy some copper they had and that on the night of Nov. 4, 1913, they ran the car into the Duluth Iron & Metal company's yards, where thirty-two plates were unloaded. He admitted having given Robertson $200 on that night out of his own money which he had brought down and then declared that he borrowed $100 at the City National bank the following day and that he then gave Robertson and Regall $50 each several days later.

Watchman Reports Discovery.

The discovery of the copper in the yards of the metal company was made a week ago Sunday afternoon when a watchman reported the matter to the officials of the company. The latter, in turn, promptly notified Superintendent Strachan of the Northern Pacific and a further investigation brought out a confession from Zalk and later the arrest of the two switchmen. Both Robertson and Regall deny their guilt and, when arraigned, asked for a hearing, which was set for this morning.

Both men are married, Robertson living with his family at the corner of Isanti street and St. Paul avenue, Woodland, while Regall resides at 726 Tenth avenue east.

Gasoline Engine Explodes.

Ray, N. D., Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Edward Iverson was operating a gas engine at his farm near here when the gasoline tank exploded, throwing the flaming contents into his face and over his arms and shoulders. He was horribly burned before he could quench the fire by rolling in snow.

Beaten by Teacher; Dies.

Brookhaven, Miss., Nov. 30.—Kirby Clay, aged 12, collapsed after being whipped by his teacher in school and died a few minutes later. The coroner found that death had resulted from heart disease.

THIRTY-SEVEN IS HUNTING SCORE

Wisconsin and Michigan Beat Last Year's Record for Deaths.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 30.—Thirty-seven deaths from hunting accidents in Northern Wisconsin and Michigan is the toll in those districts as far as known during the fall season ending at midnight.

Of this number, twenty-four hunters were slain in Wisconsin, three more than were killed in 1913. In Michigan there were thirteen fatalities.

It is estimated that about 15,000 hunters were in the woods of the upper peninsula of Michigan alone.

MARINE

SEASON'S END HAS ARRIVED

Insurance Expires at Midnight and Most Boats Quit.

Package Freighters Most Affected—Canadian Insurance Still in Effect.

According to American insurance rules navigation is over after today. However, there may be reservations, for some of the steamers that are in the traffic carry their own insurance and some of the others carry the Canadian flag, which insures them up to and including Dec. 12. But American vessels which are in the trade and which carry American insurance will start on their last trips of the season tonight. Some will start at this end of the route and others will start from Buffalo.

The package freighters are the ones which are most affected by the expiration of insurance. The Western Transportation company's last boats out of here tonight will be the Superior and the Troy; those of the Mutual company were the Northern Light and the North Wind, both of which left last night, and the last of the Anchor line will be the Allegheny, which will leave this evening. Insurance—American—expires at midnight, tonight. Of course there will be steamers leaving lower ports tonight which will arrive here at different times, some of them as late as Dec. 7.

As to grain, four steamers are under the spouts of the elevators today. Since Saturday there have been 2,750,000 bushels of grain of all kinds shipped out—mostly wheat, but some flax. Today it is estimated there will be 850,000 bushels of grain sent East.

In regard to ore, the shipping is not yet finished and may not be until day after tomorrow, although tomorrow may see its end.

LETTERS TO SANTA CLAUS ARRIVING

Postoffice Receiving Missives From Little Ones to Mythical Benefactor.

Letters to Santa Claus are already being received at the postoffice and, according to the orders from Washington, these are to be turned over to local charitable institutions.

Postmaster McEwen said this morning that the Santa Claus letters are now arriving daily and that many are expected before Christmas. These are all apparently written by children and are addressed to "Santa Claus, Duluth, Minn."

The postal regulations state that letters to Santa Claus should be turned over to any charitable institution making application for same. Unless these letters are applied for, Postmaster McEwen said this morning, they will all be sent to the dead letter office at Washington.

Last year the letters received at the postoffice were turned over to several charitable organizations in Duluth and as a result many young hearts beat happily on Christmas morning. It is probable that similar action will be taken by the same institutions this year and the many odd requests of the children complied with as nearly as possible.

CABALLERO JOINS VILLA

Carranza Commander at Tampico Deserts Former First Chief.

Gen. Salazar, Who Escaped From Prison, Reported Murdered.

Washington, Nov. 30.—Official dispatches today confirmed earlier reports that Gen. Luis Caballero, governor of Tamaulipas, has joined the Villa forces in Mexico. As he is in control of Tampico, the peaceful entry of the troops which have been marching eastward toward San Potosi is now expected.

Caballero has been claimed by both the Carranza and Villa factions. Caballero has telegraphed to Gutierrez his allegiance to the Aguas Calientes convention.

Gonzales "President."

In a dispatch dated at Queretaro, temporary capital of the convention faction, Special Agent Canova of the state department said a rumor was current that Gen. Pablo Gonzales, one of the Carranza division commanders, had proclaimed himself provisional president and named a cabinet. Canova was unable to confirm the rumor. Officials here think it is unlikely. Gonzales has only 8,000 men.

The last dispatches, dated Saturday, said the city was quiet.

"Salazar Murdered."

San Antonio, Nov. 30.—That Gen. Jose Ynez Salazar has been murdered was the assertion of Eltego Baca, attorney for Salazar here, last night. Baca said he believed Salazar's escape from prison at Albuquerque, N. M., was planned and executed by his enemies, after which they murdered him.

"Salazar had no fear of the trial on the charge of perjury," Baca said. "Enemies in the guise of friends induced him to escape, after which they led him into the desert and murdered him."

CLEARING OUT CREEK.

Tons of Debris Being Removed From Stream Through Pollay Park.

Tons of debris are being removed from the bed of the creek through Jeannette Pollay park, a large tract adjoining Lester park which was donated to the city by Mrs. W. M. Prindle.

According to Henry Cleveland, manager of the park department, the bed of the creek has been clogged with old trees and logs, which have been accumulating for years. He explains that the water has been diverted and considerable damage has been done to the banks of the stream. He is also supervising the construction of a stone retaining wall where part of the Snively boulevard slid away last summer.

WILL HEAR CASE AGAINST DOCTORS.

In municipal court tomorrow morning Judge Windom will hear the case of the Superior Telegram against the Progressive Medical Doctors of this city for $86.84 alleged due the newspaper for back advertising. The plaintiff company claims that a contract for advertising was made on Jan. 31, 1911, and that since then, $277.68 worth of advertising space was allowed the Progressive doctors on credit. Of this amount, the plaintiff company alleges, only $190 was paid.

THE DAILY ROLL CALL; A COLUMN OF SPORTS

BY BRUCE.

PRESIDENT "Steve" Jones of the board of strategy and pro-winter movement of the Duluth Curling club is expected to call a meeting of the board some time the present week. H. W. Richardson, anti-climax weather man; Warren E. Greene, county attorney; Coleman Naughton, the well known sketch artist, and Engineer McGilvray are witnesses and workers that will be summoned before the committee.

Here it is well along toward the first of December. Today it is raining, and if the birds had not had the mistaken hunch that winter was coming, they would be twittering in the branches of the trees. Bill Trepanier, trainer of the Curling club hockey team, threatens to go swimming. Bill is a health man and declares that this hot weather one should keep the pores open.

Recently the Curling club waged a campaign for additional members. In years gone by this was all right; in those rigorous days winter howled in hoary rage along about the first of November. Here we are around the first of December and the B. V. D. Marching club is rallying every night and morning, while the Longview Tennis club is seriously thinking of running off the tournament that was not completed during the first part of the summer.

Saturday some of the women of the boat club took their Christmas sewing over to the broad porch of the club and sat there in the basking sunshine and enjoyed the cooling breezes from the bay. When the sun grew too hot they moved their chairs over into the shade on the lake side of the club house.

Out at the Country club President Mitchell is about to call the games committee together and have a schedule made out. Late these afternoons, when the sun is low in the West, and its slanted rays do not diffuse effulgent radiance, golfers can be seen moving languidly over the course, mopping their brows and sun burned necks, and occasionally taking a leisurely swipe at the ball.

All this has impelled "Steve" Jones to call a hurried meeting of the members of the board of strategy of the Curling club. As perhaps some of you remember, the board held several momentous meetings in the latter part of last summer. Its meetings were freighted with results.

Tom McGilvray will be asked to submit his plans and specifications for an early winter and the ever faithful Coleman Naughton will be requested to bring to the meeting his portfolio of drawings of winter sport scenes. As it has been stated previously, Mr. Naughton drew these winter sport scenes while working in Louisville, Ky. This in answer as to where Mr. Naughton got the inspiration for the exceedingly faithful reproductions. Those from wintry climes declare that Mr. Naughton's pictures are remarkable in their fidelity.

Mr. Richardson will be questioned sharply as to his meaning in forecasting northeasters, and Warren E. Greene, after telling several funny stories to cheer up the members of the board of directors of the Curling club, will be asked to proceed against the weather department, Richardson or anyone else.

John Oldham is one of the most consistent and persistent men in the city. He came from Indiana to run the curling program. Already his hustle and energy have succeeded in getting the games committee appointed and the floor of the big rink flooded with water. Junior members of the club were sailing boats on the flooded surface Saturday.

Mr. Oldham is more or less of a Christian scientist. Years ago he bought a heavy fur overcoat. It is said that this rare enthusiast, this lover of curling, this sterling advocate of winter sport, rises each morning at 5 o'clock and donning his fur coat, walks out into the ambient atmosphere and sniffs at the air, turns up the collar of his huge coat and shivers several times, then returns to the house and hastily lights the grate fire. Every lover of curling in this city should give John Oldham credit. He is pulling for winter. They do say that he turns on the steam heat at the club and sits over his prospective draw sheets with a sweater buttoned around him. Every now and then John will walk over to the window and declare that the coming night will bring snow and a dropping of the thermometer.

Radical means will be adopted at the meeting of the strategy committee. Something must be done. Croquet is becoming the rage.

Ketonen Is Willing.

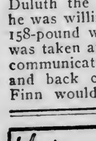

WALTER MILLER has refused to meet Waino Ketonen. Naturally that is Walter's business. While in Duluth the little Pole declared that he was willing and eager to meet any 158-pound wrestler in the world. He was taken at his word. Ketonen was communicated with by Tilt Lewis, and back came the word that the Finn would wrestle Miller on any terms suggested by the Apostle, stating, however, that he would prefer to wrestle Walter winner take all.

Under the date of Nov. 27, from Worcester, Mass., Waino writes to Duluth as follows:

"Certainly I am willing to bet $100 against Joe Carr, if he makes 158 ringside. Tell Mr. Lewis to go ahead with the match and I will send my money to be posted in Duluth. If the match is made I will go to Omaha, Neb., two weeks ahead of it and train with Farmer Burns. Everything that goes with Carr, goes with Miller also."

With his own money on the result of the contest, which suggestion was made to Promoter Lewis by the writer, to insure a clean contest, the sporting public of Duluth will have an opportunity to see whether Ketonen, as some persons think, is one of the greatest wrestlers in the world for his weight and inches, or merely a flash in the pan.

Personally, we think the Finn a marvel. Appearances are against him, at that. If Carr can and will make 158 ringside, that match will decide the legitimate opponent for old Mike Yokel, one of the grandest wrestlers of the decade.

PICKING OUT STAR PLAYERS

Critics Choosing All-Star Football Teams—Considerable Difference.

Few Cases of Unanimity—Solon on All-Western.

New York, Nov. 30.—The aftermath of the football season, which ended with the Army-Navy game, brings a number of all-Eastern, all-Western and all-American teams, which, while mythical, so far as actual playing is concerned, gives an accurate idea of the rating of players by positions. In the East the concensus of opinion favors the following players:

Players.	Position.	College.
Hardwick	le	Harvard
Ballin	lt	Princeton
Pennock	lg	Princeton
McEwan	c	Army
Shears	rg	Dartmouth
Trumbull	rt	Harvard
O'Hearn	re	Cornell
Barrett	qb	Cornell
Bradlee	lh	Harvard
Mahan	rh	Harvard
Whitney	fb	Dartmouth

For the positions of ends, Hardwick of Harvard is an unanimous choice with O'Hearn of Cornell, Brann of Yale and Merrill of the Army all close seconds.

Ballin of Princeton and Trumbull of Harvard are easily the choice tackles. At guards, those selected are virtually alone in the field. The place at center finds considerable difference of opinion, for Journeay of Pennsylvania and McEwan of the Army are both put forward strongly, with Cruikshank of Washington and Jefferson another favorite.

Back of the line, Barrett of Cornell is first choice for quarterback. For halfbacks, Mahan of Harvard is selected by almost all the coaches. His running mate is not so easily placed, for Bradlee of Harvard and Fleming and Spiegel of Washington and Jefferson are all given votes. The position of fullback finds but two players as popular choices in Whitney of Dartmouth and Legore of Yale.

In the West the following is a complete all-Western eleven made up from selections of coaches and critics:

Player.	Position.	College.
Cherry	re	Ohio State
Halligan	rt	Nebraska
Routh	rg	Purdue
Des Jardien	c	Chicago
Chapman	lg	Illinois
Buck	lt	Wisconsin
Graves	le	Illinois
Clark	qb	Illinois
Maulbetsch	rh	Michigan
Pogue	lh	Illinois
Solon	fb	Minnesota

Maulbetsch, Michigan's hero, is about the only one of 1914 stars who received an almost unanimous vote. The Wolverine halfback's great showing in the Harvard game and in Michigan's subsequent battles spread his fame so wide that critics and coaches in the Central states picked him on their ideal eleven.

The Westerners are prone to favor the team of Minnesota for fullback. Many critics favored Pogue, Illinois' fleet half, to complete the backfield trio.

Clark of Illinois won a plurality at quarterback. Cherry of Ohio State was the most popular end, while Graves of Illinois ranked next in popularity. The Central states were strong in tackles and among them Buck of Wisconsin was ranked first, while Halligan of Nebraska earned a place, not only for his defense mark, but for his aid in the attack, his drop-kicking and line-plunging helping to make him popular. There was a scarcity of guards, but among them Chapman of Illinois and Routh of Purdue generally were ranked ahead.

Des Jardien of Chicago, an all-American selection of last year, and one of the best centers ever seen in the West, is the most popular center.

Would Audit Books.

Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 30.—An audit of the books of all baseball teams in the United States will be proposed by President William M. Kavanaugh of the Southern league, to prevent violation of the salary rule. Features embodied in the plan will be the employment of a detective agency to make periodical inspection of all receipts and expenditures and the number of players carried and the attendance at games.

WOULD CUT GAME SEASON

Deputy Game Warden Boyd Favors Ten Days for Shooting Deer.

Season Closes at Midnight; Gun Club to Discuss Recommendations.

Owing to the immense number of deer and moose killed during the open season for shooting big game this year, Deputy Game Warden Archie Boyd of Duluth has decided that the big game season should be shortened from twenty days to ten. The open season for shooting big game will end at midnight today, and Mr. Boyd's recommendations will be discussed by the Northwestern Gun club at its meeting at Gonska hall tomorrow night.

Mr. Boyd's suggestion is that the season for big game begin on Nov. 20 and end Nov. 30 instead of beginning on the 10th and closing on the 30th, thus cutting the season to one-half its present length. He also recommends that the open season for shooting birds be shortened considerably and that hunters be restricted to forty-five birds during the season. Sept. 15 for the opening of the bird season is favored rather than Sept. 1.

The slaughter of deer and moose this year has been terrible, Mr. Boyd declares, and he favors shortening the season to prevent the complete extermination of big game.

C. G. Krelwitz, secretary of the gun club, says that he agrees with Mr. Boyd and will bring the matter before the club members at the coming meeting.

LEAGUE TO HOLD MEETING

Plans to Be Discussed for Increasing Amateur Hockey Funds.

Success has attended the efforts of the members of the Duluth Amateur Hockey league to raise sufficient money to secure the construction of an enlargement of the rink of the West Duluth Curling club. More than half of the necessary number of members have been already secured.

There will be a special meeting of the members of the league at the Northern Hardware company store this evening. Every one at all interested in the project of securing a home for the games of the league will confer a special favor upon those working to make a success of the membership campaign by being present and lending their assistance to the cause.

Large Amount Raised.

It is necessary for the amateur league to raise $1,200, or 100 members, to secure the addition to the West Duluth rink. Of this amount over $600 has already been raised. Tonight's meeting will have to do with plans for the immediate raising of the balance of the money.

The project is too big and the idea of the league too laudable to permit of its being dropped. Much has been written of the future of the league and of its influence on the winter sports of Duluth. All of the players of the league are home boys. Many future stars are among the present embryo players. Hockey is at the experimental stage. To drop the amateur league would be equivalent to a confession that hockey was not a success. Should the league proceed with the prospective program of the winter and make a thorough success, Duluth is sure to achieve an ultimate success equal to that of Winnipeg, which is one of the real centers of the game in North America.

NAVY EASY FOR THE ARMY TEAM.

Philadelphia, Nov. 30.—The United States military academy football team defeated the naval academy eleven by a score of 20 to 0 in the annual service game on Franklin field Saturday. The gridiron superiority of the cadets over the midshipmen was as marked as the score would appear to indicate. Once the powerful and well-balanced Army machine started its march for the initial touchdown, the ultimate outcome of the game was never in doubt. The Annapolis combination was outplayed and outclassed in every department, and but for the splendid fighting spirit of the Navy in the face of certain defeat, the score would have been even larger.

Although the game lacked the closeness and thrill that has featured Army and Navy battles of other years, it furnished the splendid scenic picture which distinguishes it from all other games of the season, and formed a fitting climax on which to sound football taps for 1914.

FAMOUS ATHLETES AMONG THE KILLED.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

London, Nov. 20.—The latest list of the British killed in France contains the names of two well-known athletes, G. R. L. Anderson, a hurdler, and Lieut. A. E. J. Collins, a cricket player. Anderson was twice English amateur champion at both high and low hurdles. He broke hurdling records at both Eton and Oxford and ran for England at the Stockholm Olympic games, where he was defeated by the American, J. J. Eller, Jr.

Lieut. Collins will always hold a place in the history of cricket as the batsman who made the highest individual score on record. He did this while a student at Clifton college, scoring "628 not out" in innings lasting six hours and fifty minutes.

Now Professional Champion.

Manchester, Eng., Nov. 30.—W. R. Applegarth Saturday wrested the world's 100-yards professional championship from Jack Donaldson of South Africa, for several years the world's champion professional sprinter. Applegarth, who was the British amateur champion sprinter and became a professional a few months ago, won the race by six inches. There was a side bet of £200.

INSURGENT CANDIDATE AGAINST J. BURMEISTER

Rumor Says Pulford's Crowd Will Name a Presidential Candidate at the Duluth Meeting of Northern League—Grand Forks May Line Up With the Malcontents.

Little drops of water and little grains of sand are accredited with making several of our most prominent oceans and it may be stated along the path of analogous efforts that little rumbles of gossip occasionally make a baseball story.

It is stated that the insurgents of the Northern league are to hoist the flag of an embryo republic at the forthcoming gathering in our lively city and place a provisional president in the field in opposition to the present provisional president, John Burmeister.

John Burmeister occupies a position somewhat similar to that of the present president of Mexico; he is unconstitutional and out of order—but he is presidenting just the same.

The Northern league constitution says in capital letters that it is unconstitutional to elect a president of the league for more than one year. That rolls large John off the mat. In strictly legal procedure, there is no president of the Northern league. As some understand the matter, neither is there any Northern league at the present time.

Insurgents Are Busy.

Wafted from Winnipeg on the north to Winona on the south, the flanking outposts of our league territory, come rumors dealing with the doings of the insurgents. Grand Forks is reported to be aligned with the insurgents. Against the insurgents are the fighting forces of Burmeister, Blume and possibly Cantillion, though now comes the report that Cantillion does not stand so high in the graces of Harry and John as in the yoring days.

Beautiful women have been plastered with the stigma of fickleness since Adam and Eve started the human nature league; but for that mere matter, baseball magnates have also been known to do a right about face and veer sharply to windward and give erstwhile friend and fellow schemer the blood curdling "I have you now."

Pulford is an auctioneer and most auctioneers can talk a bird out of a tree. Pulford is working hard to line up magnates to his side of the controversy. Naturally he has an ace in the hole in Winona. As rumor hath it, Grand Forks is in the doubtful column. Pulford might come to the Duluth December meeting and show unexpected strength. That is one of the reasons why the meeting should prove of surmounting interest.

What Blume Thinks.

Mr. Blume is serious when he does not wink his eye. When he conversed on the baseball situation the other day, his right orb remained unblinking. Said he:

"We are sure going to reorganize the league and put Winona out and also put Pulford out. Why the people of Winnipeg were saying last summert 'We'll win the pennant and then get rid of Pulford.' This came from the people of Winnipeg originally. We follow their tip. They don't want Pulford.

"Winona was offered a reasonable sum for its consolation and refused. Very well. The players go with the franchise. Both the franchises and the players of the Winona and Winnipeg clubs will revert to the Northern league in the reorganization of the league. I can't see where either Winona or Pulford has any legal comeback or any standing in the halls of organized baseball."

A Storm Is Brewing.

If all the smoke develops into roaring flames, or if all the rumors develop into bright-hued facts, then the meeting that will open in our municipal midst on the morning of Dec. 7 promises pyrotechnics and sharp and incisive repartee.

sive adjectives. Some persons may get up and tell the truth. Also the nominating of an opposing candidate for president should be fraught with interest.

The big guns are riding in control of the league—if there is a league—at the present time. Burmeister and Blume are the powers that be until they are deposed. Whether the effort to swing a new faction into the saddle of power will acquire any momentus remains to be seen.

MANY YET UNSIGNED.

Federals Cannot Yet Announce the Jumping Players.

Chicago, Nov. 30.—President Gilmore announced a few days ago that star players affiliated until recently with the National and American leagues, but who had listened to the call of the Federals, would be named at this meeting.

It has developed, however, that many of the players with whom the various clubs had been negotiating had not signed, and on that account it was intimated that the clubs would withhold the names of their new players until later, and give out this news to the newspapers in their respective cities.

THE LINCOLNS WIN FROM ADAMS TEAM.

At Athletic park yesterday the Lincolns defeated the Adams juniors by the score of 9 to 0. All of the scoring was done in the first half. In the second half there was little to choose between the two teams. Nelson and Kerns starred for the Adams team, with Method, Rustad and Day performing creditably for the winning team. The lineup:

Lincolns—		Adams—
Kiley	c	Sponberg
Harney	rg	Farley
Fallackson	rt	Farley
Method	re	Nelson
Jentoft	lg	Goodhand
Harney	lt	McDonald

Elstad (capt.)	fb	Vexel

Subs. Lincoln—Chisholm for Jentoft; Mellin for Cayo; Wihlstrom for Method.

Heads the Cadets.

West Point, N. Y., Nov. 30.—Cadet Alexander M. Wayland was elected captain of the 1915 Army eleven, during the return of the victorious players from Philadelphia, where they defeated the Middies 20 to 0. The new captain is 22 years old and was appointed from New Jersey.

DO YOU KNOW THE POSSIBILITIES OF OUR TIME CARD?

Do you realize what annoyance you may save yourself during the cold winter mornings by a few minutes spent in studying it?

Do you know that you may prepare from it a little private time card to hang beside your telephone, that will save you many annoying experiences of "just missing a car?"

Residents of the suburbs have learned its uses. It can be found useful by every Duluthian who uses the cars regularly.

Let us illustrate. Let us suppose that you live at Fifteenth avenue east and take a Superior street car to your work in the vicinity of Third avenue west where you desire to arrive at about 8:30. Ask the car starter for one of our time cards; turn to page showing west bound West Duluth, Aerial Bridge, East End, Lakeside and Woodland cars at that time of morning (page 8). Under the column "Pass 3rd Ave. W." you find there are twelve cars passing Third avenue west from 8:19 to 8:39. By glancing at the columns to the left you find that three of these cars come from the Aerial Bridge. All the others come from Twenty-fourth avenue east, but the 8:25 car you will see is marked with a dagger, indicating that it runs on Sundays only.

This leaves eight cars which will pass your corner, which is nine blocks from Twenty-fourth avenue east. Through the residence district the average speed of cars is about a half a minute to a block, which would make it 4½ minutes to your corner. If you eliminate the half minute and allow only four minutes, to be on the safe side, it will make the time of these cars passing your corner as follows, and they will pass Third avenue west just ten minutes later:

From Lester Park	8:09
From Lester Park	8:14
From St. Paul Ave. (Hunter's Park)	8:16
From Lester Park	8:19
From 24th Ave. (from Lester Park on Sundays only)	8:23
From Lester Park	8:24
From Austin Street	8:26
From Lester Park	8:29

You may extend the arriving time at Third avenue west if you wish and this will give you a little "private time card" for your particular corner. You can then plan on the car you wish to take before leaving your house and if you keep your time piece properly regulated and arrange to get to the corner at the proper time you will about forty-nine times out of fifty have the pleasure of seeing your car just approaching the corner.

This is about the height of the "morning rush" and at this hour you must expect the cars to be crowded. You can however, depend on those which come from Lester Park or Austin street being more crowded than those which come from St. Paul avenue and you will find those that come from Twenty-fourth avenue will have plenty of vacant seats even at this hour in the morning.

By consulting your timecard you will note that the car which passes your corner at 8:23 comes from Twenty-fourth avenue and if 8:33 will not be too late for you to reach Third avenue you should by all means select this car and we can guarantee you a seat in it. We would at the same time suggest that you avoid the car passing your corner at 8:26 as it comes from the extreme end of the Woodland avenue line and is one of the most crowded cars of the day.

Those who make regular trips on the cars will be surprised to find how much more they can add to their comfort and that of others by giving a little attention to these matters. The timecard may "look complicated" and as it shows all of the cars run and is for the guidance of our employes as well as for the convenience of patrons it must necessarily show much detail and it may not seem worth while to many in sections where cars are passing every few minutes to study it out, but we would be only too glad on application to supply anyone with a simple little "private time card" as above for any stopping place on our lines, and we will also be glad to suggest to patrons in what cars they can usually find seats and which cars to avoid at the rush hours on account of their being crowded.

FORMER MRS. MACKAY IS PRIVATELY MARRIED

Paris Nov. 30.—Dr. Joseph A. Blake, the New York surgeon, who for some time has been living in Paris, and Mrs. Katherine Alexander Duer, formerly Mrs. Clarence H. Mackay of New York, were married Saturday. The wedding was strictly private. Dr. Blake has been attached to the American ambulance in Paris.

The wedding took place within twenty-four hours of the divorce granted to the former Mrs. Blake, in Connecticut.

Aside from the rapidity and secrecy of the marriage which was totally unknown to friends of both parties, the distinguishing feature of the event was that it was a war wedding, shorn of all splendor and ceremony. Blake went to the American military hospital as usual in the morning and worked at the operating table until 2:30 p. m. A fresh batch of wounded arrived from the battlefield, necessitating an unbroken succession of amputations, and prevented the bridegroom from partaking of luncheon.

At 2:30 o'clock Dr. Blake washed his hands, discarded his overalls and then, accompanied by Dr. Richard Derby, Col. Roosevelt's son-in-law, quitted the hospital in a huge Red Cross automobile car for Mrs. Mackay's apartment in the Avenue Henri Martin.

MRS. JOSEPH A. BLAKE.

The bride joining, the party continued to the district mayor's hall in the same thoroughfare. There the ceremony took place.

The bride, who wore a dark blue tailor made suit, extremely simple but very smart, with a marquise hat, said smiling and radiantly:

"I am very happy to marry the man I love."

With Dr. Blake she then re-entered the Red Cross automobile, took the wheel herself and drove Dr. Blake to the hospital, where he resumed his operations while she returned to her own apartments and continued knitting jerseys for the troops.

There will be no honeymoon and the couple will continue their Red Cross work in Paris till the end of the war.

That the couple would eventually marry was generally recognized here when Dr. Blake arrived in Paris a month after the Mackay divorce and took an apartment within a stone's throw of hers. The present bride was sued last year by the former Mrs. Blake for $1,000,00 for alienating her husband's affection.

FROSTBITE FATAL TO ANTON LAKE

Found With Feet Frozen in Barn—Dies in Hospital.

Anton Lake, 44 years old, is the first victim of exposure of the winter season.

Last Thursday Lake was found, with his feet frozen, in a barn on the John Finberg farm, two miles out on the Hermantown road. He was brought to Duluth in the evening by Finberg and later removed to St. Luke's hospital. He died Saturday afternoon. The body has been removed to the Crawford undertaking rooms, where it is being held until relatives are heard from.

According to Finberg, he found Lake in his barn, where the man had been sleeping for two or three days. He was apparently drunk and had no knowledge that his feet were frozen until he started to walk, Finberg told the hospital authorities. Upon discovering this, Finberg placed Lake in a rig and brought him to Duluth.

Very little is known about Lake, except that he was sent out to a farm early last week by a local employment agent. Lake never arrived there and it is believed that he got drunk and while on his way went into the Finberg barn and fell asleep. That he must have been there two or three days is evidenced by the condition of his feet, according to the hospital authorities.

Dr. Robert Lake, who attended Lake, said that his feet were so badly frozen that it was impossible to save his life.

CLOSE TO THE $1,000 MARK

Belgian Committee Falls But Little Short of Sum.

Two Women Have Collected $262.52 in Small Subscriptions.

The Belgian committee, which had planned to bring the Belgian Dollar fund up to $1,000 by Saturday night, fell but slightly below the mark. The sum of $37.50 was added to the fund by this committee Saturday, which brings the total up to $955.50.

Too much credit cannot be given George Ameel and his co-workers, consisting of Mrs. John de Yonck, Julius Schelstreet, and Mrs. Harry Oliver. The amount of work entailed in raising this amount of money, the largest part of which was raised by a house to house canvass by this committee, can hardly be realized. Most of the fund consists of subscriptions of from 50 cents to $1 and a few for $5 or more. A small part also was sent to The Herald by mail, but the lion's share of the credit goes to these indefatigable workers, who are vitally interested in the welfare of their unfortunate countrymen of the little war-ridden kingdom across the water. These workers should feel great satisfaction in knowing perhaps hundreds of unfortunate Belgians will suffer less and perhaps many will be saved from starvation by means of their zealous work in their behalf.

The Women's Part.

The women as usual have been found more than ready to do their share in the work. Mrs. de Yonck and Mrs. Oliver raised $262.50 of the funds through their individual work. They have gone from house to house and from office to office in Duluth, Superior and Allouez, getting 50 cents here and $1 there until the sum has mounted up to that amount.

The fund now stands:

PREPARING FOR CHRISTMAS RUSH

Postoffice Heads Hope to Avoid Congestion During Final Week.

The public is requested by the postal authorities in Washington to cooperate in the handling of the holiday mail, especially the parcel post.

Postmaster McEwen received a notice Saturday from Postmaster General Burleson urging him to educate the public in the use of the parcel post and the necessity of getting as much mail as possible out before the heavy rush starts. Mr. McEwen has already began to prepare for the Christmas season and last week announced that extra carriers will be hired and that a telephone exchange will be installed so that the public can call the postoffice and learn in what zone certain cities are and how many stamps will be needed to carry packages to their destination. In this way Mr. McEwen hopes to do away with the crowds at the postoffice during the two weeks before Christmas.

The public is requested by Postmaster General Burleson to observe the following conditions in the co-operative plan:

"Prepay postage fully on all parcels."

"Address parcels fully and plainly."

"Place name and address of sender on all matter."

"Pack articles carefully and wrap them securely, but do not seal them, as sealed parcels are subject to postage at the letter rate."

"Mail parcels early; they may be marked 'Do not open until Christmas.'"

"Insure valuable parcels, fee 5 or 10 cents."

"Written inscriptions such as 'Merry Christmas,' 'Happy New Year,' 'With Best Wishes,' and numbers, names or letters for purpose of description, are permissible additions to fourth-class (parcel post) mail. Books may bear simply dedicatory inscriptions not of a personal nature. Other written additions subject parcels to letter postage. Communications prepaid at first-class rate may be sent with parcels prepaid at fourth-class rate provided they are securely attached to outside of parcels."

Regain the Mastery Over Blood Trouble

No Matter How Disheartening You Can Overcome It.

Blood disorders are quickly checked by S. S. S., the famous blood purifier. It rushes into the blood and in three minutes has traversed the entire circulation. It penetrates to where the blood is made, it washes out those spots and places where stagnation has settled, it cleanses the membranes, drives irritation from the joints, fills the blood stream with antidotal influence and from head to foot creates conditions that make for blood health. There are people in every community who know this to be true. They have used S. S. S. for severe forms of rheumatism, for indolent, ulcerated spots, for eruptive skin diseases, for any and all those bodily conditions caused by blood loaded with impurities. Being a pure product of Nature it can not hurt the stomach and has therefore been the refuge of a host of people misguided in their dilemma by first flying to those dangerous mercurial drugs which have claimed so many unfortunates. If the skin breaks out in a rash, if boils or other eruptions appear, if there are blood risings or any other indications of impure blood get a bottle of S. S. S. at once of any druggist. But beware of substitutes. If in doubt as to your trouble or you wish competent medical advice free, write to the medical department, The Swift Specific Co., 38 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. This department is known far and wide as one of the greatest of helps to blood sufferers. But don't delay to get a bottle of S. S. S. today.

CHANGE OF STREET NAMES PROPOSED

City Council Considers Checking Off All Duplications.

A number of streets and avenues with the same name have been found in Duluth and the city council may be asked to make changes to eliminate the duplications, as they cause considerable confusion.

In supplying new names the changes would be directed to those which are less well established, allowing the older and better known thoroughfare to retain its original designation.

An examination of the city directory has revealed two Wadena streets, two Walnut streets, two Grand View avenues, two Robinson streets and one Robinson avenue, two Park avenues, a Winona avenue and a Winona street, a Washington avenue and a Washington street, a Glendale avenue and a Glendale street, a Highland avenue and a Highland street, a Henry avenue and a Henry street, a Huron avenue and a Huron street, a Lake avenue and a Lake street and a Pine avenue and a Pine street.

LAUD CITY FOR AIDING JOBLESS

Eastern Magazines Discuss Municipal Employment Policy.

Following the recent complimentary editorial in The Outlook, Ida M. Tarbell, writing in the December issue of the American Magazine, gives further praise to Duluth's policy of providing municipal employment to jobless men during the winter months, when work is difficult to get.

The article is one of a series on "The Golden Rule of Business," and under the title, "Keeping Men at Work," Miss Tarbell says:

"Listen to what the city of Duluth did last winter: Soon after Christmas it found itself with a more than usually large number of unemployed men on hand.

"They have a commission form of government in Duluth, and the commissioners, being free to do promptly the thing that needed to be done, concluded to test the matter of constructing sewers in the winter instead of in spring and summer, as had always been the practice. The men who were able to do digging were put to work the first of February. Employment was given to all who applied, who were able to do what was considered a day's work.

"The commissioners were very square with the town, refusing absolutely to take men who were just out of the hospital or those that they found on trial were inefficient. That, they argued, would be charity, and they had no right to assess taxpayers for charity. By the first of June a mile of sewer had been constructed.

"The work was so satisfactory that it has been decided to continue the sewer construction this coming winter. And how much Duluth has gained! She has kept a body of consumers, kept her houses full, kept her shops going, kept faith with her own sense of responsibility."

ARRANGING MUSIC FOR CHRISTMAS

General Committee Will Discuss Municipal Celebration Plans.

The general municipal Christmas tree committee will hold a meeting at the rooms of the Commercial club Wednesday afternoon to discuss details of the programs for Christmas night and New Year's eve.

At a sub-committee meeting Saturday afternoon, arrangements were made for the musical numbers, which will be prominent features of both programs. Representatives were present from the Normanna, Svea and Orpheus singing societies, the Matinee Musicale, various church choirs and several of the leading singing teachers of the city. Among the number will be two selections by a chorus of 250 male voices from the three singing societies.

Music was distributed to the representatives of the various musical organizations and choirs for the ballads and choruses. General practice will begin this week. For the last week the students of the seventh and eighth grades of the public schools have been practicing on several carols.

GREAT NORTHERN MUST SHOW CAUSE

Cutting Off Sunday Train Causes Commission to Take Action.

Because of the discontinuance of the Great Northern Sunday passenger train between Duluth and Grand Forks, N. D., the Minnesota State Railway and Warehouse commission has set a hearing for next Saturday at the Duluth Commercial club. Officials of the railway and of cities, towns and villages affected by the change have been notified by the commission to be present.

The Great Northern took off its Sunday train a week ago yesterday together with other day trains throughout the system, which officials of the road say is in accordance with their winter policy of retrenchment.

O. Roy Hall, secretary of the traffic commission of the Commercial club, will appear in behalf of Duluth and other towns affected.

ON THE IRON RANGES

RANGE PLACES NOT AFFECTED

So Far as Known No Orders Are Received to Close Saloons.

Hibbing, Chisholm and Grand Rapids Ignorant of Such Orders.

Hibbing, Minn., Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Although this is supposed to be the last day of grace for the saloons located in the so-called Indian treaty country and they are supposed to close tonight for good no orders to that effect have been received in this locality and none is expected. There are sixty-three saloons in Hibbing and all are running full blast without any intimation this is their last day and they do not appear to expect it. Various interpretations of the government's closing order have been made and these generally go to show that this section of the state will not be included, the order applying chiefly to the country in the immediate territory contingent to the Indian reservations in the locality of Bemidji, Walker and Bena.

Chisholm Saloons Running.

Chisholm, Minn., Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The thirty-seven local saloons are running today as usual and no order or intimation has been received that they will be closed. Local saloonmen have decided to put up a fight in the courts if they get closing orders but they do not look for such orders. It is claimed there are two eastern boundaries to the treaty, one running between Chisholm and Buhl and the other along by Swan lake, about twenty miles west of Hibbing. Which one applies to this section is not definitely known. It seems to be the prevailing opinion that the closing order will not be applied to this part of the Mesaba range.

Grand Rapids Wide Open.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—All of the nine local saloons are running today and so far as known none of the proprietors have received orders to close tonight because of the "dry" Indian treaty provision going into effect then. It seems to be believed that the treaty will not be enforced this far east of the reservation.

BOY IS DROWNED IN MISSISSIPPI

Grand Rapids Youth Breaks Through Ice Near Village.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—William Beaudry, the 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Beaudry, was drowned Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the Mississippi river, a mile west of the village.

William, with his brother, Herbert, 11 years old, and Lee Johnson, 12, left after dinner to go up the river hunting rabbits with their .22-caliber rifles. They also took skates. They walked to the new bridge across the Mississippi, a mile west of town, and when they got there William wanted to go down and try the ice. He walked off the embankment and onto the ice until he got to the middle, when the ice broke down under him, throwing him into the icy water. The boy could swim quite well, and he kept himself from sinking, making a brave struggle to keep from going down.

Takes Off Sweater.

He even had the presence of mind to take off his sweater to better swim. In the meantime his companions made brave efforts to help him out. Taking some poles which they got out of the nearby woods, they went with them out onto the ice and tried to get him out, but were unable to do so. They then told him to hang on, and they would run to town and get help. They started for town, arriving at the Beaudry home aoout 4 o'clock. Automobiles were at once secured and made record runs for the scene, but the boy had not been able to withstand the chill of the icy water, and had gone down in fourteen feet of water. Boats, planks and other equipment were procured and a search started for the body, which was found about 9 o'clock last night near where the body was last seen struggling in the icy water.

ITASCA COUNTY WOMAN KILLED

Mrs. J. G. Bloomquist Accidentally Shot By Her Husband.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. J. G. Bloomquist, living near Alvwood, Itasca county, was shot accidentally and killed by her husband, according to word received here. It is claimed Mr. Bloomquist was preparing to go hunting and was cleaning a high-power rifle when it was discharged and the bullet struck his wife in the right ankle, fracturing the bone. As the woman had been sick for some time, it is claimed, the shock of the injury hastened death.

STILL IN HOSPITAL.

One of Men Who Escaped From Sibley Mine in Bad Shape.

Ely, Minn., Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Frank Merhar who escaped from the Sibley mine here recently when five men were entombed, is suffering from a nervous breakdown which threatens to keep him confined in the hospital for some time.

When the crash came, Merher was standing at the entrance to one of the drifts and he made his escape by passing through one of the underground tunnels to the Savoy mine. He was not bruised or hurt, but the strain and fright has rendered him a nervous wreck.

RAIN STOPS SKATING.

Hibbing Skaters Robbed of Their Fun By Sunday's Drizzle.

Hibbing, Minn., Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Winter sport enthusiasts who made merry at the munic pal skating rink Saturday night for the first time this month, had to forgo this pleasure yesterday because of mild weather. Before 8 o'clock at night a slight drizzle had set in and the rink was completely flooded with water.

D. L. Griffin, caretaker, announces the warming house, to be built adjoining the rink will be ready before skating sets in permanently for the winter. The warming house will be large enough to accommodate most of the skaters, it is expected.

NO HOPE FOR LEQUIER.

Man Convicted of Murder at Lake Vermilion Loses Motion.

Virginia, Minn., Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Homer Lequier, convicted of murdering William Furnie at Wadman's Point on Lake Vermilion near Tower, about a year ago, will have to serve his life sentence in the state penitentiary, so far as Judge Hughes is concerned as the judge Saturday afternoon after hearing arguments in favor of a new trial denied the motion. It develops that two of the state's important witnesses, one of them Rube Waddell, the famous pitcher, is dead. It is claimed that Lequier after killing and robbing his victim of $300 the dead man was known to have, set fire to the tent in which Furnie was living badly burning the body, evidently to cover up the crime.

HIBBING COUNCIL MAY HIRE ARCHITECT.

Hibbing, Minn., Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—At the meeting of the village council tomorrow night it is probable that members will consider the appointment of an architect for the courthouse to be built here this winter. The building will cost approximately $75,000 and plans and specifications for such a building may be in order.

SCHOOL DANCE FOR CHRISTMAS MONEY.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—A basket social was held at the Wawina schoolhouse on Saturday evening, given jointly by Miss Nell Williams, teacher at Wawina, and Miss Viola Franti, teacher at the Westfork school. The proceeds of the entertainment go to defray the expenses of a Christmas tree for the children of the two schools. About $40 was realized.

MANY ATTEND HIBBING CONCERT.

Hibbing, Minn., Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Drizzle yesterday afternoon made motoring and skating impossible and many of those who would have enjoyed themselves in this fashion attended the victrola concert given by Miss Stella Wiley at the Carnegie library, making this the best attended of the series of entertainments planned for the winter.

MOUNTAIN IRON TO HAVE NIGHT SCHOOL.

Mountain Iron, Minn., Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Supt. J. F. Muench announces that commencing tonight, night school will be held on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings of each week from 7:30 to 9 o'clock. Instruction will be given in any subject in which there is sufficient interest, entirely free of charge.

A motorcycle, ridden by a Hibbing man, ran into M. H. Godfrey's automobile, as the latter was standing still near the trolley waiting station, Thanksgiving day. The motorcycle was considerably damaged as was also its rider. The automobile was damaged, too.

INFURIATED DEER ATTACKS HUNTER.

Buhl, Minn., Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Being attacked by a deer was the unusual experience related by Herbert Franklin of this village, who returned Sunday from a hunting trip near Dead Man's lake with a 267-pound buck He bears a nasty scar on the side of his face where, he alleges, the deer hooked him.

"The buck was only a few yards from me," he said. "I came upon him quietly and he did not see me. I raised my gun and pulled the trigger. A click was the only response on the part of the gun. The deer evidently heard the noise as he turned about and espied me. While I was tampering with the gun he looked at me about a quarter of a second and then, lowering his head, came for me. I dodged to one side and his horn just brushed my cheek where you see the mark. He stopped short, turned about and came for me again. By that time I had the gun working and I plunked him right here in the forehead. You can see the hair singed by the fire from the barrel, so close was I."

DULUTHIAN URGES POLES TO BE FRUGAL

Tells Virginia Gathering They Should Save to Help Country.

Virginia, Minn., Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—There was a notable gathering of Polish residents of the range here yesterday to celebrate the 84th anniversary of the last revolution in Poland to bring about Polish freedom. North Pole hall was crowded to the doors and the speakers were frequently applauded as they made telling points. Mayor Boylan, Senator O. H. Grigg, Atone Grabarkiewcz of Duluth and others who are prominent members of that nation from various points spoke. Prior to the speaking there was a parade to the hall.

Mr. Grabarkiewcz, who has charge of the mail carriers in the Duluth postoffice, made a telling speech that aroused great enthusiasm. He urged frugality and sobriety among the Poles to raise money to help their war-afflicted fellow countrymen and to work for the eventual freedom of that harried land. The hope was expressed that out of the shock of war would come a new Poland, free in every sense from Russian and other influences.

"TOM" MICHAUD IN AUTOMOBILE WRECK

Virginia, Minn., Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Tom Michaud, the well known Duluth hotel man, was injured in an automobile accident about 9 a. m. here today when the car in which he and others were riding collided with a pillar on the Narrows bridge between Virginia and Silver lakes. Mr. Michaud was cut about the face and hands by broken glass from the windshield. He is at the Fay hotel, where he is being treated. His injuries are not considered serious.

FOR SELLING VENISON.

Man Arrested Near Orr Charged With Violating Game Laws.

Virginia, Minn., Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Judge Carey in municipal court this afternoon is trying with a jury of six the charge preferred by Game Warden Wood against Henry Walberg, arrested near Orr on the charge of selling venison. Walberg pleaded not guilty and demanded a jury trial.

Eli Gliechzi was fined $25 for carrying concealed weapons. It developed a policeman saw him in a gun store buying pistols and cartridges and leave. Then the officer got busy.

McKAY'S FATE NOW RESTS WITH JUDGE.

Virginia, Minn., Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Judge Hughes took under advisement late Saturday the question whether George McKay of Kelsey was insane when he killed his father, John McKay. Drs. Boyer of Duluth and Crowe of Virginia who have observed the case gave it as their opinions McKay was not in his right mind when he killed his father. Walter McKay, a brother, related various queer actions of the accused. If Judge Hughes holds McKay was insane when he killed his father the will not, of course, be tried for murder at the term of court that opens here next Wednesday, but will be confined in the state hospital for the criminal insane at St. Peter.

VIRGINIA BOARD WILL EAT VENISON.

Virginia, Minn., Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The members of the school board will be regaled at Roosevelt high school this evening on a venison dinner prepared and served by the domestic science class.

Couple Given Surprise.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The community spirit is growing in the settlement around the east end of Pokegama lake, and Saturday evening a large party consisting of practically all the people in the community visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Carlson south of the lake, giving them a genuine surprise. A splendid supper was provided.

Miss Mabel Cooper, teacher in the La Prairie school, is enjoying a visit from Miss Alma B. Campbell of Mantorville, and Miss Laura Dingler, who teaches in the Warba school. Miss Campbell is county superintendent of schools of Dodge county, and both Miss Dingler and Miss Cooper taught school in that county under her.

Gypsies Leave Virginia.

Virginia, Minn., Nov. 30.—A band of gypsies, numbering about a dozen, who invaded Virginia several days ago, have departed this city at the urgent request of Chief of Police Gately, who issued orders for the wandering fortune tellers to decamp after a number of Poplar street residents had complained that the nomads had rented a house in that prominent thoroughfare and intended to remain there for the winter.

SUPPRESSES STORY OF GERMAN CHIVALRY

British Censor Seals Lips of People on Ship.

Boston, Nov. 30.—The British steamship Kabinga, captured by the German cruiser Emden and saved from being sunk by the presence aboard of the captain's wife and son, arrived last night from Calcutta, several days overdue as a result of storms.

Newspaper reporters on a chartered tug went down to the Kabinga, which anchored in the lower harbor to learn from Mrs. Gertrude Robinson, the captain's wife, details concerning the gallantry of Capt. von Muller of the Emden in turning the ship over to her. The British censor apparently had disapproved of the plan, for when the steamer arrived she carried an official-looking envelope. When the tugs came alongside interviews were refused.

OFFICIAL WHO "TOOK SQUEEZE" IS KILLED

Execution Creates Great Excitement in Chinese Circles.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Pekin, Oct. 27.—Wang Chih Hsing, the ex-prefect of Shuntienfu, the metropolitan district in which Pekin is situated, has been executed by shooting because of bribery and corruption—for selling offices under him and accepting "squeeze." Wang Chih Hsing held the military rank of lieutenant general.

The case has caused great excitement in political circles in China, especially because Gen. Wang was a personal friend of Yuan Shi Kai. It is reported that the president sent an emissary to the family of the general, informing them of his regret at having to fulfill the law in order to stamp out corruption, and of his intention to provide for the maintenance of the family.

Many minor officials also have lost their lives because of dishonesty, and opium smokers continue to die at the hands of the soldiers. The governor of the important province of Kansu has been dismissed from office because he did not believe in the sincerity of the president, when, recently, orders were issued that the time honored custom of sending rich gifts to the emperor on the anniversary of his birthday was not to be followed in the case of the president.

SCHOOL BOARD WILL MEET FRIDAY

Members Expect Little Business Except Routine Matters.

The board of education will hold a meeting on Friday evening of this week, at which the regular monthly business will come up for disposal.

It was expected by some that the matter of the Morgan Park schools and that of the junior high school in connection with the Lincoln school at the West end would come up, but that is unlikely, according to F. A. Brewer, president of the board, and one of the active members of the building committee. The Morgan Park school matter will probably be put over for several months, and it may be that no action will be taken on it before next fall as there is great uncertainty as to what is needed. As to the Lincoln school, there will probably be no action before the January meeting and perhaps not until February.

THREE MURDERS ARE LAID TO ONE MAN.

Asheboro, N. C., Nov. 30.—Lowe Daniels, charged with killing his sister, Cora Daniels, his sister-in-law, Ethel Luther, and Edgar Varner, a visitor, and possibly fatally wounding his wife at their home near here on Saturday night, today was taken to the scene of the crime for a preliminary examination. He had been in jail here since yesterday, but refused to discuss the crime.

ROCKEFELLER ASKS TO CHANGE HIS PLEA

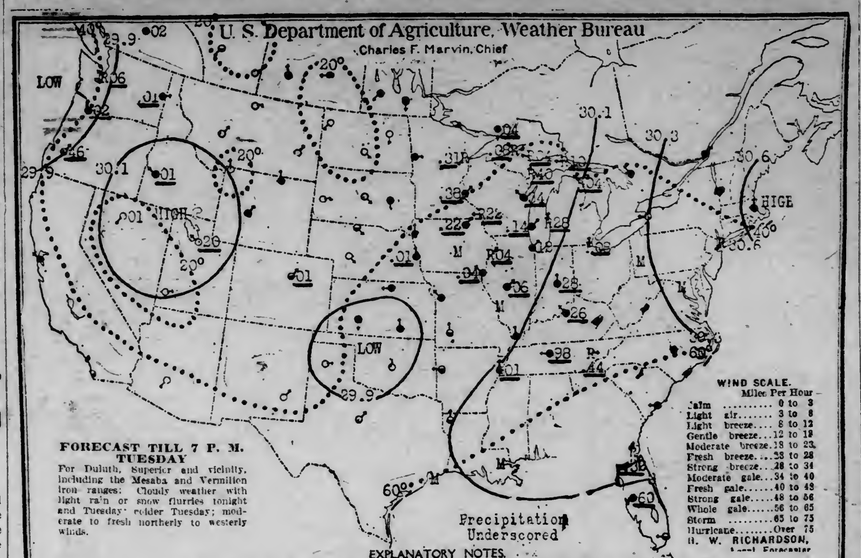

Taft, Brooker, Skinner and Elton Also Act in New Haven Case.

New York, Nov. 30.—William Rockefeller, Standard Oil millionaire, besought today permission of the Federal court to change his plea to the indictment charging him and twenty other former directors of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad company with criminal violation of the anti-trust law. Mr. Rockefeller filed a plea in abatement last Monday.

Mr. Rockefeller was joined in his application for such permission by Robert W. Taft, Charles A. Brooker, William Skinner and James S. Elton. These defendants filed pleas in abatement with Mr. Rockefeller last Monday. In their application to Judge Sessions the defendants did not indicate the nature of the plea that they had in mind, but simply asserted their desire to file a substitute plea.

Under the plea in abatement, they sought to have the indictment dismissed on the grounds that it was defective. The alleged defect consisted of the fact that one of the court officials connected with drafting the indictment was a resident of New Jersey instead of New York.

OFFICIAL MAP OF THE WEATHER

FORECAST TILL 7 P. M. TUESDAY

For Duluth, Superior and vicinity, including the Mesaba and Vermilion iron ranges: Cloudy weather with light rain or snow flurries tonight and Tuesday; colder Tuesday; moderate to fresh northerly to westerly winds.

EXPLANATORY NOTES.

Observations taken at 8 a. m. seventy-fifth meridian time. Air pressure reduced to sea level. Isobars (continuous lines) pass through points of equal air pressure. Isotherms (dotted lines) pass through points of equal temperature. ○ clear; ◒ partly cloudy; ● cloudy; R rain; S snow; M report missing. Arrows fly with the wind. Shaded areas show precipitation of .01 inch or more in past 24 hours.

CLOUDY

The rain that fell all night and seems to be on the job for the rest of the day, gives the air a touch of May. The sight of angle-worms stretched out on the sidewalks and lawns in response to the warm rain is not a very usual sight on the last day of November and there are thousands of them out today.

Some snow fell a year ago today. The sun rose this morning at 7:32 and will set this afternoon at 4:21, giving eight hours and forty-nine minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Rain fell during Sunday or last night over the lake region, Mississippi and Ohio valleys, South Atlantic and North Pacific states. Heavy rain occurred at Jacksonville, Fla. Mild weather prevails in most districts to the eastward of the Rocky Mountains, but in the Northwest the temperature has turned colder since Sunday morning."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, Nov. 30.—Forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Tuesday:

Wisconsin—Unsettled weather tonight and Tuesday, probably showers; cooler Tuesday afternoon or night.

Minnesota—Mostly cloudy tonight and Tuesday, probably showers or snow flurries in east portion; somewhat cooler Tuesday and in northwest portion tonight.

North Dakota and South Dakota—Partly cloudy tonight and Tuesday; cooler in east portion tonight.

Montana—Partly cloudy tonight and Tuesday; rain or snow in west portion.

Upper Lakes — Fresh northwest winds; rain in south districts, snow in north districts with cooler tonight and Tuesday.

STAMP TAX AND STOCKS

Covers Nearly Every Transaction in Shares From Original Issue.

"Puts" Are Exempt But "Calls" Are Taxable Under Law.

By Attorney J. J. Robinson.

The stamp tax law dealing with stock certificates provides for a tax of 5 cents on each $100 of face value or fraction thereof on each original issue of certificates of stock, whether on organization of a corporation or reorganization. It further provides for a tax of 2 cents on each $100 of face value or fraction thereof on each sale, agreement to sell, memoranda of sale, delivery or transfer of shares of stock in any corporation.

This provision covers nearly every stock transaction from the original issue of the stock certificate to any sale, transfer or agreement to sell same.

There are cases, however, which are not subject to this tax. Preferred stock issued in lieu of common stock is not taxable when there is no change of ownership. Where brokers acting in behalf of their principals buy stock and receive stamped bills of sale in their own names, they may transfer such stock on the books of the corporation to the names of their principals without additional stamp tax. Where certificates of shares are sold and delivered before Dec. 1, 1914, but the entry of transfer on the corporate books will be made on or before Dec. 1, they do not require stamps.

New certificates of stock to holder in lieu of original certificate, and remaining in his ownership, do not require stamps. Where A owns a certificate of 100 shares of stock and transfers fifty shares to B, and has two certificates of fifty shares each issued in lieu of the 100-share certificate, fifty shares going to A and fifty to B, the tax imposed is on the transfer to B; there is no tax on A's transfer to himself.

When a certificate of stock is sold and the stamp tax is paid on the memorandum thereof, upon transfer of this certificate to the purchaser's name no additional tax for such transfer is required. The attorney general decided that "puts" are not subject to the tax but "calls," being agreements to sell, are taxable.

The following rulings issued by the treasury department help to clarify the above provision:

"In reckoning the stamp tax on transfer of certificates of stock, the tax is reckoned on the face value. In reckoning this tax, the fact that only part of the face value of shares subscribed for and issued has been paid by the shareholders is not to be taken into consideration. Where stock is sold at the par value of $100, and upon which it appears that only $25 has been paid, the tax is to be reckoned upon the face value of $100, and not upon the $25. Where one certificate represents several shares, the tax of 2 cents on each $100 or fraction thereof is to be reckoned on the face value of the certificate, and not on the face value of each separate share. On transfer of one certificate representing 500 shares, $5 par value, the stamp tax required is 50 cents.

"When stock is transferred for which no certificate has been issued, and the evidence of transfer is shown only by books of the company, the stamps should be placed upon such books. Where the change of ownership is by the transfer of a certificate, and the certificate contains a blank form of assignment on the back, which is filled in by the insertion of the name of the person to whom the stock is transferred, the stamp should be placed upon the certificate. In case of an agreement to sell, or where the transfer is, by the delivery of the certificate, signed in blank, the name of the transferee or vendee to be filled in afterwards, there should be made and delivered by the seller to the buyer a bill or memorandum of sale, to which the stamp should be affixed. Transfers of stocks from parties occupying fiduciary relationships to those for whom they held the stock are transfers subject to taxation."

CAUSED BY OVEREATING

Deficient gastric secretion, meaning a lack of the fluids necessary for digestion, is a prevalent condition. You may have it now and not know it because you are able to get along without actual discomfort even with your enfeebled digestion.

But if you overeat—then you are in trouble. You have indigestion because you have given your weakened stomach too much to do. The deficient gastric secretion was what doctors call the predisposing cause, the overeating was the exciting cause. It is easy not to repeat the overeating but the predisposing cause must be corrected if you are to be well.

The secretions that digest the food come from glands that are nourished directly by the blood. When these secretions are insufficient the only way to restore their healthful condition is by building up the blood. This can be done by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, the non-alcoholic tonic that assists nature in keeping the body in health. Proper attention to diet and the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills should be tried in cases of disordered digestion because it is the simple and natural way to correct the trouble.

Send today for a copy of our free diet book "What to Eat and How to Eat." Address the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

ANTARTIC CRUISE HALTED BY STRIKE

Sir Ernest Shackleton's Expedition Is Delayed at Sydney.

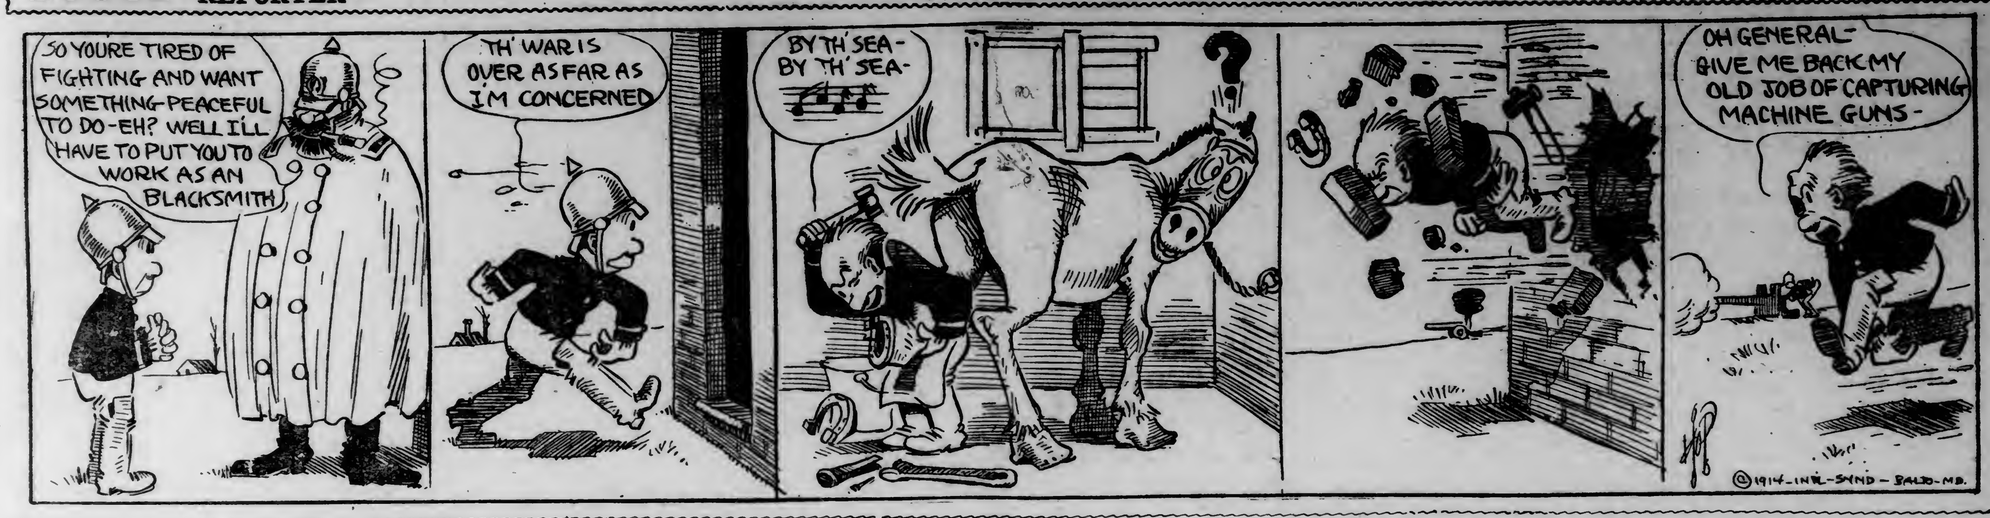

London, Nov. 30.—A dispatch to Reuter's Telegram company from Sydney, N. S. W., states that a strike in the dockyards has delayed the departure of the Antarctic ship Aurora, which is to carry a section of Sir Ernest Shackleton's Antarctic expedition and that the indications are that Shackleton will not start on his trans-Atlantic journey until next year.

Prize North Dakota Corn.

St. Thomas, N. D., Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The prize ear of corn grown in North Dakota this year is that exhibited by Patrick Kelly, residing near this city.

The ear has a total of 1,046 kernels—it measures 18 inches long, 9 inches in circumference and has 22 rows of kernels.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

STRAY BULLET HITS HUNTER

Ironwood Man Wounded in Leg While Hunting in Erwin Township.

Makes Second Gogebic County Man Injured During Present Season.

Ironwood, Mich., Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Emil Holaapa of the Eighth ward was shot through the thigh by a stray bullet. The bullet shattered the bone and inflicted an ugly wound. He may lose his leg, as he was unable to secure surgical assistance for several hours.

Emil Holaapa and Andrew Jacobson, both of this city, were deer hunting in the southern part of Erwin township, using an old camp on McDonald creek, a tributary of the Black river. Just before the accident, it being evening, the men opened the door of the camp to let in some fresh air. Shortly afterward the report of a rifle was heard, and Holaapa fell to the floor with a bullet hole through the thigh.

Companion Calls Out.

Jacobson ran to the door and called out, receiving an answer from some one on the trail, but the unknown person disappeared and was not seen or heard from again. After making Holaapa as comfortable as possible, Jacobson left for Ironwood to get help for the unfortunate one. The injured man is now being cared for at Newport hospital.

Holaapa is the second hunter accidentally shot in Gogebic county since the hunting season opened.

Leo Dishaw of Ewen was shot in the ribs at Tula, in Wakefield township, last week by an unknown hunter.

PROGRESSIVE PARTY OFF POLITICAL MAP

Practically Lost Its Identity in North Dakota Election.

Bismarck, N. D., Nov. 30.—Figures which are practically official show that the Progressive party has lost its identity in North Dakota. It has failed to get the 25 per cent of the average vote, as required by law. Aaaker, the Bull Moose candidate, received 3,817 votes with three counties missing, so that his vote probably will hardly reach the 4,000 mark.

The Socialist candidate for governor polled 5,188 votes, while Brown, candidate for United States senator, got only 2,597, and will be low man on the ticket.

Hanna Majority 9,451.

Governor Hanna polled 44,269, as against Hellstrom's 34,809, or a majority of 9,461. Senator Gronna's lead over Purcell will be more than 18,000. His total vote is 48,583, as against 29,918 for Purcell.

Woman's suffrage is defeated by more than 7,000. With Sheridan and Morton counties to be heard from, there were 45,410 against and 38,116 for. It carried in the following counties: Adams, Billings, Bottineau, Burke, Divide, Eddy, Golden Valley, Griggs, Mountrail, McKenzie, Renville, Towner, Ward and Williams.

McIntosh registered proportionately the heaviest vote against the issue. In that county there were only 77 in favor of woman's suffrage to 708 against.

MURDERS HIS WIFE AND SHOOTS SELF

Traveling Man, Spurred By Jealousy, Commits Double Crime.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 30.—Apparently deranged by jealousy, Frank Brown, a traveling salesman, Saturday murdered his bride of seven weeks and is at the City hospital dying from a self-inflicted bullet wound.

The couple came here about a month ago and took up light housekeeping. The police found Mrs. Brown dead in a chair at the table. Brown lay wounded on the floor beside her. The couple had apparently just finished lunch.

Brown himself is wounded in the chest, and is believed to be dying.

According to Mrs. Jessie Cook, who operates the rooming house, Mrs. Brown had expressed to her a belief that her husband was mentally deranged, and had told of her intention to consult a specialist. She also told Mrs. Cook a week ago to notify her mother, Mrs. Louise Schuneman, Sturgeon Bay, Wis., and a brother, Fred Schuneman, Sawyer, Wis., if anything happened to her.

WHITE SLAVER HAS ADMITTED HIS GUILT.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 30.—J. A. McPherson of Chicago in the Federal court pleaded guilty to violation of the Mann white slave law. He will be sentenced Tuesday. McPherson transported Jessie Thompson, cousin of his wife, to Chicago and Minnesota.

SPOONER NOTES.

Spooner, Minn., Nov. 30. — Seymour Backus, the son of E. W. Backus, is now in charge of the affairs of the International Lumber company during the absence of his father. He succeeds J. F. Roche, who resigned as superintendent.

The work of dredging on Judicial Ditch No. 20, being the ditch leading along the range line from Red Lake north, was completed last week.

Notice from the postal department has been received of the winter schedule on the Canadian Northern railway. The carrying of mail on Nos. 21 and 22 will be discontinued and all mail either east or west will be carried on Nos. 1 and 2.

SAYS CANDIDATE WAS ELECTION CLERK.

Fosston, Minn., Nov. 30.—In instituting action in the district court to contest the election of Ereng Grundysen as commissioner of this district, J. Bjontegard alleges among other things that Grundysen acted as one of the clerks of election on Nov. 3, which is prohibited in the case of a candidate for office.

It is also alleged that in the town of Sletten, where Grundysen acted as election clerk, crowds of men gathered inside the polling place and unlawfully interfered with the voters, and that Grundysen, acting as clerk of said election illegally procured and persuaded a large number of voters about the casting of their ballots.

Other reasons are set up in the petition why, in the opinion of the contestant, Grundysen was not duly elected as commissioner from the Fourth district.

CROSBY MAN'S HOME DESTROYED BY FIRE.

Crosby, Minn., Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fire Saturday destroyed the home of Charles Bakke, on Third avenue west and Second street north. The fire was discovered by men returning from work at the mines but had gained such headway that the department could do little except save adjoining property. The building was a small one-story frame structure and was a total loss. No insurance was carried. Mr. Bakke was away at the time on his farm in Aitkin county and his wife had been staying with friends at a nearby house. An overheated stove is believed to have been the cause. The adjacent residence of George Bjorklund was damaged about $200. The loss on the Bakke place amounts to about $1,200.

TAKEN TO GEORGIA.

Former North Dakotan Taken South on Family Desertion Charge.

Bismarck, N. D., Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Gustav Askerooth's great love of North Dakota, and his wife's equally ardent love of Atlanta, Ga., is responsible for the arrest of Askerooth in Sargent county, charged with the desertion of his minor daughter, who is in the custody of the mother at Atlanta.

Residents of North Dakota for twenty-seven years, the couple went to Atlanta last year. The woman became infatuated with the place, and when the husband decided they should remove to North Dakota again, she refused to accompany him here, Akerooth says.

Nothing daunted, Askerooth went about his plans for the retaking of his North Dakota home, and he has since resided here. Governor L. B. Hanna has honored the requisition of the governor of Georgia, and Askerooth will be extradited to face the charge made by his wife.

HARD FOR MISSIONARIES.

War Adds to Troubles in the Heart of Africa.

Ellendale, N. D., Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The European war has had its effect on the savage tribes of Equatorial Africa, according to John Wright, a missionary of the Presbyterian church, located near the equator in Western Africa, who is home for several months because of the war conditions.

"The European war has made the work of the missionaries extremely difficult," says Mr. Wright. "The uncivilized tribes of Central Africa feel its effects in more ways than one, and there is great unrest evident."

The tribes among which Mr. Wright has been working for years are among the most savage of those of Africa, who have, only within the last few years, ceased their everlasting war on each other, in which the prizes have nearly always been women and girls, carried away by the victors.

STARTS CONTEST FOR OFFICE OF SHERIFF.

Sherwood, N. D., Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Alleging that there was an error in the count of the vote in certain precincts and that in one a recount will show that he has been elected sheriff, Adolph Sorenson has instituted a contest against Martin Haugan. The latter, on the official count, was declared elected sheriff by ten votes over Sorenson.

ALLEGED FORGER IS UNDER ARREST.

Benedict, N. D., Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—As a result of a number of check forgeries for small sums E. W. Sullins has been placed under arrest and is now in jail at Washburn. Two or more of his alleged forgeries were passed here. He was captured at Ruso and taken to Washburn. Max and Garrison are said to have been the scenes of similar efforts on his part.

LOSES LIFE TRYING TO SAVE PET DOG.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 30.—When Mrs. F. P. Price, wife of a well known Minneapolis business man, rushed to the edge of a 100-foot embankment near the Town and Country club near here Saturday night to save her French poodle, which stood looking over the brink, the earth beneath her crumbled. A terrified scream attracted her husband, who was repairing a broken motor car nearby, and he reached the spot just as she plunged through the darkness to her death.

The dog also fell over the embankment, but was uninjured.

Mrs. Price was prominent in social circles.

LARIMORE WOMAN DIES AFTER INJURY.

Larimore, N. D., Nov. 30.—Mrs. James Henry died here Sunday evening at the age of 65 years. Mrs. Henry had been confined to her home for the past week following the fracture of her leg last Sunday. Attending physicians called a short time previous to her death and she appeared to be in good health. Fifteen minutes later she was found dead. She is survived by five children.

Cuts Throat on Bridge.

No New High School.

Bismarck, N. D., Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The state board of education, though empowered to establish five new agricultural high schools this year, will not do so. This decision has already been made by the board, which desires, instead, to maintain the income of the five schools already established at as high a point as possible.

Will Live at Hotel.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 30.—E. L. Philipp, governor-elect, will not occupy the gubernatorial mansion here. He has announced that he will maintain the family residence in Milwaukee and stay at a hotel here during legislative sessions, spending the week-end with his family in Milwaukee whenever possible.

No Grand Forks Court.

Grand Forks, N. D., Nov. 30.—It is announced that there will be no term of U. S. district court here. The only case on the calendar that of D. A. Dinnie against the Chicago Portland Cement company, has been continued and with nothing to try, the term has been called off.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Bismarck, N. D.—Carl Hansen, released from the penitentiary, enjoyed liberty for about one minute. He walked out of the penitentiary gates at 1 o'clock a free man, for all he knew. He had taken but a few steps when he was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Roop for robbery here.

Why Have the People Used Over a Hundred Million Boxes?

The extraordinary merit of Laxative Bromo Quinine explains the reason why the people of all nations have used the enormous quantity of over One Hundred Million (100,000,000) Boxes of this famous remedy.

After reading the accompanying label from the box of Laxative Bromo Quinine, telling what it does and how it does it, you can understand why this remedy is used so effectively by so many millions of people. Whenever you feel a cold coming on think of the name Laxative Bromo Quinine.

An excellent remedy for Coughs and Colds. Relieves the Cough and also the feverish conditions and Headache, which are usually associated with colds. The second or third dose will relieve the Cough and Headache and will move the bowels well within 8 or 10 hours, when the cold will be relieved. In treating colds it is very important that the bowels should move well every day. This preparation moves the bowels gently without griping, and arouses the liver and all the secretions to action. Directions:—Adults two tablets is the usual dose and should be taken immediately after each meal and before going to bed. Some persons, who are delicate, only require one. Take sufficient to just keep the bowels open freely until the Cough and Cold is relieved: then take one-half the dose for a few days. Children who are not old enough to swallow pills, the tablet can be broken or cut in half and given in proportion to age. To be swallowed not chewed. For headache, take 2 tablets every 2 or 3 hours until relieved.

SHARP BULGE AT THE CLOSE

Wheat Jumps in Late Trading With Decrease in Visible Supply.

Flaxseed Trading Is Featureless—Quotations Slightly Off in Day.

Duluth Board of Trade, Nov. 30.—The market bulged sharply at the close, with buying on the increase shown in the American visible supply. December wheat closed ⅞c up and May 1⅛c up. November durum closed 2½c up; December 2½c up and May 2c up.

Oats closed unchanged at 44½c for on the track and rye closed 1c off at $1.02 and barley 3c off at from 53c to 67c.

At Winnipeg, December oats closed ⅛c off at 55⅝c bid and May unchanged to ⅛c up at 56¾@56½c bid.

Puts on Minneapolis May wheat closed at $1.17¼ and May at $1.19.

The wheat market was a draggy affair today, and with quiet demand from any quarter, quotations eased off from the opening.

On account of the continued heavy receipts of the American markets, the large supplies of winter wheat still in the elevators or in growers' hands, and the marketing of the Argentine crop to be expected within the next few weeks, some operators have revised their opinions somewhat of late regarding the future course of quotations. "I think we have seen high prices on this crop. Outside of durum, nothing appears to be wanted to any extent at present," said a prominent trader this morning.

It was intimated that foreigners have been showing a disposition to hold back of late in expectation of a further scaling down in prices. Good progress has been made in getting away grain at the Gulf ports, and with the relieving of the congestion, notice was issued today to the effect that the embargo against forwardings to Galveston had been removed.

Loading of grain on steamers at the elevators at the Head of the Lakes was light today, attributable to the moderate demand by Eastern millers and the large stocks now being carried at Buffalo and at the seaboard. Elevator men are of the opinion that they have abundant capacity in their houses to take care of the winter movement from interior points. Only a few contracts are said to have been entered into thus far for winter storage here, and that by just one house. It is thought that insurance extensions taken out for grain to be shipped down the lakes between the close of the regular shipping season tonight and Dec. 5 will be limited in number.

December wheat opened ⅝c off at $1.13, and it eased off ¼c more up to the closing hour. May opened ⅜c off at $1.18, and weakened ½c more. There was an active call for durum by belated traders, as shown in the wide spread of over 3c between cash and the December option. November durum opened unchanged at $1.27 and advanced ⅝c; December opened unchanged at $1.23 and gained 1½c; May opened unchanged at $1.26½ and bulged 1c.

Flaxseed Weak Again.

Trading in flaxseed was featureless and a weak tendency was in evidence. With shipments down the lakes for the windup of the season provided for, there was only limited treaders' inquiry and the volume of business put through in during the session was limited.

Closing prices showed declines of ¼@¾c.

November wheat opened unchanged at $1.45¾ and closed 1¼ off at $1.44½ bid. December opened unchanged at $1.44½ and closed 1c off at $1.43½ bid. May opened unchanged at $1.48½ and closed ½c off at $1.48¼ bid.

At Winnipeg, November flax closed 1½c up at $1.24. December closed at ...22½ bid and May at $1.29¼ bid.

MARKET GOSSIP.

Roumania has prohibited wheat exportations, and the price in Austria and Hungary has been advanced still further.

Supplies of wheat in Duluth and Minneapolis elevators as on Nov. 28 were 25,364,000 bu, against 27,222,000 bu last year. Stocks at Duluth were 9,100,000 bu against 10,970,000 bu last year, and at Minneapolis there was 16,264,000 bu, compared with 16,152,000 bu a year ago.

Stores of flaxseed in Duluth and Minneapolis elevators as on Nov. 28 were 1,031,000 bu against 2,908,000 bu last year. At Duluth there was 738,000 bu, compared with 2,669,000 bu a year ago and at Minneapolis 293,000 bu against 239,000 bu last year.

The rush of loading at the elevators today was not as large as had been expected in some quarters, the line boats having largely completed their cargoes Saturday and yesterday. Approximately 2,750,000 bu has been shipped out during the last couple of days but not yet reported out of store. Four steamers were reported at the elevators this morning for loads estimated as follows: Hawgood at the Peavey for 60,000 bu durum; Clement at the Peavey for 100,000 bu flax; the Wickwire at Elevator S for 150,000 bu flax, and the Turret Crown at the Consolidated for 35,000 bu bonded wheat.

C. E. Lewis & Co. had the following from Chicago: "Some foreign interests are circulating some very bearish news on the Argentine crop. They claim the crops are made and are of excellent quality and must be sold. They think the crop is very acceptable to the foreign crowd as it gives them a chance to make purchases as a much lower basis."

Fort William and Port Arthur stocks as on Nov. 28 as reported to Parker Paine: Wheat, 5,390,285 bu, against 5,907,578 bu, last week and 10,625,546 bu, last year; oats, 1,623,292 bu, against 2,173,823 bu, last week and 4,618,925 bu, last year; barley, 162,687 bu, against 299,068 bu, last week and 2,139,495 bu, last year; flax, 699,876 bu, against 1,116,132 bu, last week and 2,617,622 bu, last year.

A New York wire said: Exporters showing very little interest this morning. A good number of them have no cables. I am rather suspicious at this lack of interest. As far as having the orders, they have them all right, but getting the boats to ship is another question.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "There was a steadier undertone at the opening on the strength in Winnipeg and sellers of American winters were asking 3d advance, but later pressure developed on reports of better Argentine weather.

"American shipments were larger than expected and the amount on passage shows an increase, with stocks here liberal."

Reports from France are unanimous that growing conditions are generally satisfactory but the acreage will be largely under normal, even in districts not affected by the war.

On passage wheat increased 1,400,000 bu.; corn increased 1,638,000 bu.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Is Bearish Owing to Lower Cables and Big Northwest Receipts.

Chicago, Nov. 30.—Lower cables and big receipts in the Northwest had a bearish effect today on the wheat market here. Rains where needed in the domestic winter crop belt counted also against the bulls. The downward tendency of prices was checked only in part by signs that foreigners were actively taking cash wheat. After opening unchanged to ½c lower, the market rallied a little but then sagged lower than before.

An unexpected decrease in the United States visible supply total and the lifting of the railroad embargo on shipments to Galveston, resulted afterward in a quick upturn. The close was strong at ⅞c to 1⅛@1¼c net advance.

Heavy arrivals of new crop shipments gave a setback to corn. At first, however, unfavorable weather had a strengthening influence on the market. The opening, which ranged from ⅛ to ⅜c higher, was followed by a decided break all around.

Subsequently when wheat began to bulge the corn market gradually hardened. The close was firm, ¼c off to ⅛c up compared with Saturday night.

Oats were governed by corn. The volume of trade was moderate.

Provisions weakened owing to plentiful receipts of hogs at the principal western centers. For the most part though, selling was of a scattered character.

Wheat—No. 2 red, $1.12½@1.14⅝; No. 2 hard, $1.12¾@1.12¾.

OKLAHOMA JIM CROW LAW NOT ENJOINED

Washington, Nov. 30.—The judgment of the Oklahoma Federal courts, which refused to enjoin the operation of the Oklahoma Jim Crow law, was affirmed today by the supreme court. The lower court held the law constitutional, notwithstanding the section which provides sleeping, parlor and chair cars for white persons alone.

Justice Hughes, speaking for a majority of the supreme court, declined to agree with that contention, however, and a decree was not issued because the case set forth the rights of the negroes too generally.

Chief Justice White and Justices Holmes, Lamar and McReynolds joined the other justices in affirming the decision of the lower court, but did not concur with the holding of constitutionality as it refers to railroad cars.

Although a majority of the court expressed the opinion that the law was invalid, that was not decreed because of the error in the previous proceedings.

RAINY RIVER, ONT., HAS HEAVY FIRE

Baudette, Minn., Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Rainy River, Ont., just across the river from this place was visited by one of the worst fires in its history Saturday evening. Nearly two years' cut of the stave mill belonging to the Western Canada Milling company was destroyed. A strong wind from the south saved some buildings nearby. A barn near the mill was destroyed. By the untiring efforts of the firemen the stave mill was saved. The fire was discovered before 9 o'clock in the evening, but the firemen worked all night and Sunday morning to prevent it from spreading.

COURT ADJOURNS OUT OF RESPECT TO OFFICER

In respect to Edward Jensen, former court officer, who died last Thursday, Judge Windom adjourned the municipal and police courts for the afternoon.

The funeral service was held from Our Savior's Norwegian Lutheran church in West Duluth and was attended by a platoon of police from both Duluth and Superior. Six patrolman also served as active pallbearers.

Mr. Jensen was a member of the department for twenty years when he retired on Oct. 1 on a pension.

ST. PAUL WANTS STONE FROM DULUTH QUARRY

The Great Northern Land & Improvement company of St. Paul has sent an inquiry to Mayor W. I. Prince asking if Duluth has a quarry which could supply 100 cords of rock suitable for building a foundation. The secretary said that their inquiries had revealed that the nearest outside quarry is at Sandstone and that the freight charges would increase the cost of the material 200 per cent.

The mayor answered that the city would supply the stone at actual cost. Should an order be received it would be taken from the Point of Rocks in connection with the program for the opening of Superior street and the furnishing of work for the unemployed during the winter months. Mayor Prince did not know any of the details relative to the proposed building.

DULUTHIANS WILL GO TO BRAINERD.

Chairman Frank X. Gravel of the trade extension committee of the Commercial club reports that twenty-one Duluthians have already decided to go to Brainerd to attend the meeting of the Northern Minnesota Development association and the Minnesota Crop Improvement association, which will hold a joint meeting Dec. 1, 2, 3 and 4.

The Duluth party will take the Northern Pacific Flyer at 10 a. m. and reach Brainerd at 1:50 p. m. About half of the party expect to return on the evening train, which starts at 6:45 at Brainerd and arrives in Duluth at 11:25.

MEXICANS RUSTLING AMERICAN CATTLE.

Naco, Ariz., Nov. 30.—American cattle owners at Hereford, twelve miles west of here, reported to American civil and military authorities today that raiders from the camp of Governor Maytorena of Sonora had driven several hundred head of their stock across the line into Mexico Saturday night. Cowboys who cross the boundary to investigate reported that they found seventy-five American cattle in the camp of Maytorena's Yaqui Indians.

Maytorena disclaimed responsibility for the alleged raid and at the request of the cattlemen sent officers to the Yaqui camp to investigate. He said he would pay for all the animals killed and return the others. Mexican officers suggested that the cattle may have strayed across the line.

FEWER DEER KILLED IN MICHIGAN WOODS.

Lansing, Mich., Nov. 30.—Deer hunters in Michigan were not so successful this fall as in 1913, according to figures given out at the state game warden's office today. Up to last Friday night, less than 4,000 slain deer had been shipped down from the upper peninsula. More than 10,000 deer were killed last year.

DULLNESS IN BOND MARKET

Flood of Foreign Liquidation Fails to Materialize.

New York, Nov. 30.—The bond market opened dull and listless on the New York Stock exchange today, the first full day of trading of any sort since the exchange was closed on July 30. Unusual interest was manifested among brokers who thought that the two-hour session of Saturday did not afford a full test of conditions, and feared that there might be a general tendency to liquidate by foreign holders.

Nohthing of this sort developed during the first quarter hour of today's trading. For a few minutes after the opening the ticker remained silent; not a single bond was sold. Five minutes after the opening gong only nine bonds, with a face value of $9,000, had been sold. The market appeared to be in a state of stagnation.

Some Gains and Losses.

United States Steel 5's rose ½ to 99¾; Southern Pacific convertible 4's and Distillers' Securities 5's were off ½, selling at 80¾ and 55½, respectively. Westinghouse convertibles declined 3 points and Central Pacific 4's declined 3½ points.

All fears of a flood of liquidation from abroad seemed to vanish within the first quarter of an hour. Indications were that the second day of restricted trading in bonds would be much like the first.

As the day progressed, the bulk of the trading was in small lots, but occasionally twenty or thirty bonds changed hands in one transaction. Prices were irregular, with a better inquiry for a limited number of industrials and specialties whose products have been in greater demand by reason of the war.

Notable Declines.

Notable declines of the early session ranged from ½ to 7 points in Central Pacific 4's, Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway 5's, Oregon Short line 6's, and Lorillard 7's. Among the few advances were Interborough 4½'s, Pennsylvania 3½'s, and Lackawanna Steel 5's.

Altogether 46 different issues were traded in up to noon. At that time sales approximated $550,000.

Dealings fell away in the afternoon, the market having evidently exhausted its powers of absorption for the time. On the whole the price level was well sustained, most changes being merely fractional.

South St. Paul Livestock.

South St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 30.—Hogs—Receipts, 26,500; 10c lower; range, $7.00@7.20; bulk, $7.10@7.15.

Cattle—Receipts, 4,700; killers, steady to strong; steers, $4.75@8.75; cows and heifers, $4.50@7.00; calves, steady, $5.00@9.50; stockers and feeders, steady to strong, $4.50@6.85.

Sheep—Receipts, 7,200; steady; lambs, $5.00@8.65; wethers, $5.00@6.00; ewes, $2.50@5.00.

Chicago Livestock.

Chicago, Nov. 30.—Separation of quarantined and non-quarantined hogs failed to help prices today exect a little at the start. The main influence appeared to be the liberal receipts at Western points taken altogether. Choice beeves were scarce. Buyers seemed to need sheep and lambs but fought against any advance.

Hogs—Receipts, 31,000; unsettled; bulk, $7.20@7.55; light, $6.95@7.50; mixed, $7.20@7.65; heavy, $7.15@7.65; rough, $7.15@7.25; pigs, $4.50@6.25.

Cattle—Receipts, 13,000; steady to 10c higher; native, steers, $5.90@10.50; western, $5.40@9.00; cows and heifers, $3.50@9.30; calves, $8.00@11.25.

Sheep—Receipts, 20,000; slow; sheep, $5.40@6.35; yearlings, $6.50@7.85; lambs, $6.90@9.25.

London Rates.

London, Nov. 30.—Bar silver, 22⅞d per ounce. Money, 1 per cent. Discount rates: Short and three months' bills, 2⅞@3 per cent.

New York Paper.

New York, Nov. 30.—Mercantile paper, 4½@5. Sterling exchange steady; 60 days, 4.8675; sight, 4.9150; cables, $4.90; for demand, $4.89. Bar silver, 49½c.

Midway Horse Market.

Minnesota Transfer, St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 30.—Barret & Zimmerman report: Dealers report the market still unsatisfactory, offerings many, and little demand from any locality. Sam Montgomery and G. M. Hughes are on the market with carload shipments. A few local deliveries and shipments to Little Falls and Crookston, Minn., constitute the day's clearances. Prices about the same:

Fort Yates, N. D., Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—No definite promise has been secured from the Northern Pacific officials as to the date the Cannon Ball line south of Mandan to Mott will run to Fort Yates.

A Duty and an Opportunity

The American investor has both a duty and an opportunity in this world's crisis. The United States is at peace, its capital is neither being destroyed nor used up in financing the most destructive war ever known. But the country has felt the shock of warring Europe in the disturbance to international trade, the forced selling of securities by foreign holders, the tremendous money demand made upon it to pay for these securities and the loss of the normal consumptive market for the cotton crop.

The duty of the American investor is to meet this crisis by absorbing the distressed liquidation of gilt-edged stocks and bonds. He is not called upon to do this as a sacrifice which would mean, as in Europe's case, the swallowing up of his money in war's waste, but as an opportunity, which comes rarely, to buy the soundest investment securities that exist in the world today at extraordinary low prices.

The United States with all its immense resources and tremendous energy needs only the restoration of confidence to get going strong again. It can be quickened into prosperous activity by ample assurance that the

MAGIE GAINS; BUT SLOWLY

Recount Cuts Down Meining's Lead By Nineteen Votes.

About One-Third of the Ballots Have Been Checked.

With 5,954 out of approximately 18,650 ballots cast for sheriff at the general election this month rechecked, Frank L. Magie, defeated candidate has made a net gain of 19 notes in the recent proceedings which he instituted against John R. Meining, successful aspirant for the office of sheriff.

With sixty-three precincts outside of the city of Duluth yet to be recounted, Sheriff Meining's lead is 215 votes. Nine ballots have been taken out as disputed and if the Meining lead is cut down by a considerable figure, they will be referred to the court for its decision.

The inspectors of the ballots Saturday afternoon discovered but few discrepancies, except in the returns from Alborn, where eight Magie votes had been counted for Meining. A correction of this error gave Magie a gain of 16 votes.

In the Second precinct of Biwabik, six ballots were taken out as disputed votes because certain marks on each with reference to other candidates invalidated them. All of the six indicated a preference for Meining. The ballots will be referred to the court as exhibits.

This morning, another Meining vote in the Second district of Floodwood was disputed and held out to be referred to the court. In the town of Fayal, both candidates lost two votes and in the town of Field Magie lost one vote. He gained one, however, in one of the Great Scott precincts.

It is expected that the recount, so far as the outside districts are concerned will be concluded some time tomorrow. Stuntz township, where several hundred ballots were cast, will be recounted this afternoon, it is believed. After the outside precincts have been counted, the Duluth city count will be rechecked.

The inspectors who are conducting the recount are Ray M. Hughes, Thomas J. McKeon and Neil E. Beaton.

TWO ARE CAUGHT STEALING MEAT

Frank Wirta and Henry Keranen Held to Grand Jury.

Frank Wirta, 43, and Henry Keranen, 32, were caught redhanded late last evening while in the act of stealing some meat from a Cudahy refrigerator car back of the company's packing house at 132 West Michigan street. The two admit their guilt, and waiving examination in police court this morning, were bound over to the January grand jury.

E. R. Bennett and C. J. Deering, special agents for the Northern Pacific railroad, caught Wirta and Keranen just as they were coming out of the refrigerator car with a carcass of mutton. The officers nabbed the two men and while one held them, the other searched the premises and found a sack containing another carcass of mutton. Wirta and Keranen were then brought to police headquarters and booked up shortly before midnight on a charge of grand larceny in the second degree.

Wirta and Keranen did not deny their guilt and when arraigned before Judge Cutting this morning, waived examination and where then ordered held to the grand jury.

Wirty lives at 355 and Keranen at 312 South First avenue east.

FOUR BOYS HELD FOR SHOOTING DICE

One Placed on Probation; Three Face Juvenile Court.

Michael Karsner, 17 years old, who was arrested with three boys yesterday morning on a charge of shooting dice, pleaded guilty in police court this morning and was fined $15 and costs. Later sentence was continued for six months, during which time he will be on probation. The other three boys are to be tried in the juvenile court.

Karsner and his companions were shooting dice in the First alley, between Third and Fourth avenues west, when Patrolmen Connors, Ricketts and Honnold swooped down on them. The boys were unable to gather up the "pot" of twenty cents, which the officers brought to headquarters as evidence.

RATIFIED SALE WHEN SOBER

C. B. Metcroft Cannot Recover for Launch He Bought While Drunk.

Despite the fact that C. B. Metcroft was drunk when he bought a launch from the Patterson Boat & Launch company July 8, last, he is not entitled to have the sale set aside as a fraud, according to a decision handed down by Judge Dancer in district court this morning.

Metcroft, the court found, after recovering from the prolonged debauch during which he purchased the boat, ratified the sale. The sober consideration of the deal, the court held, prevented him from recovering for the price of the launch in an action which he has pending against the company.

The evidence in the case showed, according to the court's findings, that after Metcroft had sobered up he agreed to abide by his act provided the company would make certain needed repairs on the boat. The company agreed to do so, but failed. Metcroft then brought suit to recover the price of the boat.

"The court is satisfied," says Judge Dancer in a memorandum filed with the decision in the case, "that the plaintiff was not in a fit condition to transact business at the time of the sale in question, and that the defendant knowingly took advantage of that fact and secured from him $50 more for the launch than it would have asked of him if he had been in a fit condition. That was a bit of sharp practice which cannot be defended.

"It is, however, unnecessary to decide whether there was any actual fraud practiced upon the plaintiff for the reason that he thereafter ratified the sale and chose to rely upon the defendant's promise to put the launch into first-class condition. If the plaintiff has a cause of action against the defendant it is by reason of the failure of the defendant to perform its agreement in that respect, and if these findings become res judicata upon this point, the plaintiff will have no great difficulty in securing proper damages."

CARELESS ABOUT REPORTING BIRTHS

Duluth Physicians and Midwives Declared Unusually Delinquent.

Duluth physicians and midwives are very careless in the registration of births, according to the findings of the local committee appointed under the direction of the children's bureau at Washington, which is making an investigation of birth registrations in American cities.

The committee found that 25 per cent of 100 births which were checked had not been reported to the health department. The births were picked at random from various parts of the city from all walks of life and forty-eight physicians and four midwifes are represented. The state law requires that all births should be reported to the local registrar within ten days. Duluth is the first city in Minnesota to finish the survey. Dr. H. M. Bracken, secretary of the state board of health, has estimated that the average of unreported births in the state is 15 per cent, so that Duluth is more than usually delinquent in this respect.

The Washington bureau points out that birth registration is important for the protection of personal and property rights, in the relation of wards and guardians, and in facilitating the administration of estates and the settlements of insurance and pensions. Voting, jury and militia service, the right to admission into and practice in professions and public offices depend on the date of birth.

Those who served on the birth registration investigation committee and were the first body appointed to finish its survey are: Mrs. F. L. Barrows, chairman; Miss Margaret McGiffert, Miss Frances McGiffert, Mrs. John Frazer, Mrs. J. M. Hickox, Mrs. H. H. Phelps, Mrs. Marvin C. McLaren, Miss Louise Schueller, Mrs. F. C. Bowman, Mrs. Agnes L. Atwood, Mrs. A. A. Kerr and Miss K. L. Dolan.

BOY STILL MISSING.

Parents of Otto Quickstrom Fear Foul Play.

Otto Quickstrom, the 11-year-old boy, who disappeared from his home at 17 East Superior street Saturday morning, is still missing.

The boy's parents have appealed to the police in the search for their son and now fear that he has met with foul play. He was last seen playing at the rear of his home about 11 o'clock Saturday morning.

The boy wore corduroy pants, a brown coat and a checked hat when last seen.

Mr. Haverland was color-bearer of the Willis A. Gorman post here for years previous to his removal to Washington.

NORTHERN PACIFIC OPERATES NEW LINE.

Golden Valley, N. D., Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The thirty-four miles of railway extension from this point to Kildeer, in Dunn county, has been officially taken over by the operating department of the Northern Pacific. The Northern Pacific built three years ago from Mandan to Stanton. Last year an extension of twenty-seven miles was made to this point and this year the line was pushed on to Kildeer. Next season, it is claimed, work will begin from Kildeer toward Sidney, Mont. The road was constructed under another name until such time as it was completed before being turned over to the Northern Pacific.

HERALD ADS AND RESULTS ARE TWIN BROTHERS.

Haphazard Shopping

is a thing of the past. Nowadays when shoppers set forth they know exactly what they want, exactly what it will cost and exactly where they are going to buy it. In Duluth there is no means of securing this information so accurately as through the Herald.

¶When a merchant advertises in The Herald every evening he has attained the utmost in advertising efficiency. He has addressed all the buying public in the medium to which they all refer for their advertising news.

NO MATTER WHAT YOU WANT, it will save you time and money if you use HERALD WANTS.

Why Keep the Things You Do Not Need?

Things accumulate in every home. A great mass of articles you don't need—always in the way and never of any value to you. They take up storage room and are of no particular benefit to anybody about your household but may be of great use to some other household.

Through Herald Want Ads

you can tell thousands of folks each day about these articles—among this number there will no doubt be many who need the very thing that's in your way. The sale is made easily at very low cost.

ONE CENT A WORD A DAY

is the price of admission to The Herald want columns, which give you an audience with a vast number of people. Phone 324 and ask for the Want Ad clerk.
